4 MIGs Are Downed and 3 Damaged

Outnumbered Jets Hit Hard at Red Foe in Second Straight Day of Air Battles

'Celebration' Held

General's Inauguration Marked by Downing Seven Planes

Seoul, Jan. 22 (AP)—Outnumbered American Sabre pilots today blasted at least four Communist MIGs from North Korean skies in the second straight day of furious air battles, the U. S. Fifth Air Force reported.

Three MIGs were damaged in the clash between 10 Sabres and 20 Red warplanes. Additional claims of one MIG destroyed and three damaged are pending confirmation.

The Sabres destroyed seven MIGs and damaged three yesterday without the loss of a plane. Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Forces conmmander, sent a message of congratulations to his pilots, calling it "a most appropriate way to celebrate President Ike's inauguration."

Capt. Dolphin D. Overton, Andrews, S. C., downed his third MIG in two days. He shot down two and damaged one yesterday. A Sabre ace Capt. Cecil G. Foster of San Antonio, Tex., on his 95th combat mission, downed his seventh MIG.

Bombers Hit Supplies

While the jet battles raged near the Yalu river, allied fighter bombers swept north and hit Red supply facilities within 40 miles of the Manchurian border. Other fighter-bombers smashed at Communist targets along the length of the Korean front.

Ground action remained relatively light, the U. S. Eighth Army said. Some sharp fighting broke out on the rugged eastern front.

Ten B-29 Superforts early today dropped 100 tons of bombs on two Communist installations in North Korea. It was the 500th Korean combat mission for the Okinawa-based 30th bomb wing. The wing got into the Korean war right after it started. Its pilots have chalked up nearly 5,000 sorties in dropping 43,000 tons of bombs.

Rail Yard Hit

The Superforts hit a rail yard at Kowon and a supply and troop area near Tokchon. The air force gave no details.

Three other B-29s hit Communist positions at the front.

Weather along the battle front improved slightly with an early

Apple Industry Gains Are Cited in Report

Clarke Report Puts Emphasis Upon Readjustment Period

That the apple industry is making strides in the fields of promotion and marketing was stressed by officers of the New York State Horticultural Society in their reports read early this afternoon in the second day of the organization's eastern meeting at the state armory here.

James R. Clarke of Milton, retiring president, in a report on his year in office noted that the industry was "passing through a strenuous period of readjustment."

He told growers from all over the state that "we are streamlining our business and making important progress in newly developing fields such as marketing and promotion. With the interest, enthusiasm and help of the entire membership of this society, the hard core of confirmed and dedicated fruit growers of the state, the New York State Horticultural Society will wind up its first century stronger and more useful than at any time in its history."

One of Most Influential

Clarke said that the society, dating back nearly 100 years to the days before specialized, scientific agriculture, grew from a small group with regional interests and restricted viewpoint to be "one of the most influential and respected commercial horticultural organizations in the United States."

Clarke served as president since the society's 1952 annual meeting. The incumbent president, who took office last week, is John A. Goodrich of Burt, Niagara county.

Red Chinese Says B-29 Shot Down as Violation Penalty

Air Force Declares Plane Was Not Across Line —Chou Says 11 Captured

Tokyo, Jan. 22 (AP)—Red China's No. 2 boss charged today that a U. S. B-29 superfort violated Manchurian skies Jan. 12 and was shot down by Communist night fighters.

U. S. Far East air forces confirmed the loss of the bomber, but asserted it was 12 to 15 miles inside North Korea—well below the Yalu river boundary of Manchuria—when crippled.

"The B-29 transmitted a 'mayday' distress signal and it is assumed it was shot down at that point," said an official FEAF announcement.

The Reds alleged the B-29 was shot down nine miles northwest of Antung, big Communist air base across the Yalu from northwestern Korea.

Peiping radio broadcast the charge, and an angry protest, by Red China's premier and foreign minister, Chou En-lai. It quoted him as saying 11 crewmen, including a colonel and a major, were captured and that three other crewmen "died after parachuting."

Second to Mao

Chou is second only to Mao Tze-tung in the Chinese Communist regime. Broadcasting his protest—which came on the heels of an earlier propaganda charge—underlined the importance the Reds attached to the accusation.

"The Chinese people are furious over this violation of our skies," Chou was quoted. "The American government . . . has planned dangerous preparations to enlarge the war in the last two months.

"The Central People's government of the Chinese people's republic recognizes that the (plans) being adopted by the American

To Check Wooden Leg For Scot's Treasure

Sydney, Australia, Jan. 22 (AP)—The public trustee's office today ordered exhumation of Scotsman Donald McDonald's body to determine if a small fortune is cached in his wooden leg.

Relatives in Scotland believe the 56-year-old seaman hid his life's savings there and they requested that the body be exhumed. But Undertaker Bruce Maurer, who supervised the burial in April, 1951, said he didn't know whether the leg was buried with McDonald—chances are it never was taken away from the city morgue."

The body of McDonald, who was thought here to have been penniless, will probably be dug up in a northern suburb cemetery next week.

Benson May Regroup 25 Farm Units

Secretary of Agriculture Seeks to Obtain More Efficiency in Bureaus by Shift

Dulles Sends Note

Secretary of State Says He'll Take Nothing but Loyalty

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP) — President Eisenhower's cabinet officers took over their commands today and one promptly shook up his department—Agriculture.

Others were expected to make changes later on.

Secretary Benson, moving with surprising speed on his first working day, ordered the regrouping of some 25 Agriculture Department agencies. He called it the first step toward "a gradual streamlining."

And, in a memorandum to department employes, Benson said he would expect "a full day's work for a full day's pay."

Action Is Indicated

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower's cabinet today plunged into its first working day amid reports that some officials already had departmental shake-ups in mind.

Secretary Benson, for one, was reported working on an order to regroup some 25 agencies of the Agriculture Department with the aim of greater efficiency.

Secretary of State Dulles had a staff conference and was understood to have made one or two operating decisions. They were not disclosed.

Dulles made public, however, a letter to the 16,500 American State Department employes telling them he will tolerate nothing less than "positive loyalty" to the nation's policies.

"The national welfare must be given priority over individual concerns," he said.

President Is Earliest

By and large, the pattern for the eight cabinet officers sworn in late yesterday was up-and-on-the-job early. However, none got to his desk quite so early as President Eisenhower himself.

Eisenhower was in his office at 8:50 a. m. This was 50 minutes later than the hour he clocked in yesterday, but he had a special reason for lingering in the White House living quarters. His son, Maj. John Eisenhower, was leav-

New York University Dean Opens Conference at New Washington School

ERNEST O. MELBY

The "overwhelmingly important issue" before mankind today is the "problem of saving the free world," Dean Ernest O. Melby of the New York University School of Education told the mid-year conference of Kingston public school teachers in a keynote address this morning.

Speaking before several hundred teachers in the handsome auditorium of the new George Washington School, Dean Melby stated that "all else is dwarfed by comparison. Nothing else has any meaning, if the free world goes down."

The forces of dark and light are locked in the most titanic struggle in history, he said. "We must be strong militarily and economically but it is moral and spiritual strength that will be the decisive factor. You can never kill the Communist idea with a gun.

"We are never going to win this struggle without a great idea. We must teach with conviction and persuasion." He said he wanted teachers with great convictions, dedicated to freedom.

"We ought to dedicate every facet of our lives to it."

Mystery of Missing Family Deepens; Gone Five Weeks

Christmas Tree Still Glistens in House at Cherry Valley—Sheriff Says Search for Four Persons Has Proved Futile

Cherry Valley, Jan 22 (AP)—A man who identified himself as Jesse E. Smith telephoned the sheriff's office today and apparently cleared up the mystery of the disappearance of the Smith family.

Jesse Smith, a hay dealer, left with his wife and two children five weeks ago, ostensibly to shop for Christmas gifts in the Bronx. They left behind a gaily decorated Christmas tree and a new television set among other furniture in their farmhouse. Holiday cards and letters accumulated in their mail box.

Undersheriff Frederick Trumbull said the man who telephoned would not give his present address but referred him to a New York city lawyer for verification. He said his lawyer was Edward J. Kaufman, phone Luxemburg 2-1690.

(In New York city, Kaufman's office said he was out and could not be reached until mid-afternoon).

The man said he had obtained a job in New York city because debts had piled up here and his wife was pregnant.

"I haven't got the money for these bills," he told the undersheriff.

Asked why he had notified no one in this Otsego county community, he said "I didn't think anyone would care" and did not want to "bother anyone."

His bills, he said, were for electricity and life insurance.

Freeman's Oldest Employe Is Victim Of Heart Attack

Found Dead in Bed This Morning at Kuriger Home Where He Was Guest

ARTHUR J. CARROLL

Arthur J. Carroll, 62, of 116 O'Neil street, an employe of The Freeman Publishing Company for 49 years, died in his sleep at the home of a friend last night.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly said death was caused by coronary occlusion after consulting with Dr. L. E. Sanford of Port Ewen, who examined the body.

A boxing fan, Mr. Carroll watched Wednesday's television show at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Kuriger of Port Ewen and remained with them as an overnight guest.

When they called him for breakfast this morning, he was dead.

Was in Jovial Mood

Kuriger, a pressman at The Freeman, said his fellow employe was in good spirits before retiring about 11 o'clock, and did not complain of feeling ill.

"He was his usual jovial self," Kuriger said, "and we laughed over funny stories that he told."

Members of his family and close friends remarked, however, that last Saturday he complained about pains in his chest and right arm but that he insisted on working.

Carroll was witty and knew a lot of stories that gave his fellow workers many a laugh. His dry way of telling them seemed to make the yarns twice as humorous.

Tobey Says Train Crash Has Look of Sabotage With Brakes

Senator Reports FBI Is Investigating—Had Trouble in Rhode Island

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP) — Sen. Tobey (R-N.H.) said today the case of the runaway train which crashed into Union Station here "begins to look like sabotage."

Tobey heads a Senate Commerce Committee investigating the wreck, which injured more than 50 persons a week ago today.

The committee yesterday heard two Pennsylvania Railroad employes testify someone may have tampered with the brakes—possibly twice — before the crack Boston - to - Washington train plunged through a wall and into the station concourse. But the train's engineer, H. W. Brower, said he would guess the cause was an obstruction in the brake air line.

FBI Investigates

Tobey announced the FBI is investigating the possibility of sabotage. He told a reporter its report would not be ready in time for today's hearing.

He did not say upon what evidence he based a personal belief that sabotage was involved.

Testimony yesterday showed that the train had developed brake trouble at Kingston, R. I. It was reported there but not reported to the new crew which took over the train at New York

Flu-Like Spread Hits Big Section

Bulk of Cases Reported in Central States; Is Mild in Effect

(By The Associated Press)

Flu—or what feels like flu—has spread into more than half the 48 states, but the outbreaks so far generally have been mild.

The army, a state university, a steel company and some local officials have taken steps to combat the infections with influenza vaccine.

A nationwide survey by The Associated Press showed that the bulk of the cases are in the central part of the nation and that Texas, Tennessee and Arkansas have been particularly hard hit.

Texas reported from 200,000 to 250,000 flu cases. Arkansas had the greatest number of cases of upper respiratory infections in its history. The disease was reaching epidemic stage in Tennessee.

East, West Are Free

The eastern and western states were comparatively free of outbreaks, although Florida reported some schools closed to prevent the further spread of an influenza-like disease.

The army is giving flu vaccine to the troops in Korea, Europe and at ports of embarkation for those countries. An outbreak of

HST, Home, Says Margaret Only One in Family With Job

Independence, Mo., Jan. 22 (AP)—Harry S. Truman welcomed home in roaring receptions that moved him to the verge of tears, began looking for work today lest idleness lead him into "devilment."

After nearly eight turbulent years and unprecedented responsibilities at a time of world crisis, he suddenly found himself with nothing to do but unpack and find a job.

Harry Truman, ex-president of the United States, is a restless man who has been working 17 hours a day at the White House in Washington, and he's already worrying how long he can "take it easy."

"It's not hard work that gets a man into trouble," he told reporters, "it's the lack of it. When a fellow has nothing to do he gets into devilment."

Offers of high paying jobs continued to pour in from all parts of the country, but he withheld any acceptances until he can find something to his liking and suitable to his talents.

He already has rented a private office in the Federal Reserve Bank building in nearby Kansas City and put Miss Rose Conway, his personal stenographer, to work on his mail.

The ex-President and Mrs. Truman, happy to be home again, stepped from the presidential private car last night to find a crowd estimated at 10,000 gathered around the little depot to give them an emotional greeting.

Truman choked up as he gazed at the assembled thousands, some of whom had been there for hours waiting for the train that was 45 minutes late.

Mailler Would End Control Of Rents in Upstate Areas

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 22 (AP)—A legislative fight over rent controls appeared to be shaping up today as the Assembly's Republican majority leader came out for abolition of residential curbs outside New York city.

Lee B. Mailler of Orange county told newsmen in a radio interview (WOKO) last night that he believed housing conditions had improved to a point where "we could eliminate rent control north of the city line."

Democratic opposition to such a move appeared certain.

In other developments:

1. The Democratic minority leaders renewed their cry for restoration of the full 5 per cent tax on the pari-mutuel handle at race tracks in New York city and Nassau county.

2. A Bronx Democrat proposed that New York city be permitted to operate lotteries to raise money for city hospitals and welfare assistance.

Mailler made it clear that in backing upstate abolition of rent control he was not speaking for Gov. Dewey's administration or the Temporary State Rent Commission.

He said that if upstate controls were ended he would favor a proviso to empower localities with housing shortages to continue controls.

Sen. John H. Cooke, Alden Republican, has announced he will introduce a bill to end all rent controls in the state outside New York city.

Cooke said many upstate Republican legislators had told him they would support his proposal.

Kingston Contractor Asks $10,840 for Florence Extension

James Berardi, local contractor, was low bidder yesterday at $10,840 for the building of Florence street extension.

Second highest bidder for the project, which is to be done at a cost of 75 per cent to the taxpayers bordering the improved area and 25 per cent to the city, was Ben Lombardi, of Highland, who bid $10,885.

Other bids opened at a Board of Public Works meeting in the mayor's office were: V. J. Costanzi, Kingston, $11,525; William Van Kleeck (estate), New Paltz, $13,725, and Joseph Gruner, Highland, $15,780.

Tobey Says Train Crash Has Look of Sabotage With Brakes

Senator Reports FBI Is Investigating—Had Trouble in Rhode Island

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP) — Sen. Tobey (R-N.H.) said today the case of the runaway train which crashed into Union Station here "begins to look like sabotage."

Tobey heads a Senate Commerce Committee investigating the wreck, which injured more than 50 persons a week ago today.

The committee yesterday heard two Pennsylvania Railroad employes testify someone may have tampered with the brakes—possibly twice — before the crack Boston - to - Washington train plunged through a wall and into the station concourse. But the train's engineer, H. W. Brower, said he would guess the cause was an obstruction in the brake air line.

FBI Investigates

Tobey announced the FBI is investigating the possibility of sabotage. He told a reporter its report would not be ready in time for today's hearing.

He did not say upon what evidence he based a personal belief that sabotage was involved.

Testimony yesterday showed that the train had developed brake trouble at Kingston, R. I. It was reported there but not reported to the new crew which took over the train at New York

Flu-Like Spread Hits Big Section

Bulk of Cases Reported in Central States; Is Mild in Effect

(By The Associated Press)

Flu—or what feels like flu—has spread into more than half the 48 states, but the outbreaks so far generally have been mild.

The army, a state university, a steel company and some local officials have taken steps to combat the infections with influenza vaccine.

A nationwide survey by The Associated Press showed that the bulk of the cases are in the central part of the nation and that Texas, Tennessee and Arkansas have been particularly hard hit.

Texas reported from 200,000 to 250,000 flu cases. Arkansas had the greatest number of cases of upper respiratory infections in its history. The disease was reaching epidemic stage in Tennessee.

East, West Are Free

The eastern and western states were comparatively free of outbreaks, although Florida reported some schools closed to prevent the further spread of an influenza-like disease.

The army is giving flu vaccine to the troops in Korea, Europe and at ports of embarkation for those countries. An outbreak of

Davis Not Named, But Commended

The resolution concerning consolidation of civil defense for the city and county, read at the recent Common Council meeting, commended Sherwood Davis and his staff for efficient and successful operation of the local CD council, but did not refer to him as being appointed to the post of county director.

The resolution referred to savings that could be affected without hampering CD operations.

HST, Home, Says Margaret Only One in Family With Job

Independence, Mo., Jan. 22 (AP)—Harry S. Truman welcomed home in roaring receptions that moved him to the verge of tears, began looking for work today lest idleness lead him into "devilment."

After nearly eight turbulent years and unprecedented responsibilities at a time of world crisis, he suddenly found himself with nothing to do but unpack and find a job.

Harry Truman, ex-president of the United States, is a restless man who has been working 17 hours a day at the White House in Washington, and he's already worrying how long he can "take it easy."

"It's not hard work that gets a man into trouble," he told reporters, "it's the lack of it. When a fellow has nothing to do he gets into devilment."

Offers of high paying jobs continued to pour in from all parts of the country, but he withheld any acceptances until he can find something to his liking and suitable to his talents.

He already has rented a private office in the Federal Reserve Bank building in nearby Kansas City and put Miss Rose Conway, his personal stenographer, to work on his mail.

The ex-President and Mrs. Truman, happy to be home again, stepped from the presidential private car last night to find a crowd estimated at 10,000 gathered around the little depot to give them an emotional greeting.

Truman choked up as he gazed at the assembled thousands, some of whom had been there for hours waiting for the train that was 45 minutes late.

Mailler Would End Control Of Rents in Upstate Areas

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 22 (AP)—A legislative fight over rent controls appeared to be shaping up today as the Assembly's Republican majority leader came out for abolition of residential curbs outside New York city.

Lee B. Mailler of Orange county told newsmen in a radio interview (WOKO) last night that he believed housing conditions had improved to a point where "we could eliminate rent control north of the city line."

Democratic opposition to such a move appeared certain.

In other developments:

1. The Democratic minority leaders renewed their cry for restoration of the full 5 per cent tax on the pari-mutuel handle at race tracks in New York city and Nassau county.

2. A Bronx Democrat proposed that New York city be permitted to operate lotteries to raise money for city hospitals and welfare assistance.

Mailler made it clear that in backing upstate abolition of rent control he was not speaking for Gov. Dewey's administration or the Temporary State Rent Commission.

He said that if upstate controls were ended he would favor a proviso to empower localities with housing shortages to continue controls.

Sen. John H. Cooke, Alden Republican, has announced he will introduce a bill to end all rent controls in the state outside New York city.

Cooke said many upstate Republican legislators had told him they would support his proposal.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Speed Is Needed At Bridge Tourney

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

My friend, Sam Stayman, is coming all the way from New York to play with me this week-end in a tournament in Dallas. I prefer to believe that it is a sheer coincidence that he has some important business to transact in Dallas this week-end.

Most bridge players make some plays* quickly and other plays slowly, depending on how long it takes them to think and plan the move. Stayman makes every play with exactly the same speed so that it is very difficult to guess his reason for a move.

In the hand shown today, Stayman found himself in a reasonable enough contract of six hearts. The contract depended, at worst, on a successful finesse for the king of diamonds. Many players would think of no other chance for the slam, but Sam never neglects a resource, no matter how unlikely it may seem.

After winning the first trick with the king of clubs, Stayman drew two rounds of trumps and then led the ten of spades from his hand. West had to decide in a split second whether or not to play his ace.

If West had been able to take his time over this problem, he might have seen that the correct play is to put up the ace of spades at once. But a defender must make this kind of decision without seeming to think about it. The slightest thought automatically shows the location of the ace.

As it happened, West made the wrong decision, playing a low spade. This was the chance that Stayman had been hoping for. He put up dummy's king of spades, winning the trick. Now, with no losing trick in spades, declarer could afford to lose the diamond finesse and still make his slam contract.

Your Income Tax

By FRANCIS J. KELLY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Washington — It may pay you to itemize your non-business deductions on your federal income tax return, instead of taking the standard 10 per cent allowance based on your income.

A comparison of the tax computed under each system certainly is in order if you paid out a lot of interest on a home mortgage, or incurred heavy medical or hospital bills.

The government neither wants nor expects you to pay more than the minimum tax due, honestly figured.

You can itemize deductions only if you use long-form 1040. Otherwise you are automatically given a credit of about 10 per cent of your income.

The principal allowable deductions are state and local taxes; interest paid; contributions to religious, charitable and educational organizations; property losses by fire, storm or theft; and —under strict limitations—some medical, dental, hospital and nursing expenses.

Limits on Contributions

Contributions to religious, charitable and educational organizations are deductible only up to 20 per cent of your income. You don't get anything off your tax bill for gifts to needy individuals, or to political organizations, or labor unions, or chambers of commerce.

You can deduct for real estate and personal property taxes, state income taxes, state or local sales taxes, state gasoline taxes, and automobile license fees.

But you can't take anything off for federal income taxes paid, social security taxes, federal excise taxes such as those on liquor, furs, jewelry and phone calls, or for local taxes which tend to increase the value of real estate owned. A paving assessment is a case in point.

The law sets tight limits on the amount of medical expenses for self and dependents that may be deducted. First, taxpayers under 65 can take off only that portion of such costs which exceeds 5 per cent of their adjusted gross income. However, if either you or your wife is 65 or over, you may claim the entire amount of medical expenses for both of you, plus that portion of your medical expenses for your dependents which exceeds 5 per cent of your income.

Medical Expense Limits

There are maximum limitations on medical expense deductions, too. A single person who claims only one exemption is entitled to put in for not more than $1,250; a married couple filing a joint return, $2,500; married, three exemptions, $3,750; and married with four or more exemptions, an overall top of $5,000. Those limits apply regardless of age.

Allowable medical expenses include doctor, dentist, hospital and nursing bills; drugs and surgical appliances; false teeth and eyeglasses; X-ray examinations or treatments; crutches, hearing aids and ambulance service; premiums on health, accident, medical or hospital insurance and cost of travel necessary to get medical care.

However, you cannot deduct the cost of travel suggested by a doctor for rest or change, or funeral expenses, or life insurance premiums.

If you itemize your deductions on long-form 1040, you can take off your income any property losses by fire, storm, flood, etc. Loss sustained in a car accident caused by faulty driving is deductible, but drunken driving is considered willful negligence, and no deduction is allowed.

Insurance Modifies Loss

No deduction may be claimed if the loss is compensated for by insurance. If partially covered by insurance, the amount of the deduction is reduced accordingly.

The law requires you to report as income any winnings you may have on the races, poker and other forms of gambling. But gambling losses may not be deducted in excess of gambling winnings.

Alimony or separate maintenance payments made under a court decree may be deducted. So may union dues, (as distinguished from gifts to unions) and amounts spent entertaining customers. Despite protests of many working mothers, the wages paid a nursemaid are not deductible, even though her presence in the home enables the parent to work.

If you keep securities in a safe deposit box, you can deduct the rental cost. You can't, however, if it is used only for jewelry, insurance policies and mementoes.

New Life for Old Cloth

If your prized rayon damask cloth has lost its luster, is scorched or worn in many places . . . don't throw it away! Cut table mats from the still-good portions and give them new life by dyeing each mat a different color.

Reds Scare Visitors Away

Bangkok, Thailand (AP)—Chinese Communist authorities treated Thailand Chinese visiting their mother country so badly that no more Chinese want to go home. Two steamship lines running between Bangkok and Swatow have suspended operations owing to a lack of travelers, resulting from this bad treatment. As soon as their ships, loaded with Thailand Chinese, arrived at Swatow, the officials said, passengers were herded into a "guest camp." They were kept there several days during which time Communist investigators questioned them about Thailand and their families. Sometimes Red officials woke them up from sleep to continue interrogation.

'Nurses' Resent Term

Alor Star, Kedah State, Malaya (AP)—Male nurses may be all right for European countries but male hospital assistants in Malaya have protested against the designation and threatened to boycott the profession. "This is most humiliating and will lower the dignity of hospital assistants," says P. N. Pillay, president of the Kedah Non-Government Medical and Health Assistants Association. "The term 'nurse' is commonly applied to women and to call hospital assistants male nurses would be most inappropriate."

Dr. Bibby Outlines Work of Cerebral Palsy Association

Dr. Henry L. Bibby speaking before the Rotary Club Wednesday said there are some 500,000 cases of cerebral palsy in the United States and over 8,000 in New York state. Only ten in one hundred now are being treated throughout the country and there are some 10,000 cases born each year, he stated.

It is an astounding fact, he asserted that in our medical history, in the recent past, there was no organized effort made specifically to help this heretofore neglected problem. This vast number of cerebral palsied have been spoken of as "the forgotten half million" among our handicapped children, while the other group of crippled non-cerebral palsied were under the care of orthopedic departments of local and state boards of health and therefore not without considerable adequate supervision and treatment.

In discussing the local organization, Dr. Bibby spoke in part as follows:

It was on this basis and because of a nation-wide demand by parents of cerebral palsied children that the New York State Cerebral Palsy organization and shortly thereafter the national organization was formed and now is known as United Cerebral Palsy.

On this basis about three years ago a Cerebral Palsy Association of Ulster county was formed and a year ago opened a facility here in Kingston dedicated to this problem, under the sponsorship and with the help of the State and National Cerebral Palsy Associations.

Prior to this time no other private organization made any effort to solve this particular problem for our children in Ulster county, in spite of the fact that money had been solicited and funds raised for handicapped and crippled children in this community.

In our center there are 31 cerebral palsy children under treatment. Besides which we are treating 19 non-cerebral palsied for speech and hearing, several post-polio cases, one muscular distrophy, two blind cases and one deaf child.

While we are adding new cases at each screening we do not believe that 31 represents the total number of children with this condition in our county. It is hoped with the new law requiring reporting of cerebral palsied that others will be referred for treatment.

Records of our county health department discloses 275 cases of non-cerebral palsied handicapped. These disabilities include club feet, cleft palate, spinal curvature, burns requiring plastic surgery, dental malformation and permanent results from accidents but they are all under supervision and treatment by our county orthopedic department. There also is an arrangement with the Polio Foundation to give physiotherapy to any of their cases they may designate.

The Local Centers

I would like to clarify another point regarding our center. The question sometimes is raised why a charge must be made for this treatment. The answer is a simple one. The maintenance of such a facility is costly. The $10,000 which so generously was contributed in our May campaign last year, is only barely enough to pay the salaries of our two therapists, executive secretary and two consultants. For those children whose parents are unable to pay, treatment is given without charge, or if proper arrangements can be made we receive aid for the rehabilitation funds of the state and our own Board of Supervisors under the same arrangement as provided for the orthopedic cases. The cost of treatment for these cases would otherwise be prohibitive and in most communities, as in ours, unobtainable.

We are fortunate in the beginning to have a small backlog from two previous campaigns. We were granted magnificent quarters on the second floor of the Tumor Clinic Building and are deeply grateful to the Board of Supervisors which made this space available, also for the very generous cash donations of one service club and the furnishing of practically the entire equipment from another without which we would be deeply in the red. We are fortunate in having Dr. Saul Ritchie as medical director, without salary.

We feel that a very auspicious beginning has been made, but in planning for the future of this service there are important problems to be met.

This service is not complete without an occupational therapist.

Our greatest need and most difficult problem is transportation. Without our own means of transportation for these children they cannot receive as frequent treatments as they need for more rapid progress.

In addition there is the so far neglected service and planning for the adult cerebral palsied.

Very little conception of this work or the type of treatment given can be realized without seeing it in operation.

Everyone is welcome to visit the Center any day from Monday until Friday between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m. to see what this service is doing for these children of our county.

Ike's Secretary Forgets

Albany, N. Y. (AP)—Firemen summoned to the former home of James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary, discovered no blaze but an overheated water heater which had apparently been left burning when the family moved out. The trouble was discovered when moving men arrived to move the furniture to their new home.

Civilization Cradle

Vancouver, Canada (AP) — British Columbia may have had Aztec and Mayan civilization before Mexico. Anthropologists investigating discoveries of stone carvings say there is a possibility that the civilizations that have astounded antiquarians since the Spanish conquest of Mexico might have had their start here. It appears certain, they say, that a race of considerable artistic skill inhabited this country before the ancestors of the present-day Indians. Discoveries of the stone-work, remarkably similar to Aztec and Mayan carvings, have been made in the Fraser river valley and on Vancouver Island.

'Nurses' Resent Term

Alor Star, Kedah State, Malaya (AP)—Male nurses may be all right for European countries but male hospital assistants in Malaya have protested against the designation and threatened to boycott the profession. "This is most humiliating and will lower the dignity of hospital assistants," says P. N. Pillay, president of the Kedah Non-Government Medical and Health Assistants Association. "The term 'nurse' is commonly applied to women and to call hospital assistants male nurses would be most inappropriate."

Dr. Bibby Outlines Work of Cerebral Palsy Association

Dr. Henry L. Bibby speaking before the Rotary Club Wednesday said there are some 500,000 cases of cerebral palsy in the United States and over 8,000 in New York state. Only ten in one hundred now are being treated throughout the country and there are some 10,000 cases born each year, he stated.

It is an astounding fact, he asserted that in our medical history, in the recent past, there was no organized effort made specifically to help this heretofore neglected problem. This vast number of cerebral palsied have been spoken of as "the forgotten half million" among our handicapped children, while the other group of crippled non-cerebral palsied were under the care of orthopedic departments of local and state boards of health and therefore not without considerable adequate supervision and treatment.

In discussing the local organization, Dr. Bibby spoke in part as follows:

It was on this basis and because of a nation-wide demand by parents of cerebral palsied children that the New York State Cerebral Palsy organization and shortly thereafter the national organization was formed and now is known as United Cerebral Palsy.

On this basis about three years ago a Cerebral Palsy Association of Ulster county was formed and a year ago opened a facility here in Kingston dedicated to this problem, under the sponsorship and with the help of the State and National Cerebral Palsy Associations.

Prior to this time no other private organization made any effort to solve this particular problem for our children in Ulster county, in spite of the fact that money had been solicited and funds raised for handicapped and crippled children in this community.

In our center there are 31 cerebral palsy children under treatment. Besides which we are treating 19 non-cerebral palsied for speech and hearing, several post-polio cases, one muscular distrophy, two blind cases and one deaf child.

While we are adding new cases at each screening we do not believe that 31 represents the total number of children with this condition in our county. It is hoped with the new law requiring reporting of cerebral palsied that others will be referred for treatment.

Records of our county health department discloses 275 cases of non-cerebral palsied handicapped. These disabilities include club feet, cleft palate, spinal curvature, burns requiring plastic surgery, dental malformation and permanent results from accidents but they are all under supervision and treatment by our county orthopedic department. There also is an arrangement with the Polio Foundation to give physiotherapy to any of their cases they may designate.

The Local Centers

I would like to clarify another point regarding our center. The question sometimes is raised why a charge must be made for this treatment. The answer is a simple one. The maintenance of such a facility is costly. The $10,000 which so generously was contributed in our May campaign last year, is only barely enough to pay the salaries of our two therapists, executive secretary and two consultants. For those children whose parents are unable to pay, treatment is given without charge, or if proper arrangements can be made we receive aid for the rehabilitation funds of the state and our own Board of Supervisors under the same arrangement as provided for the orthopedic cases. The cost of treatment for these cases would otherwise be prohibitive and in most communities, as in ours, unobtainable.

CONFLICTS WITH CONGRESS

When a new President is taking office, it helps to put the slant of history upon the early events of his tenure.

Usually a White House newcomer enjoys a "honeymoon" of harmonious relations with Congress, a period of grace while he settles into his arduous job. Franklin D. Roosevelt had his "Hundred Days" in 1933. Harry S. Truman experienced similar immunity in the interval between his sudden accession to power and the Japanese surrender in 1945.

But, in the almost certain event that General Eisenhower, too, has his honeymoon, it would be foolish to imagine that it will last for more than a few months at best. It never has, and the reason is that there are powerful factors working against it, working for conflict between the President and Congress.

A lot of people are saying these days that this conflict is not inevitable, that Congress and the White House can get along fine if each will just stick to its knitting and if there is constant consultation between the two. Eisenhower, a man of tremendous talent for bringing people together, is pictured as just the fellow to introduce sweetness and light into this age-old relationship.

Without belittling for an instant the general's capacity for compromise, one may still suggest that conflict will not be avoided indefinitely.

The underlying reason is that no Chief Executive in this or any other day can stop at being a mere administrator, leaving to Congress the making of all law, and hence policy.

In the first place, left to its own devices, Congress does not produce a comprehensive, well-harmonized program of action. It tends to fall apart into factions, each pressing its own aims. What emerges is often lost in contradictions.

This happens to a Congress without White House leadership because lawmakers are not elected by the whole people but by the citizens of a district or state. If they are high-minded men they will think often of the national interest, but they ignore their state and district concerns at the risk of their political careers.

The President, on the other hand, is elected by the entire citizenry. And he is chosen as more than a referee among competing factions. He is truly the nation's leader, and he is so empowered by the Constitution, even though that document puts checks on him.

The Founding Fathers gave him authority to make treaties, to advise Congress on policy, and to veto legislation. Almost from the first, American Presidents have used that power positively and aggressively to promote programs of broad national interest—as they saw it. Endlessly, they have fought Congress in trying to win their goals.

Today, with the separate segments of American society more vocal and more powerful economically and politically than ever before, the demand for strong White House guidance is the greatest in history. Only the President can act as the focal point of all the swirling currents, and give them useful direction. Only the President can thread a fairly consistent course through the bewilderments of foreign affairs.

Those who imagine that strong presidential action is some kind of democratic occupational disease from which Congress and the nation will now be freed, plainly are due for an awakening. The President who uses his power to the hilt is apparently here to stay. And so are the conflicts with Congress which logically follow.

A little girl in Knoxville, Tennessee, received a small-sized, adjustable suit of armor for Christmas. With some youngsters we know that would have made an ideal gift for their parents and teachers.

President Eisenhower selected a Homburg rather than a high silk hat for his inauguration headgear. His problem was different from that of many politicians who, undisciplined by the height of their hats, have trouble with the size once they are successful.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEES

It would appear that nearly every member of Congress and his administrative assistant wants to be involved, in a major way, in the investigation of Communists. It used to be that nobody wanted to serve on such committees and that reputations were destroyed by membership on them.

The political success of Senator Joe McCarthy and the growth in reputation of Senator Pat McCarran and Senator Homer Ferguson have stimulated a desire of other Senators and Representatives to get themselves into activities which are not only useful but are paying off politically. I heard that about 180 Representatives want to be on the House Committee on Un-American Activities!

Actually, investigation of the subversives is a difficult and technical task. Few are good at it. The first efforts under Representative Martin Dies were fumbling. Robert Stripling and Dr. J. B. Matthews had to learn how to question Communists and how to conduct such a committee. Since the days of Martin Dies, the techniques of such investigations have advanced considerably, so that in the Internal Security Committee, headed by Senator Pat McCarran, with J. G. Sourwine and Robert Morris as counsel, no mistakes were made. This committee came close to a grand jury proceedings.

The primary difficulty that faces most Congressional committees is that their members and counsel know nothing about Marxism, Communism, or the nature of the world-wide conspiracy. Most of them do not know what the witnesses are talking about and they do not know what questions to ask. I have interviewed a number of witnesses before some of these committees and have found that they answered incorrectly and even perjured themselves because the questions were asked incorrectly and the witness was given no opportunity to rephrase the questions or answers. The Tydings Committee, whose counsel was Edward Morgan, will forever stand as a classical example of bad questioning.

Joe McCarthy has done an exceptionally competent job in unearthing the Communists in the State Department, the Institute of Pacific Relations and the United Nations. It must be remembered that Senator McCarthy was on no committee that could investigate these charges. It was only when the McCarran Committee undertook to investigate these matters that McCarthy's charges began to stand up. He had said that his entire case would stand or collapse on Lattimore.

Today, Owen Lattimore stands indicted by a federal grand jury in Washington on a perjury charge growing out of his testimony before the Internal Security Committee.

At present, it would seem that there are likely to be too many committees dealing with the same material. There is the House Committee on Un-American Activities, which continues in this field under the chairmanship of Harold Velde, an experienced investigator. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee under Senator Alexander Wiley wants to investigate the relations of Marxism to our foreign policy. The committee has an exceptionally well-informed counsel, Julius Cahn. The Internal Security Committee is a subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee. Its chairman may be Senator William Jenner. Its present counsel is Robert Morris, one of the ablest men in this field of investigation. Finally, there is the Committee on Expenditures in Executive Departments, the principal investigating committee of the Congress, of which Senator McCarthy is chairman. Its counsel is Roy Cohn, who in the Department of Justice proved himself to be one of the most competent investigators of Communist activity in the United States. A combination of Morris and Cohn cannot be beaten.

The greatest loss to the country, from this standpoint, is that the Republican victory eliminated Senator Pat McCarran from the chairmanship of the Internal Security Committee where he is most needed to care for unfinished business. Also the knowledge and capacity of Senator Homer Ferguson ought not to be lost in the reshuffling of committees.

What is most needed is a high policy decision limiting the number of committees engaged in this activity and allocating their fields of work. There should be no competitive investigating as that would help the subversives who could find a favorable committee to which to present their cases, as was done in the instance of the Tydings Committee.

Further, it would be politically stupid for any Republicans to gang up on Senator Joe McCarthy either by competitive investigations or by withholding funds. That might produce the assumption that no investigation is really wanted.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

HOW TO LIVE WITH HEART TROUBLE

It is known to the great majority of men and women that heart disease is the greatest single cause of death; it is not surprising, therefore, that any slight pain or disturbance in the region of the heart should cause anxiety in the individual and to his family. Heart disease is or is not present; a physical examination will tell the story.

Now, when an attack of coronary thrombosis occurs and the doctor orders the patient to bed, he may think that the end of life is at hand, or at least, that he will be a chronic invalid and will not be able to resume his regular occupation.

The truth of the matter is that recorded in the pamphlet "How to Live With Your Heart Trouble" written by Alton L. Blakeslee for the American Heart Association, Inc. "Most people recover from their heart attacks and live happily with their hearts." The heart can be damaged like any other part or organ of the body and will likewise recover completely in the majority of cases. Most people with heart conditions go back to work and 80 to 85 per cent of them can return to their same jobs.

Once the patient is learning how to live with a damaged heart, it is up to the family to give him all the help possible; not by being overconsiderate or oversympathetic but by using common sense and following the instructions of the physician. It is only natural for the family to be anxious, not only for the patient's own sake but because their whole livelihood and life's happiness may depend upon the patient's recovery. The pamphlet states that there are many things that the various members of the family can do to speed recovery or in helping him to adjust himself to new conditions. "Foremost, perhaps, is the family's responsibility to stand by the patient's side, to let him know that he is still loved and wanted and is very much a part of the family."

The family must keep in mind that a man or woman in good general health suddenly struck down in the midst of an active career, is very likely to fret and fume and be short tempered. "Fear, anxiety, and self-pity lead these patients to be ill-tempered, grouchy and self-centered. Men and women, who were easy-going, tolerant and understanding when well, may, for a time, become jumpy and irritable."

This pamphlet so helpful to heart patient and family may be obtained by sending 25 cents to Public Affairs Pamphlets, 22 East 38th street, New York 16, N. Y.

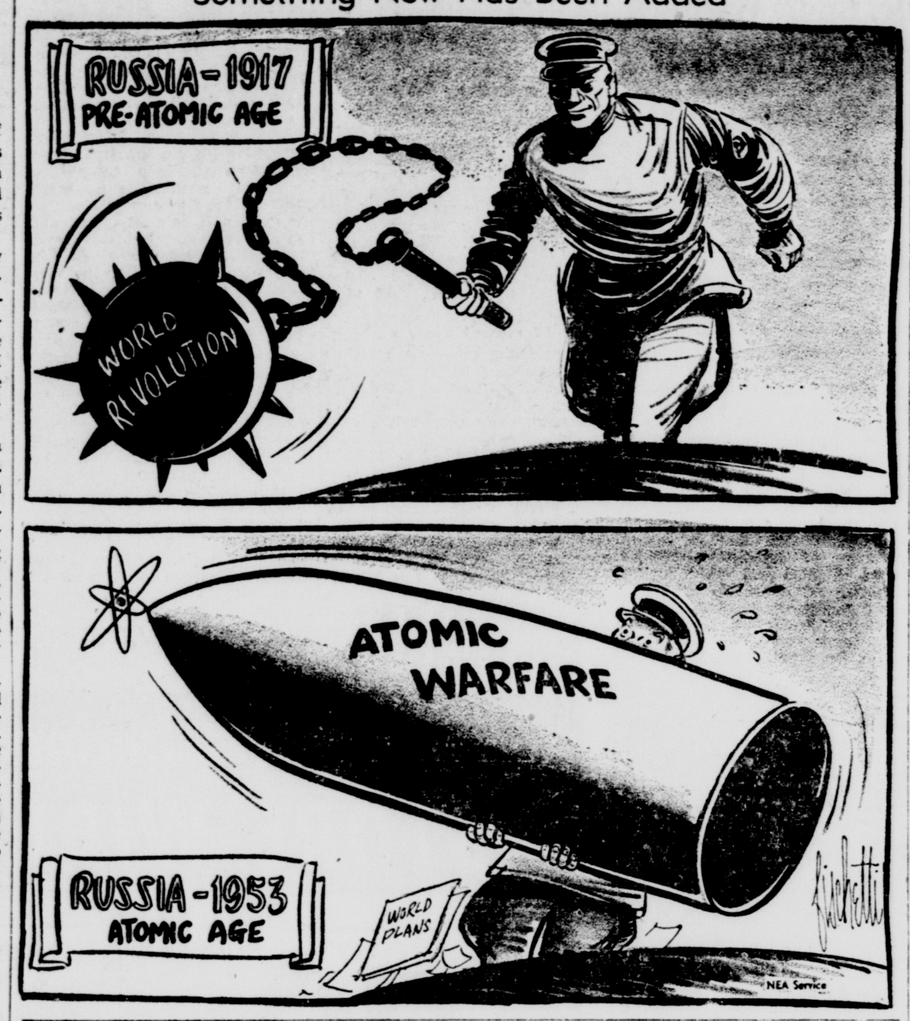
Something New Has Been Added



The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Here is how the policies and plans of the Eisenhower administration begin to look as it tackles one of the most momentous political change-overs in history.

Foreign Policy—It's becoming apparent that the new President is going to keep his hands closely on foreign policy, and that his new secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, will be kept busy abroad as a foreign-policy salesman. . . . Ike will operate the State Department through two trusted friends: General "Beetle" Smith, his old chief of staff in Europe, now undersecretary of state; and Douglas MacArthur II, counselor of the State Department. MacArthur is a nephew of General MacArthur but disagrees with him, and a son-in-law of Vice President Alben Barkley. As political adviser to Ike at SHAPE, the two became warm friends. . . . Dulles will make another trip to the Far East after this month's mission to Europe, will be absent from Washington frequently. . . . Eisenhower himself, however, may take a trip to Europe this spring—if necessary. This is a precedent-making prospect for a new President, but Ike is worried over the bogged-down condition of the proposed united European army, fears it may take extracurricular pressure to get France and Germany to sign. If Dulles can't manage it on his current trip, Eisenhower may make a special pilgrimage in March.

Is Dewey Next? — Patronage, the political fodder on which every party feeds, is still making the Taft wing of the GOP most unhappy. They aren't advertising it, but what they really fear is a little man now licking his chops in Albany. For some time they feared him as the prospective Republican candidate for President in 1956, and Ike's recent remark about Dewey's great future didn't make them any less fearful. . . . What really irks the Taftites is not the actual men appointed by Eisenhower, but the fact that Dewey's close friend, Herbert Brownell, is dishing out the jobs. . . . Real fact is that Brownell is picking good men, and screening them well. But few of them are Taft men. Meanwhile Dewey's turn-down of a chance to be Ike's secretary of state and his (ostensible) aloofness from Washington convinces Taftites that the little man in Albany is merely biding his time—with Ike's blessing—until 1956.

New Cabinet—The cabinet member who has made the best impression so far is new Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey. Unlike Charles E. Wilson, Humphrey has gone about his new job as if the nation was doing him a great honor. He has picked a good staff, admits he has a lot to learn, looks as if he would learn fast . . . New Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson also has made a favorable impression. He's been getting ribbed as to how much a Texas cattleman knows about battleships, but he's considered a good bet to best the admirals—who always try to wrap their civilian boss round their finger — and usually succeed . . . (Anderson, a Texas oilman, is going to be embarrassed by the fact that tidelands oil is now a naval reserve under him.)

Crime Busting — Attorney General Brownell, who's also making a good impression—except among the Taftites—has picked one of the top crime-busters of the nation, Warren Olney, to head his criminal division . . . Olney was head of the California Crime Commission, secretly came to Washington four years ago to urge the Treasury to prosecute big-shot California gamblers for tax evasion. However, Dan Bolich, then deputy tax collector, since indicted, stopped Olney's move dead in its tracks . . . Olney will be able to take over a red hot federal grand jury in Miami which has a dragnet out for 60 of the top gangsters in the U. S.

Secretary of Defense — What embarrasses Republicans re Charles E. Wilson's confirmation is the battle they themselves put up against Democrat Ed Pauley to be undersecretary of the navy and Carl Ilgenfritz as head of the munitions board. Pauley was vetoed because he is an oilman and would be in charge of naval oil reserves. Ilgenfritz was barred because as vice-president of U. S. Steel he would receive a salary of $70,000 . . . It was the Republicans who led the moves to bar them. Michigan's Senator Ferguson on May 14, 1951, speaking against Ilgenfritz made this statement which he would now like to forget: "What if this were the president of General Motors?"

Public Lands—After the tidelands oil row is over, a move will start to transfer all other public lands to about a dozen western states. . . . The move will come from Sen. Hugh Butler of Nebraska, who has the transfer legislation written and ready to roll. . . . Theory behind this is that if Texas, Louisiana and California are to get the public lands off their coastline, then the western states should get the public lands inside their borders. This means forest reserves, oil and mineral reserves. . . . This is likely to set off one of the biggest scrambles by oil companies, mining interests, and cattlemen since gold rush days. . . . It will also run into vigorous Senate opposition. . . . Senator Butler has already tipped his hand by permitting three wool, oil, and mining lobbyists inside his interior committee during the confidential hearings on Douglas McKay's confirmation as secretary of the interior. The public was barred, but the three lobbyists admitted. . . . When GOP Sen. Hiram Bingham of Connecticut did this in the Hoover administration he was reprimanded by a vote of the full Senate and defeated for re-election.

Senatorial Courtesy — Ikeites aren't happy about the roadblocks put in front of Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska by his fellow Republican, Senator Butler of Nebraska. . . . It isn't generally known, but Peterson was first considered as secretary of interior. However, when Sen. Fred Seaton of Nebraska sounded out his GOP colleague, Butler hit the ceiling. Peterson was also considered for undersecretary of agriculture. Again Butler objected. . . . Now he has even objected to Peterson's going to distant India as ambassador. . . . What worries Ikeites is that a Republican senator has set a precedent — even before Ike took office—by blocking an important appointment. The Democrats, it's feared, will now consider this a green light to do likewise.

Filibusters — Liberal senators who started the session with a drive against filibustering may reverse themselves—in part. They plan to stage some filibustering of their own—against tidelands oil and perhaps some Senate confirmations. . . . Their strategy is to show that the filibuster can work both ways. If they operate effectively enough, they may find Eisenhower leaders yelling "uncle" and leading a move to abolish filibusters themselves.

Votes for Eisenhower, Poll Shows, Were Prompted by Corruption in Government

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Jan. 22—A lesson in politics for the new administration is revealed in the latest Gallup Poll figures.

Interviewing cross sections of voters since the November election to find out what were the principal things that swayed them to cast their ballots for Eisenhower, the poll shows that "corruption" was given the greatest percentage not only among Republican voters but among Democrats and independents, too, who voted for Eisenhower.

The question itself was well phrased. It asked the voter to say, leaving aside the candidates themselves, just what issue or issues "had the most effect" in deciding him to vote for Eisenhower.

The next highest percentage point in all three groups was given to the Korean issue. "Communism" was a close third among voters generally and among regular Republicans, but was not quite so high among Democrats.

The fact that Korea was so definitely an issue will come as a surprise to many people, including Europeans and many Democratic officials here who never saw the matter in its true impact on the electorate.

The "corruption" issue has always been a decisive one in American politics, though the exposures and crusades do not in every case result in an immediate defeat for the party accused of wrongdoing simply because the case sometimes is not proved or made clear until a subsequent election.

Some readers have written in to question this correspondent's appraisal a few days ago in which he stated that across the Truman administration, just as across the Harding administration's record, will be written the word "scandal," despite the fact that each administration had a secretary of state who made a notable record in various phases of foreign policy.

What the Gallup survey indicates is that, much as the defenders of a particular party may dislike it, the voters as a whole do not relish "corruption" and usually vote it down in federal, state and city elections.

The significance for the Eisenhower administration is clear. Here is a regime which comes into power as the accuser—its own record, therefore, must be beyond criticism. There can be no ambiguities about or apologies for anything that remotely suggests a lack of ethical standards.

Thus, Charles E. Wilson is rightly indignant because of the suggestion that he might, if he held on to his General Motors stock, do something as secretary of defense that would compromise himself or the government. But the rules of politics demand that the occasion shall not even arise where there could be such a question. As it is, there are many friends of the Eisenhower administration who wonder why the matter was allowed to drift for two months without being given careful consideration, and a solution found much earlier.

The episode has caused more talk and more argument than would have been the case if the subject had been taken up earlier and opinions sought long before inauguration day. Particularly harmful—from a political viewpoint—is the tendency to drift while the public talks about lack of ethics in a new administration. The issue should have been disposed of promptly as soon as it arose and long before Mr. Wilson went to Congress to testify.

What it all indicates is that, while the Eisenhower administration has picked a lot of able men from business and from other walks of life, it has not yet brought into the executive staff men with the political knowledge and awareness which comes out of experience and familiarity with Washington ways and customs.

Business men as a whole cannot on this account be criticized, for there is no standardization among them. Some are public relations-minded and some are not. Some are keenly aware of political currents—and some are not. But there is no excuse for an administration taking power nowadays without having at its elbow a little group of political advisers. Congress is the place to get them. They are artful and resourceful—they are sensitive to all the conflicting currents. Yet it is understood that nobody from Capitol Hill was called in to discuss this very explosive political issue before Mr. Wilson went before the Senate Armed Services Committee for his informal session last week.

The lesson will not be lost on President Eisenhower. He profits by mistakes. It probably is a good thing the episode occurred now instead of later. As for solving the Wilson problem itself, whether by divesting the secretary of defense of authority over matters concerning his former business or by letting him divest himself of his stocks in General Motors, the whole thing will be cleared up satisfactorily within a few days and forgotten.

The warning, however, is there nevertheless to the entire Eisenhower group of new officials—they must all become members of the "clean as a hound's tooth" club, or the next congressional election will see the Republican party very much on the defensive.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Jan. 21 — Senator Pat McCarran and Congressman Francis E. Walter have been punished heavily for their fight to enact an immigration law which put the interests of the United States ahead of all other interests. The law was vetoed and passed over the veto by a Congress elected to legislate in the name of the American people. Thus, if McCarran and Walter have been guilty of bigotry and "racism," then the entire Congress and, by logical extension, the whole American people are equally guilty and resolutely so.

The principal objection to this law is not the fact that it sifts applicants for immigration and excludes many of them. The principal objection is that it would deport about 500,000 intruders on the eastern seaboard alone who came here without legal right and have no right to stay here.

This is our country. We are, so to speak, members of an exclusive club primarily intended to be managed for our own welfare as stated in the Constitution. It was not organized for the benefit of foreigners. The national soil and treasure are our property. The liberties created and confirmed in the Constitution are ours and if our people, through our Congress, should decide to admit only lunatics, that would be our right. We can lay down whatever conditions we like with no apologies to anybody anywhere else on earth.

Some people plainly do not understand this. Some people think we have a duty to admit anyone who wants to come here, anyone who is miserable where he is even though he be responsible for his own misery. I have long held that we ought to quit naturalizing foreigners until further notice but I have been overruled by a public sentiment. However, that certainly is not an "un-American" opinion. It is "pro-American."

I could cite authorities on our federal bench and in other respectable public positions who have written their considered judgment that many naturalized citizens took out citizenship papers only so that they could qualify for "relief" or other material benefits. I hold that persons who have been granted the precious boon of citizenship in our great nation should be required to remain in our country for at least ten years thereafter except brief excursions to the old country in emergencies. The British adopted this idea to circumvent designing aliens who acquired British passports and then scurried back to their native lands to raise mischief. During Hitler's rise in Germany there were a swarm of Communist pests at large in Germany flaunting American passports. They could hardly speak American but they howled for American consuls to protect them whenever

When a new President is taking office, it helps to put the slant of history upon the early events of his tenure.

Usually a White House newcomer enjoys a "honeymoon" of harmonious relations with Congress, a period of grace while he settles into his arduous job. Franklin D. Roosevelt had his "Hundred Days" in 1933. Harry S. Truman experienced similar immunity in the interval between his sudden accession to power and the Japanese surrender in 1945.

But, in the almost certain event that General Eisenhower, too, has his honeymoon, it would be foolish to imagine that it will last for more than a few months at best. It never has, and the reason is that there are powerful factors working against it, working for conflict between the President and Congress.

A lot of people are saying these days that this conflict is not inevitable, that Congress and the White House can get along fine if each will just stick to its knitting and if there is constant consultation between the two. Eisenhower, a man of tremendous talent for bringing people together, is pictured as just the fellow to introduce sweetness and light into this age-old relationship.

Without belittling for an instant the general's capacity for compromise, one may still suggest that conflict will not be avoided indefinitely.

The underlying reason is that no Chief Executive in this or any other day can stop at being a mere administrator, leaving to Congress the making of all law, and hence policy.

In the first place, left to its own devices, Congress does not produce a comprehensive, well-harmonized program of action. It tends to fall apart into factions, each pressing its own aims. What emerges is often lost in contradictions.

This happens to a Congress without White House leadership because lawmakers are not elected by the whole people but by the citizens of a district or state. If they are high-minded men they will think often of the national interest, but they ignore their state and district concerns at the risk of their political careers.

The President, on the other hand, is elected by the entire citizenry. And he is chosen as more than a referee among competing factions. He is truly the nation's leader, and he is so empowered by the Constitution, even though that document puts checks on him.

The Founding Fathers gave him authority to make treaties, to advise Congress on policy, and to veto legislation. Almost from the first, American Presidents have used that power positively and aggressively to promote programs of broad national interest—as they saw it. Endlessly, they have fought Congress in trying to win their goals.

Today, with the separate segments of American society more vocal and more powerful economically and politically than ever before, the demand for strong White House guidance is the greatest in history. Only the President can act as the focal point of all the swirling currents, and give them useful direction. Only the President can thread a fairly consistent course through the bewilderments of foreign affairs.

Those who imagine that strong presidential action is some kind of democratic occupational disease from which Congress and the nation will now be freed, plainly are due for an awakening. The President who uses his power to the hilt is apparently here to stay. And so are the conflicts with Congress which logically follow.

A little girl in Knoxville, Tennessee, received a small-sized, adjustable suit of armor for Christmas. With some youngsters we know that would have made an ideal gift for their parents and teachers.

President Eisenhower selected a Homburg rather than a high silk hat for his inauguration headgear. His problem was different from that of many politicians who, undisciplined by the height of their hats, have trouble with the size once they are successful.

THE INVESTIGATING COMMITTEES

It would appear that nearly every member of Congress and his administrative assistant wants to be involved, in a major way, in the investigation of Communists. It used to be that nobody wanted to serve on such committees and that reputations were destroyed by membership on them.

The political success of Senator Joe McCarthy and the growth in reputation of Senator Pat McCarran and Senator Homer Ferguson have stimulated a desire of other Senators and Representatives to get themselves into activities which are not only useful but are paying off politically. I heard that about 180 Representatives want to be on the House Committee on Un-American Activities!

Actually, investigation of the subversives is a difficult and technical task. Few are good at it. The first efforts under Representative Martin Dies were fumbling. Robert Stripling and Dr. J. B. Matthews had to learn how to question Communists and how to conduct such a committee. Since the days of Martin Dies, the techniques of such investigations have advanced considerably, so that in the Internal Security Committee, headed by Senator Pat McCarran, with J. G. Sourwine and Robert Morris as counsel, no mistakes were made. This committee came close to a grand jury proceedings.

The primary difficulty that faces most Congressional committees is that their members and counsel know nothing about Marxism, Communism, or the nature of the world-wide conspiracy. Most of them do not know what the witnesses are talking about and they do not know what questions to ask. I have interviewed a number of witnesses before some of these committees and have found that they answered incorrectly and even perjured themselves because the questions were asked incorrectly and the witness was given no opportunity to rephrase the questions or answers. The Tydings Committee, whose counsel was Edward Morgan, will forever stand as a classical example of bad questioning.

Joe McCarthy has done an exceptionally competent job in unearthing the Communists in the State Department, the Institute of Pacific Relations and the United Nations. It must be remembered that Senator McCarthy was on no committee that could investigate these charges. It was only when the McCarran Committee undertook to investigate these matters that McCarthy's charges began to stand up. He had said that his entire case would stand or collapse on Lattimore.

Today, Owen Lattimore stands indicted by a federal grand jury in Washington on a perjury charge growing out of his testimony before the Internal Security Committee.

At present, it would seem that there are likely to be too many committees dealing with the same material. There is the House Committee on Un-American Activities, which continues in this field under the chairmanship of Harold Velde, an experienced investigator. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee under Senator Alexander Wiley wants to investigate the relations of Marxism to our foreign policy. The committee has an exceptionally well-informed counsel, Julius Cahn. The Internal Security Committee is a subcommittee of the Judiciary Committee. Its chairman may be Senator William Jenner. Its present counsel is Robert Morris, one of the ablest men in this field of investigation. Finally, there is the Committee on Expenditures in Executive Departments, the principal investigating committee of the Congress, of which Senator McCarthy is chairman. Its counsel is Roy Cohn, who in the Department of Justice proved himself to be one of the most competent investigators of Communist activity in the United States. A combination of Morris and Cohn cannot be beaten.

The greatest loss to the country, from this standpoint, is that the Republican victory eliminated Senator Pat McCarran from the chairmanship of the Internal Security Committee where he is most needed to care for unfinished business. Also the knowledge and capacity of Senator Homer Ferguson ought not to be lost in the reshuffling of committees.

What is most needed is a high policy decision limiting the number of committees engaged in this activity and allocating their fields of work. There should be no competitive investigating as that would help the subversives who could find a favorable committee to which to present their cases, as was done in the instance of the Tydings Committee.

Further, it would be politically stupid for any Republicans to gang up on Senator Joe McCarthy either by competitive investigations or by withholding funds. That might produce the assumption that no investigation is really wanted.

That Body of Yours

HOW TO LIVE WITH HEART TROUBLE

It is known to the great majority of men and women that heart disease is the greatest single cause of death; it is not surprising, therefore, that any slight pain or disturbance in the region of the heart should cause anxiety in the individual and to his family. Heart disease is or is not present; a physical examination will tell the story.

Now, when an attack of coronary thrombosis occurs and the doctor orders the patient to bed, he may think that the end of life is at hand, or at least, that he will be a chronic invalid and will not be able to resume his regular occupation.

The truth of the matter is that recorded in the pamphlet "How to Live With Your Heart Trouble" written by Alton L. Blakeslee for the American Heart Association, Inc. "Most people recover from their heart attacks and live happily with their hearts." The heart can be damaged like any other part or organ of the body and will likewise recover completely in the majority of cases. Most people with heart conditions go back to work and 80 to 85 per cent of them can return to their same jobs.

Once the patient is learning how to live with a damaged heart, it is up to the family to give him all the help possible; not by being overconsiderate or oversympathetic but by using common sense and following the instructions of the physician. It is only natural for the family to be anxious, not only for the patient's own sake but because their whole livelihood and life's happiness may depend upon the patient's recovery. The pamphlet states that there are many things that the various members of the family can do to speed recovery or in helping him to adjust himself to new conditions. "Foremost, perhaps, is the family's responsibility to stand by the patient's side, to let him know that he is still loved and wanted and is very much a part of the family."

The family must keep in mind that a man or woman in good general health suddenly struck down in the midst of an active career, is very likely to fret and fume and be short tempered. "Fear, anxiety, and self-pity lead these patients to be ill-tempered, grouchy and self-centered. Men and women, who were easy-going, tolerant and understanding when well, may, for a time, become jumpy and irritable."

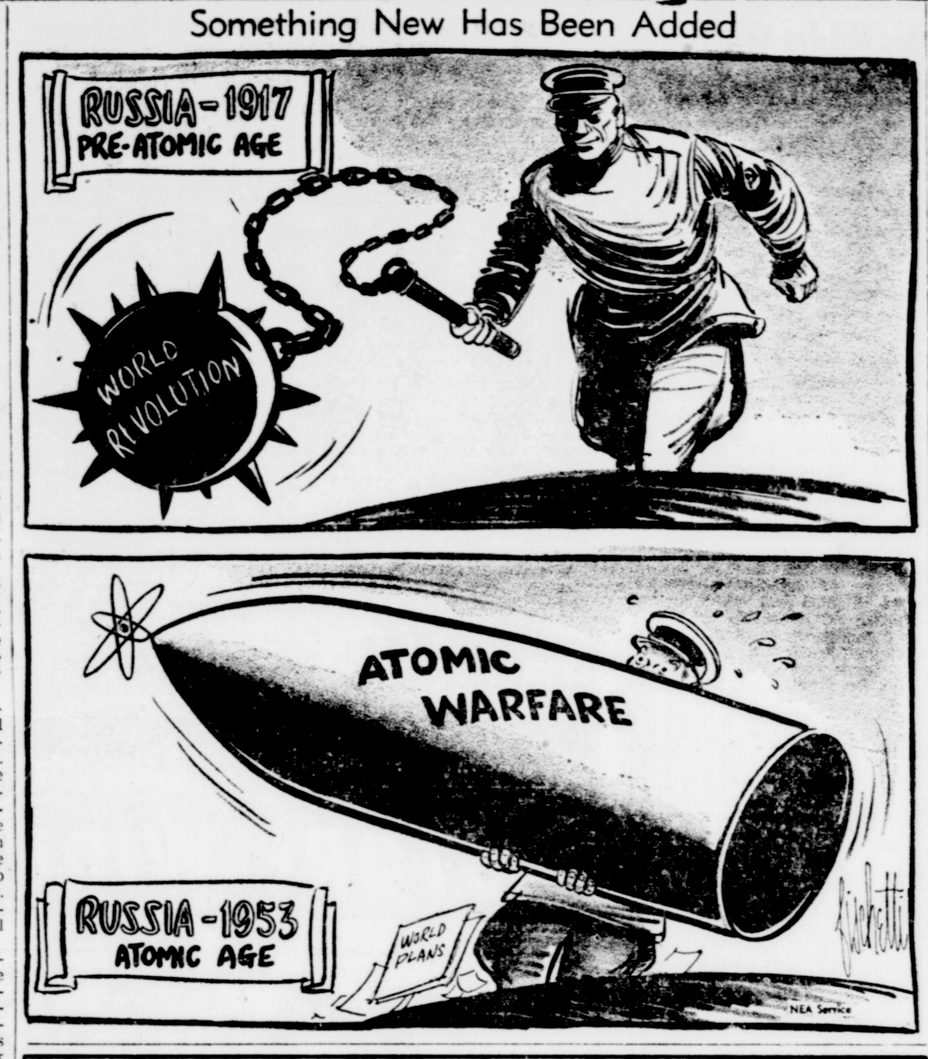
Something New Has Been Added



The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Here is how the policies and plans of the Eisenhower administration begin to look as it tackles one of the most momentous political change-overs in history.

Foreign Policy—It's becoming apparent that the new President is going to keep his hands closely on foreign policy, and that his new secretary of state, John Foster Dulles, will be kept busy abroad as a foreign-policy salesman. . . . Ike will operate the State Department through two trusted friends: General "Beetle" Smith, his old chief of staff in Europe, now undersecretary of state; and Douglas MacArthur II, counselor of the State Department. MacArthur is a nephew of General MacArthur but disagrees with him, and a son-in-law of Vice President Alben Barkley. As political adviser to Ike at SHAPE, the two became warm friends. . . . Dulles will make another trip to the Far East after this month's mission to Europe, will be absent from Washington frequently. . . . Eisenhower himself, however, may take a trip to Europe this spring—if necessary. This is a precedent-making prospect for a new President, but Ike is worried over the bogged-down condition of the proposed united European army, fears it may take extracurricular pressure to get France and Germany to sign. If Dulles can't manage it on his current trip, Eisenhower may make a special pilgrimage in March.

Is Dewey Next? — Patronage, the political fodder on which every party feeds, is still making the Taft wing of the GOP most unhappy. They aren't advertising it, but what they really fear is a little man now licking his chops in Albany. For some time they feared him as the prospective Republican candidate for President in 1956, and Ike's recent remark about Dewey's great future didn't make them any less fearful. . . . What really irks the Taftites is not the actual men appointed by Eisenhower, but the fact that Dewey's close friend, Herbert Brownell, is dishing out the jobs. . . . Real fact is that Brownell is picking good men, and screening them well. But few of them are Taft men. Meanwhile Dewey's turn-down of a chance to be Ike's secretary of state and his (ostensible) aloofness from Washington convinces Taftites that the little man in Albany is merely biding his time—with Ike's blessing—until 1956.

New Cabinet—The cabinet member who has made the best impression so far is new Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey. Unlike Charles E. Wilson, Humphrey has gone about his new job as if the nation was doing him a great honor. He has picked a good staff, admits he has a lot to learn, looks as if he would learn fast . . . New Secretary of the Navy Robert Anderson also has made a favorable impression. He's been getting ribbed as to how much a Texas cattleman knows about battleships, but he's considered a good bet to best the admirals—who always try to wrap their civilian boss round their finger—and usually succeed . . . (Anderson, a Texas oilman, is going to be embarrassed by the fact that tidelands oil is now a naval reserve under him.)

Crime Busting — Attorney General Brownell, who's also making a good impression—except among the Taftites—has picked one of the top crime-busters of the nation, Warren Olney, to head his criminal division . . . Olney was head of the California Crime Commission, secretly came to Washington four years ago to urge the Treasury to prosecute big-shot California gamblers for tax evasion. However, Dan Bolich, then deputy tax collector, since indicted, stopped Olney's move dead in its tracks . . . Olney will be able to take over a red hot federal grand jury in Miami which has a dragnet out for 60 of the top gangsters in the U. S.

Secretary of Defense — What embarrasses Republicans re Charles E. Wilson's confirmation is the battle they themselves put up against Democrat Ed Pauley to be undersecretary of the navy and Carl Ilgenfritz as head of the munitions board. Pauley was vetoed because he is an oilman and would be in charge of naval oil reserves. Ilgenfritz was barred because as vice-president of U. S. Steel he would receive a salary of $70,000 . . . It was the Republicans who led the moves to bar them. Michigan's Senator Ferguson on May 14, 1951, speaking against Ilgenfritz made this statement which he would now like to forget: "What if this were the president of General Motors?"

Public Lands—After the tidelands oil row is over, a move will start to transfer all other public lands to about a dozen western states. . . . The move will come from Sen. Hugh Butler of Nebraska, who has the transfer legislation written and ready to roll. . . . Theory behind this is that if Texas, Louisiana and California are to get the public lands off their coastline, then the western states should get the public lands inside their borders. This means forest reserves, oil and mineral reserves. . . . This is likely to set off one of the biggest scrambles by oil companies, mining interests, and cattlemen since gold rush days. . . . It will also run into vigorous Senate opposition. . . . Senator Butler has already tipped his hand by permitting three wool, oil, and mining lobbyists inside his interior committee during the confidential hearings on Douglas McKay's confirmation as secretary of the interior. The public was barred, but the three lobbyists admitted. . . . When GOP Sen. Hiram Bingham of Connecticut did this in the Hoover administration he was reprimanded by a vote of the full Senate and defeated for re-election.

Senatorial Courtesy — Ikeites aren't happy about the roadblocks put in front of Gov. Val Peterson of Nebraska by his fellow Republican, Senator Butler of Nebraska. . . . Thus, Charles E. Wilson is rightly indignant because of the suggestion that he might, if he held on to his General Motors stock, do something as secretary of defense that would compromise himself or the government. But the rules of politics demand that the occasion shall not even arise where there could be such a question. As it is, there are many friends of the Eisenhower administration who wonder why the matter was allowed to drift for two months without being given careful consideration, and a solution found much earlier.

The episode has caused more talk and more argument than would have been the case if the subject had been taken up earlier and opinions sought long before inauguration day. Particularly harmful—from a political viewpoint—is the tendency to drift while the public talks about lack of ethics in a new administration. The issue should have been disposed of promptly as soon as it arose and long before Mr. Wilson went to Congress to testify.

What it all indicates is that, while the Eisenhower administration has picked a lot of able men from business and from other walks of life, it has not yet brought into the executive staff men with the political knowledge and awareness which comes out of experience and familiarity with Washington ways and customs.

Business men as a whole cannot on this account be criticized, for there is no standardization among them. Some are public relations-minded and some are not. Some are keenly aware of political currents—and some are not. But there is no excuse for an administration taking power nowadays without having at its elbow a little group of political advisers. Congress is the place to get them. They are artful and resourceful—they are sensitive to all the conflicting currents. Yet it is understood that nobody from Capitol Hill was called in to discuss this very explosive political issue before Mr. Wilson went before the Senate Armed Services Committee for his informal session last week.

The lesson will not be lost on President Eisenhower. He profits by mistakes. It probably is a good thing the episode occurred now instead of later. As for solving the Wilson problem itself, whether by divesting the secretary of defense of authority over matters concerning his former business or by letting him divest himself of his stocks in General Motors, the whole thing will be cleared up satisfactorily within a few days and forgotten.

The warning, however, is there nevertheless to the entire Eisenhower group of new officials—they must all become members of the "clean as a hound's tooth" club, or the next congressional election will see the Republican party very much on the defensive.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Washington, Jan. 21 — Senator Pat McCarran and Congressman Francis E. Walter have been punished heavily for their fight to enact an immigration law which put the interests of the United States ahead of all other interests. The law was vetoed and passed over the veto by a Congress elected to legislate in the name of the American people. Thus, if McCarran and Walter have been guilty of bigotry and "racism," then the entire Congress and, by logical extension, the whole American people are equally guilty and resolutely so.

The principal objection to this law is not the fact that it sifts applicants for immigration and excludes many of them. The principal objection is that it would deport about 500,000 intruders on the eastern seaboard alone who came here without legal right and have no right to stay here.

This is our country. We are, so to speak, members of an exclusive club primarily intended to be managed for our own welfare as stated in the Constitution. It was not organized for the benefit of foreigners. The national soil and treasure are our property. The liberties created and confirmed in the Constitution are ours and if our people, through our Congress, should decide to admit only lunatics, that would be our right. We can lay down whatever conditions we like with no apologies to anybody anywhere else on earth.

Some people plainly do not understand this. Some people think we have a duty to admit anyone who wants to come here, anyone who is miserable where he is even though he be responsible for his own misery. I have long held that we ought to quit naturalizing foreigners until further notice but I have been overruled by a public sentiment. However, that certainly is not an "un-American" opinion. It is "pro-American."

I could cite authorities on our federal bench and in other respectable public positions who have written their considered judgment that many naturalized citizens took out citizenship papers only so that they could qualify for "relief" or other material benefits. I hold that persons who have been granted the precious boon of citizenship in our great nation should be required to remain in our country for at least ten years thereafter except brief excursions to the old country in emergencies. The British adopted this idea to circumvent designing aliens who acquired British passports and then scurried back to their native lands to raise mischief. During Hitler's rise in Germany there were a swarm of Communist pests at large in Germany flaunting American passports. They could hardly speak American but they howled for American consuls to protect them whenever

Feed From Garbage

Chicago (AP) — Garbage is now dried and ground into saleable animal feed in Omaha, Neb., reports the American Public Works Association here. The work is done by a local alcohol plant which is subsidized by the city at at a monthly rate of $2,500. The sterile feed produced from the dried garbage has 12 to 14 per cent protein content and resembles tankage, the report states. Omaha officials began experimenting with the drying system after the state legislature prohibited feeding raw garbage to hogs.

'Mystery' Malady Solved

San Francisco (AP)—Robert B. Morris, his wife and 4-year-old son all got sick about the same time for two weeks recently. Thinking a change of climate might help, Morris moved his family here from San Mateo for six days. All promptly got better. When they went back home, they all got sick again. Then his wife collapsed on the floor. A later checkup by the fire department revealed a furnace slowly spewing deadly carbon monoxide fumes into the house. The family did not require hospitalization.

BUSY WITH THE BEARSKINS — More than 3000 bearskin shakos are being fashioned in Michael Silberston's clothing factory in London's suburban Bethnal Green. They will be worn by the towering members of the Brigade of Guards as they march in the Coronation parade in June. Silberston, whose grandfather made bearskin hats for the Imperial troops of the last Russian czar, will cut all of the skins himself. Employes, above, begin to form the hats on wood frames.

Melby Puts Stress

not be defeated simply by economic assistance to Europe, nor by witch hunts, nor by being anti-Communist. "I want to know what you're for—not what you're against!"

The "obliteration" of metropolitan New York by some fantastic new bomb would be, in the long view, he said, a matter of less concern than the "preservation of freedom."

"I would rather die than live in Russia"—or in Germany under a Hitler, or in Italy under a Mussolini, or in any totalitarian state. "If totalitarianism comes to America you and I as teachers will have become propagandists. We are the only profession in society which is put out of business by the creation of a totalitarian state."

Sometimes people asked him about Communist teachers, he said, pointing out that he knew thousands of teachers all over the country "and I don't know a single Communist one." Asking why there were so few he answered by saying that "teachers know there's no real education in any kind of totalitarian society."

Senses A New Faith

Praising Eisenhower's inaugural address and the campaigns conducted by him and Stevenson, Melby said he believed both men "sensed the preoccupation of the American people with big things—not little things. I believe there is in this country a new resolution of faith."

He charged a negative emphasis in American life, an over-zealous debunking of national heroes, criticism of givernment, recklessness of truth and violation of basic principles. "I think it's time we moved into an era of faith instead of cynicism."

He defined the American "idea" as letting each become "all he is capable of becoming. . . . Each and every one of you is a unique personality," a new force, a new power to think, feel, create. "We don't yet sense the power of the idea of a free society."

Deplores Tendency

He deplored the current tendency to bypass local government and seek action from some larger "aggregation," pointing out that local government has less and less power with the consequent temptation to "go to Albany" and, if unsuccessful there, to Washington.

"Democracy will not survive in America or anywhere else unless we can vitalize local government."

He said he understood, but deplored, teacher fear of controversial issues in their classrooms. "I'd rather teach what I believe about American freedom and the hazards it faces and be fired."

Pointing out that there were "lots of people in the United States who don't believe in public education" Melby explained that many religious groups, none singled in particular, believed public schools could not teach moral and spiritual values and that public education was a "godless institution."

Have Double Stake

He said private and parochial schools were a part of the American educational system and that there was "no war" between them. However, "the public school is the guarantee that no child is to be without an education. . . . There are no parochial schools behind the Iron Curtain. . . . Every parent sending his child to private or parochial school has a double stake in helping the public school to survive."

Melby was introduced by Superintendent of Education Arthur J. Laidlaw. Message of welcome to teachers was delivered by Clarence S. Rowland, president of the board of education, and Harry T. Gumaer, principal of the Myron J. Michael Junior High School.

A discussion on Implications of Promotional Policies was held during the morning with the following panel: Dr. Harry B. Spencer, supervisor of junior high school education, state department of education; John O. Dunn, supervisor of elementary education, state department of education; Board of Education President Clarence Rowland; Robert H. Herzog, chairman of the curriculum committee of the board of education; A. J. Boyd, principal of the George Washington School; Mrs. Regina Swarthout, third grade teacher, School 6; Miss Blanche Kirshenblum, guidance counselor at MJM School; Miss Ethel M. Hull, Kingston High School English teacher; Leo J. Doheny, Kingston High School citizenship teacher, and Mrs. Frieda L. Dingee, principal of School 7, moderator.

Group discussion meetings will continue through this afternoon and Friday with a final panel discussion at 1 p. m. Friday on Teacher Participation in Policy Making.

BUSY WITH THE BUNTING—Thousands of flags and banners are fluttering off the production line at William Parrack's flag factory at Rockford, Essex, in England. With the help of only 17 employes, Parrack hopes to produce at least ten miles of bunting by April, and all of it will go to decorate the Coronation route over which Queen Elizabeth II will travel in June. Union Jacks, red-and-white ensigns, and the colors of Scotland, Ireland, and Wales are hand-printed on wool, then washed and dried.

Longtime Tenant

Pittsburg, Pa. (AP)—Edward Ackenheil, 83-year-old retired Heinz Co. department head, recently got a letter from Postmaster James C. Smith congratulating him on being the oldest box-holder at the Pittsburgh post office. The former Californian has been renting the same box, No. 402, for more than 50 years. He signed up for it when he came to Pittsburgh in 1902.

Pineapple Glazes Sponge Cake

SPONGE CAKE glazed with pineapple and served plain or with whipped cream has eye and taste appeal for every family occasion.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Here's a dessert you'll be delighted with—rich with crushed pineapple and whipped cream.

Pineapple Glazed Sponge Cake (Serves 6)

Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup cake flour, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, ½ cup hot milk, 1 can (No. 1 flat) crushed pineapple, ¼ cup sugar.

Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add sugar. Beat 2½ minutes if using an electric mixer or 5 minutes with spoon. Sift flour, measure and sift again with salt and baking powder. Fold into egg and sugar mixture all at once. Melt butter or margarine in hot milk and add all at once. Fold in dry ingredients and milk quickly and pour immediately into a waxed-paper-lined, 8-inch square baking pan.

Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Just before cake is to come from oven combine crushed pineapple with ¼ cup of sugar and bring to boil. Remove cake from pan and place on serving plate.

With the point of a sharp knife mark the cake into 1-inch squares, cutting through the cake only about ½ inch. Spoon hot pineapple mixture over hot cake and allow to cool. Cut into squares to serve and serve plain or with whipped cream.

Note—One layer of a white cake-mix cake may be used in place of the hot-milk sponge cake.

Fruit-Vegetable Buying Tips

In selecting fresh fruits and vegetables, these practical hints from marketing specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture will get best results for you:

1. Don't handle fruits and vegetables unnecessarily. Rough handling causes spoilage and loss. If handling is necessary, do it so carefully that you avoid damaging the specimen.
2. Remember that the largest isn't always the best. Consider the size in relation to your needs.
3. Don't buy just because the price is low. Observe quality and condition carefully. At times of abundant supply, you may be able to find low-priced items of such quality that they constitute a bargain.
4. Study the markets. As background for your shopping, seek information on market prices and available supplies in newspapers, broadcasts and telecasts.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit, oatmeal, crisp bacon, enriched toast, butter or margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Creamed sliced hard-cooked eggs with peas, toasted English muffins, butter or margarine, raw carrot sticks, sliced bananas and oranges, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Broiled swordfish steak, lemon parsley butter, mashed potatoes, buttered broccoli, enriched bread, butter or margarine, Pascal celery, pineapple glazed sponge cake, coffee, milk.

Chlorophyll in Clothes

New York (AP)—Chlorophyll has now become a "secret agent" of dry cleaners to give suits an anti-odor finish, reports the British Information Service here. A special form of chlorophyll is used to treat the clothing at the steaming and pressing stage. A British firm is already shipping 500 pounds of the special chlorophyll by air every week to the United States, says the report.

Labor Groups Back State TV Plans

Albany, Jan. 22 (AP)—The state's two largest labor organizations were aligned with educational groups today in support of the Board of Regents' controversial plan for a state television network.

But the opposition had some new allies as a temporary state commission wound up scheduled hearings on the proposal to build and operate a chain of 10 TV stations as an educational medium.

More than 40 groups and individuals testified here yesterday at the commission's third—and perhaps last—hearing.

The proposal was endorsed by the State Federation of Labor and the State CIO Council, each claiming to represent more than a million workers.

Harold J. Gaarno, secretary-treasurer of the CIO Council, said the opposition to the project "seems to have been motivated by misunderstanding, lack of vision, distrust of our democratic processes or simple greed."

'Shotgun Approach'

Business and taxpayers' groups struck at the plan. The Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc., a private organization of taxpayers, labeled it a "shotgun approach to education" and said educators should "not try to compete with Hollywood and Broadway."

Garth A. Shoemaker, president of the Expenditure Survey said the proposal was "neither sensible or practical."

Spokesmen for the State Federation of Women's Clubs, the National Economic Council and the Schenectady Federation of Women's organizations also voiced protests.

The Regents have estimated it would cost 3½ million dollars to build the network and 1½ million a year to operate it.

Education groups favoring the project far outnumbered the critics.

Why We Say--

. . . Trust bond

A man who is engaged might be referred to as a fiance (or a woman as a fiancee). The word came to us from the Old French word "fidere" which meant to trust . . . At the time of engagement the couple was required to take a vow of trust.

As Pegler Sees It

the German cops locked them up for plotting and rioting.

Congressman Walter recently discussed on the floor of the House the case of the French passenger ship Liberte, which happened to be the first prominent boat to reach New York after his law took effect. Our inspectors "screened" out some 300 French sailors for various reasons laid down in the law, including membership in Communist organizations. The New York Herald Tribune pounced on the sad case of a sailor who had a criminal record consisting of a conviction of stealing bread for his family during the German occupation. From the nature of the piece and the editorial reputation of the Herald Tribune, we are justified in skepticism. Anyway, the case was a petty irritation incidental to the great good purpose of the law.

As Mr. Walter said, French sailors generally are a rough lot and France was so rotten with communism that when Hitler struck during his military alliance with Stalin, the French Communists betrayed their country to the Nazis. These traitors then got away to Russia to sit out the war. When our men had swarmed over France and Germany and conquered Hitler, back these traitors came to direct the slaughter of 30,000 French men and women without trial for "collaborating." Not one French Communist traitor was tried and the worst of them are now strongly influential in French politics. There is a great colony of Spanish Communist refugees in southwestern France close to the Pyrenees and the people who have abused McCarran and Walter would make it impossible to prevent the establishment of similar colonies in our country.

In the fall of 1949 Caleb Boggs, then a congressman, now governor of Delaware, and Ed Gossett, a Texas congressman, as a sub-committee of the House Judiciary Committee, spent about a month along the New York-New Jersey waterfront and reported that there were 500,000 persons on the eastern seaboard who had entered this country simply by jumping ship or walking ashore from our war transports during the fighting years. It has been absolutely impossible to get honest figures from the Immigration and Naturalization Service on the numbers of foreigners of various "categories" who came here during the frantic exodus when we were offering sanctuary to all comers from Europe. These pathetic refugees included Eleanor Roosevelt's protege, Hanns Eisler, an ingrate Communist who sneered at our stupidity in treating him humanely. This pestiferous old schemer also butted into the case of Irene Browder, the wife of Earl Browder, and a mysterious special order then was issued commanding the issuance of an immigration visa to her. The consular officer who was forced to issue this visa contrary to law resigned in protest and recorded his estimate that there were at least 3,000,000 and, possibly, as many as 5,000,000 "illegal aliens" among us.

Edward L. F. Morel, Jr., an investigator for the Immigration and Naturalization Service in New York, testified that if we were to rope off a section "of Columbia, Sackett and Union streets over in Brooklyn, rope it off completely and go right in through it," nine-tenths of the occupants would prove to be aliens without legal right to be here.

First Wool Factory

Col. Jeremiah Wadsworth erected the first factory for the manufacture of woolen fabrics in America in 1788. Prior to that time, wool fabrics were woven in the home.

Gross Will 'Sing' To Get Reduction, McDonaldDeclares

New York, Jan. 22 (AP) — Ex-bookie Harry Gross will have to "sing" for the Brooklyn district attorney if he hopes for any reduction of his 12-year jail sentence.

Gross had been hoping for a cut in his term as a reward for testifynig against 30 suspended policemen accused of taking his graft.

Yesterday, however, a three-justice panel of the Court of Special Sessions turned him down, despite his aid to the city in the departmental trial of the 30 men which ended Tuesday.

District Attorney Miles F. McDonald argued in court against any reduction in Gross' sentence, which still has 10 years to run.

McDonlad is angry at Gross for the former bookmaker's refusal to testify at the criminal trial of 18 retired or suspended policemen in 1951. Gross' action wrecked McDonald's case against the 18, charged with graft conspiracy in allegedly sharing in one million dollars a year graft which Gross reputedly paid for protection of his 20 million dollar a year gambling business.

Sees It 'Planned'

The district attorney told the justices that Gross' talk at the 1951 trial was "carefully planned and conceived." McDonald suggested that the ex-bookie had expert advice on timing his mid-trial balk so that a second criminal trial of the accused officers would be legally impossible. Under the double jeopardy provision, a person cannot be tried twice for the same offense.

The court, with Justice Bernard Kozicke presiding, ruled that Gross' plea was premature. Kozicke said the court felt that McDonald "should have a full and fair opportunity to explore the farthest corners of the conspiracy and corruption now but partially uncovered."

Kozicke said Gross' application could be renewed later.

Red Stop Signs Favored

New York (AP)—There is a growing tendency to favor red stop signs over the present yellow color in an effort to cut down motor vehicle accidents, says Harry E. Neal, chairman of the traffic committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials. South Dakota is the first state to adopt over-all red stop signs. California has been using a red octagon on its stop signs for many years while Illinois is planning to switch to a red stop panel, says Neal.

Heavy Air

Power for Formosa

Taipeh, Formosa (AP) — The Westinghouse International Electric Co. has signed a contract with the Taiwan Power Co. to install two 20,000-kilowatt steam generators in a thermal-electric plant near the north coast port of Keelung. The project will cost $5,500,000 and is due to be completed within two years. It was the largest contract with a foreign firm underwritten in Formosa by the Chinese Nationalists since V-J Day.

Longtime Tenant

Pittsburg, Pa. (AP)—Edward Ackenheil, 83-year-old retired Heinz Co. department head, recently got a letter from Postmaster James C. He signed up for it when he came to Pittsburgh in 1902.

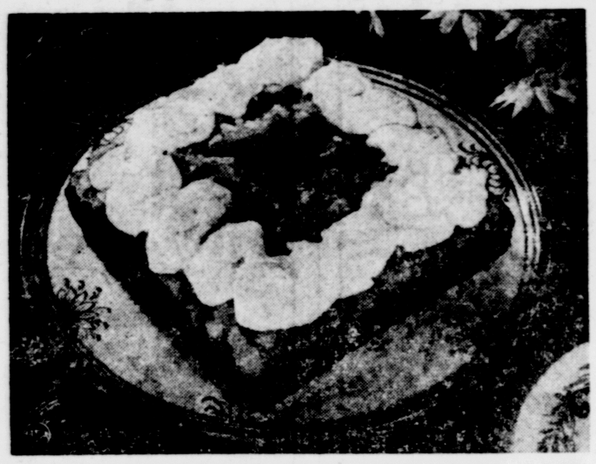
Pineapple Glazes Sponge Cake



SPONGE CAKE glazed with pineapple and served plain or with whipped cream has eye and taste appeal for every family occasion.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Here's a dessert you'll be delighted with—rich with crushed pineapple and whipped cream.

Pineapple Glazed Sponge Cake (Serves 6)

Two eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup cake flour, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, ½ cup hot milk, 1 can (No. 1 flat) crushed pineapple, ¼ cup sugar.

Beat eggs until thick and lemon-colored. Gradually add sugar. Beat 2½ minutes if using an electric mixer or 5 minutes with spoon. Sift flour, measure and sift again with salt and baking powder. Fold into egg and sugar mixture all at once. Melt butter or margarine in hot milk and add all at once. Fold in dry ingredients and milk quickly and pour immediately into a waxed-paper-lined, 8-inch square baking pan.

Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Just before cake is to come from oven combine crushed pineapple with ¼ cup of sugar and bring to boil. Remove cake from pan and place on serving plate.

With the point of a sharp knife mark the cake into 1-inch squares, cutting through the cake only about ½ inch. Spoon hot pineapple mixture over hot cake and allow to cool. Cut into squares to serve and serve plain or with whipped cream.

Note—One layer of a white cake-mix cake may be used in place of the hot-milk sponge cake.

Fruit-Vegetable Buying Tips

In selecting fresh fruits and vegetables, these practical hints from marketing specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture will get best results for you:

1. Don't handle fruits and vegetables unnecessarily. Rough handling causes spoilage and loss. If handling is necessary, do it so carefully that you avoid damaging the specimen.
2. Remember that the largest isn't always the best. Consider the size in relation to your needs.
3. Don't buy just because the price is low. Observe quality and condition carefully. At times of abundant supply, you may be able to find low-priced items of such quality that they constitute a bargain.
4. Study the markets. As background for your shopping, seek information on market prices and available supplies in newspapers, broadcasts and telecasts.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit, oatmeal, crisp bacon, enriched toast, butter or margarine, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Creamed sliced hard-cooked eggs with peas, toasted English muffins, butter or margarine, raw carrot sticks, sliced bananas and oranges, cookies, tea, milk.

DINNER: Broiled swordfish steak, lemon parsley butter, mashed potatoes, buttered broccoli, enriched bread, butter or margarine, Pascal celery, pineapple glazed sponge cake, coffee, milk.

Chlorophyll in Clothes

New York (AP)—Chlorophyll has now become a "secret agent" of dry cleaners to give suits an anti-odor finish, reports the British Information Service here. A special form of chlorophyll is used to treat the clothing at the steaming and pressing stage. A British firm is already shipping 500 pounds of the special chlorophyll by air every week to the United States, says the report.

Labor Groups Back State TV Plans

Albany, Jan. 22 (AP)—The state's two largest labor organizations were aligned with educational groups today in support of the Board of Regents' controversial plan for a state television network.

But the opposition had some new allies as a temporary state commission wound up scheduled hearings on the proposal to build and operate a chain of 10 TV stations as an educational medium.

More than 40 groups and individuals testified here yesterday at the commission's third—and perhaps last—hearing.

The proposal was endorsed by the State Federation of Labor and the State CIO Council, each claiming to represent more than a million workers.

Harold J. Gaarno, secretary-treasurer of the CIO Council, said the opposition to the project "seems to have been motivated by misunderstanding, lack of vision, distrust of our democratic processes or simple greed."

'Shotgun Approach'

Business and taxpayers' groups struck at the plan. The Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, Inc., a private organization of taxpayers, labeled it a "shotgun approach to education" and said educators should "not try to compete with Hollywood and Broadway."

Garth A. Shoemaker, president of the Expenditure Survey said the proposal was "neither sensible or practical."

Spokesmen for the State Federation of Women's Clubs, the National Economic Council and the Schenectady Federation of Women's organizations also voiced protests.

The Regents have estimated it would cost 3½ million dollars to build the network and 1½ million a year to operate it.

Education groups favoring the project far outnumbered the critics.

Why We Say--

. . . Trust bond

A man who is engaged might be referred to as a fiance (or a woman as a fiancee). The word came to us from the Old French word "fidere" which meant to trust . . . At the time of engagement the couple was required to take a vow of trust.

As Pegler Sees It

the German cops locked them up for plotting and rioting.

Congressman Walter recently discussed on the floor of the House the case of the French passenger ship Liberte, which happened to be the first prominent boat to reach New York after his law took effect. Our inspectors "screened" out some 300 French sailors for various reasons laid down in the law, including membership in Communist organizations. The New York Herald Tribune pounced on the sad case of a sailor who had a criminal record consisting of a conviction of stealing bread for his family during the German occupation. From the nature of the piece and the editorial reputation of the Herald Tribune, we are justified in skepticism. Anyway, the case was a petty irritation incidental to the great good purpose of the law.

As Mr. Walter said, French sailors generally are a rough lot and France was so rotten with communism that when Hitler struck during his military alliance with Stalin, the French Communists betrayed their country to the Nazis. These traitors then got away to Russia to sit out the war. When our men had swarmed over France and Germany and conquered Hitler, back these traitors came to direct the slaughter of 50,000 French men and women without trial for "collaborating." Not one French Communist traitor was tried and the worst of them are now strongly influential in French politics. There is a great colony of Spanish Communist refugees in southwestern France close to the Pyrenees and the people who have abused McCarran and Walter would make it impossible to prevent the establishment of similar colonies in our country.

In the fall of 1949 Caleb Boggs, then a congressman, now governor of Delaware, and Ed Gossett, a Texas congressman, as a sub-committee of the House Judiciary Committee, spent about a month along the New York-New Jersey waterfront and reported that there were 500,000 persons on the eastern seaboard who had entered this country simply by jumping ship or walking ashore from our war transports during the fighting years. It has been absolutely impossible to get honest figures from the Immigration and Naturalization Service on the numbers of foreigners of various "categories" who came here during the frantic exodus when we were offering sanctuary to all comers from Europe. These pathetic refugees included Eleanor Roosevelt's protege, Hanns Eisler, an ingrate Communist who sneered at our stupidity in treating him humanely. This pestiferous old schemer also butted into the case of Irene Browder, the wife of Earl Browder, and a mysterious special order then was issued commanding the issuance of an immigration visa to her. The consular officer who was forced to issue this visa contrary to law resigned in protest and recorded his estimate that there were at least 3,000,000 and, possibly, as many as 5,000,000 "illegal aliens" among us.

Edward L. F. Morel, Jr., an investigator for the Immigration and Naturalization Service in New York, testified that if we were to rope off a section "of Columbia, Sackett and Union streets over in Brooklyn, rope it off completely and go right in through it," nine-tenths of the occupants would prove to be aliens without legal right to be here.

Gross Will 'Sing' To Get Reduction, McDonaldDeclares

New York, Jan. 22 (AP) — Ex-bookie Harry Gross will have to "sing" for the Brooklyn district attorney if he hopes for any reduction of his 12-year jail sentence.

Gross had been hoping for a cut in his term as a reward for testifynig against 30 suspended policemen accused of taking his graft.

Yesterday, however, a three-justice panel of the Court of Special Sessions turned him down, despite his aid to the city in the departmental trial of the 30 men which ended Tuesday.

District Attorney Miles F. McDonald argued in court against any reduction in Gross' sentence, which still has 10 years to run.

McDonlad is angry at Gross for the former bookmaker's refusal to testify at the criminal trial of 18 retired or suspended policemen in 1951. Gross' action wrecked McDonald's case against the 18, charged with graft conspiracy in allegedly sharing in one million dollars a year graft which Gross reputedly paid for protection of his 20 million dollar a year gambling business.

Sees It 'Planned'

The district attorney told the justices that Gross' talk at the 1951 trial was "carefully planned and conceived." McDonald suggested that the ex-bookie had expert advice on timing his mid-trial balk so that a second criminal trial of the accused officers would be legally impossible. Under the double jeopardy provision, a person cannot be tried twice for the same offense.

The court, with Justice Bernard Kozicke presiding, ruled that Gross' plea was premature. Kozicke said the court felt that McDonald "should have a full and fair opportunity to explore the farthest corners of the conspiracy and corruption now but partially uncovered."

Kozicke said Gross' application could be renewed later.

Red Stop Signs Favored

New York (AP)—There is a growing tendency to favor red stop signs over the present yellow color in an effort to cut down motor vehicle accidents, says Harry E. Neal, chairman of the traffic committee of the American Association of State Highway Officials. South Dakota is the first state to adopt over-all red stop signs. California has been using a red octagon on its stop signs for many years while Illinois is planning to switch to a red stop panel, says Neal.

Heavy Air

Power for Formosa

Taipeh, Formosa (AP) — The Westinghouse International Electric Co. has signed a contract with the Taiwan Power Co. to install two 20,000-kilowatt steam generators in a thermal-electric plant near the north coast port of Keelung. The project will cost $5,500,000 and is due to be completed within two years. It was the largest contract with a foreign firm underwritten in Formosa by the Chinese Nationalists since V-J Day.

Think of it! There are 45,000,000 families in the country...

and consume 54,000,000 newspapers every day!

What thirsts! They thirst for milk and they thirst for news!

No wonder newspapers are in a class by themselves — with advertisers spending twice as much in newspapers as in any other medium.

Of course! Doesn't it make sense for advertisers to depend on the medium that customers depend on?

KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN

Mailler Would

mission chairman, said recently that legislation would be introduced to ease rent restrictions.

In his annual message Dewey said he believed rent controls would have to be continued, but he urged the legislature to give "thorough study" to any changes suggested by the commission.

The state residential rent control law has been effective since May 1, 1950. Unless extended, controls will expire at the end of next June.

The Democratic leaders, Sen. Francis J. Mahoney and Assemblyman Eugene F. Bannigan, said legislation would be introduced next week to restore the full local tax on pari-mutuel betting at flat tracks.

A 1950 law provided for a progressive cut of 1 per cent each year down to a 1 per cent in 1955, when the taxing power would expire.

Last year New York city's tax take on the 4 per cent schedule was $10,747,070. Nassau county got $3,576,074.

Restoration of the full rate is part of Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri's legislative program to provide $218,700,000 in added revenue. He said it would give the city an extra six million dollars.

The lottery proposal was introduced by Assemblyman Bernard C. McDonnell. It calls for adoption of a constitutional amendment.

The action was in line with a similar request by the New York City Council Tuesday.

Other legislative proposals would:

Require a direct primary vote on the party choice of candidates for state-wide offices instead of the present convention method.

Forbid police or other officials to disclose the identity of persons giving them tips on criminals.

Increase from 10 to 25 per cent the amount of motor fuel taxes distributed by the state to counties outside New York city.

Prevent the New York Port Authority from using tax-free land at New York International Airport for commercial and industrial developments. (Sen. Seymour Halpern and Assemblyman Fred W. Preller, Queens Republicans.)

The United States is the only country with a college of accepted standards for the deaf, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

"Gosh! What a thirsty nation!"

and consume 54,000,000 newspapers every day!

What thirsts! They thirst for milk and they thirst for news!

No wonder newspapers are in a class by themselves — with advertisers spending twice as much in newspapers as in any other medium.

Of course! Doesn't it make sense for advertisers to depend on the medium that customers depend on?

KINGSTON DAILY FREEMAN

Mailler Would

mission chairman, said recently that legislation would be introduced to ease rent restrictions.

In his annual message Dewey said he believed rent controls would have to be continued, but he urged the legislature to give "thorough study" to any changes suggested by the commission.

The state residential rent control law has been effective since May 1, 1950. Unless extended, controls will expire at the end of next June.

The Democratic leaders, Sen. Francis J. Mahoney and Assemblyman Eugene F. Bannigan, said legislation would be introduced next week to restore the full local tax on pari-mutuel betting at flat tracks.

A 1950 law provided for a progressive cut of 1 per cent each year down to a 1 per cent in 1955, when the taxing power would expire.

Last year New York city's tax take on the 4 per cent schedule was $10,747,070. Nassau county got $3,576,074.

Restoration of the full rate is part of Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri's legislative program to provide $218,700,000 in added revenue. He said it would give the city an extra six million dollars.

The lottery proposal was introduced by Assemblyman Bernard C. McDonnell. It calls for adoption of a constitutional amendment.

The action was in line with a similar request by the New York City Council Tuesday.

Other legislative proposals would:

Require a direct primary vote on the party choice of candidates for state-wide offices instead of the present convention method.

Forbid police or other officials to disclose the identity of persons giving them tips on criminals.

Increase from 10 to 25 per cent the amount of motor fuel taxes distributed by the state to counties outside New York city.

Prevent the New York Port Authority from using tax-free land at New York International Airport for commercial and industrial developments. (Sen. Seymour Halpern and Assemblyman Fred W. Preller, Queens Republicans.)

The United States is the only country with a college of accepted standards for the deaf, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Freeman's Oldest

at dinners of The Freeman Social Club and kept his audience laughing from start to finish.

Carroll, an ardent hunter, was the life of parties that went into the Adirondacks and other areas to shoot deer. There was always a lively camp with Carroll along, and his companions insisted that he take his vacations in the fall, so he could make the hunting trips.

As the oldest employe in years of service, Carroll was well thought of by his superiors on The Freeman, and those who worked with him.

Started As Errand Boy

He started as an errand boy in June 1904, when he was 13 years old, and learned the printing trade. For a number of years, he was a compositor in the job department, but shifted to truck-driver because he preferred outdoor work.

When he was notified of Carroll's death this morning, Harry duBois Frey, general manager of The Freeman, was shocked and felt deeply grieved. "Mr. Carroll has been with us 49 years" he said, "And his death removed from our midst one of our most faithful employes."

Workers in the various departments received the news with sadness, too, because Carroll was beloved by all.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Mildred Geisler, Mrs. Marion Tierney and Mrs. Verna Murphy of Kingston; two brothers, Thomas of Troy and Frank Carroll of Port Ewen; a sister, Mrs. Mary Healey of Kingston, and five grandchildren.

Mrs. Carroll, formerly Bertha Harlow, died on June 30, 1937.

His parents were the late Thomas and Mary Carroll, and he was a native of Kingston.

Funeral Saturday

Funeral Saturday from the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, 27 Smith avenue at 9 a. m., thence to St. Mary's Church, where a Mass of requiem will be offered at 9:30 for the repose of his soul. Burial in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home any time.

An immigration spokesman said the passport was taken at the request of the State Department. The spokesman said the clergyman had attended several peace conferences abroad.

Serving Fish Fillets

Want to give fish fillets the glamour treatment? Serve them with cream sauce into which you have stirred diced cooked shrimp. You'll need about a half cup of the diced shrimp for a cup of medium sauce, and this amount of the shrimp sauce will be enough for four portions of the fillets. Sprinkle with minced parsley before serving!

Y Directors Hold Regular Meeting

The Board of Directors of the YMCA met for its regular meeting Tuesday night under the leadership of C. A. Baltz, president.

Following devotions by the staff and minutes read of the last meeting by Secretary C. C. Rose reports were given by all departments.

Work by the house committee headed by James A. Guttridge showed an innovation affecting the swimming hours. In order to meet state health regulations indoor pools must be locked when not under life guard supervision. In the last few days a grill door has been placed between the shower room and swimming pool through the cooperation of Directors Clarence Rowland and A. B. Shufeldt. The pool will be open for all regular class and recreation swimming periods and closed during non-active hours. All interested in swimming should become acquainted with the newly posted hours. Several other improvements also were reported by Guttridge.

Water Leak Studied

The problem of a leak in the main water line servicing the building is being studied and the decision to be made left with director William O'Reilly on the house committee.

The physical committee reported the recent Pine Knoll Camp reunion and many other activities. There is renewed interest in volley ball started Monday night in preparation for competitions with Newburgh and Poughkeepsie. A corps of life guards is being trained for leadership in the swimming program. During the Regents Week of odd hours at high school, the gym as well as the boys game rooms have been open for the boys.

Reports on Progress

Cliff Smith of the boys' committee reported the progress being made under the new boys director. State Boys Secretary Howard Shinn met with the boys work committee at a luncheon meeting Tuesday and observed the work being done in the Kingston Association under Robert Thornton. Smith, in his remarks spoke of the possibility of enlarging the boys and youth committee.

It was announced by Secretary Burt Tandy that the Y might invite the Golden Age Club to hold one of its meetings at the Y to enjoy some special activities which are provided. Plans were made to invite them with the cooperation of Clarence Rowland.

The financial report was given by Treasurer Al Harder who reported that the Y started last month with a balance of $232.04, income during December was $3,-988.53, expenses for the same period were $4,389.10. This makes an accumulated total of unpaid bills amounting to $5,487.67 as of Jan. 1. There are no notes payable against the Y as reported by Harder. All efforts must be made to increase the income at this time, he said.

Directors present were C. A. Baltz, George DeKay, Chester Dolson, Clarence Dumm, James Guttridge, Al Harder, Clifford Rose, Clarence Rowland, Elmer Rylance, A. B. Shufeldt, George Silkworth, Cliff Smith and Al Schmid.

New Cabinet . . .

ing on the first leg of a trip back to Korea so there was a leisurely family breakfast before the farewells.

Maj. Eisenhower, ordered back from Korea by then President Truman for his father's inauguration, was going from Washington to Highland Falls, N. Y., for a visit with his wife and children before returning to Korea.

How They Arrived

Reporters learned the new cabinet officers showed up for work in this order:

8:55 a. m.—Attorney General Brownell.

9—Secretary of State Dulles.

9:05—Secretary of Labor Durkin.

9:12—Secreetary of Agriculture Benson.

9:15—Postmaster General Summerfield.

9:30—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

10:25—Secretary of Commerce Weeks.

Secretary of Interior McKay didn't make it. He was confined to his bed with influenza.

Told to Stay Home

Mrs. McKay told a reporter that her husband developed a cold yesterday, after attending the inaugural ball the night before, and felt so bad by this morning that she summoned a doctor. The doctor gave McKay a dose of penicillin and directed that he remain in bed.

She said the doctor told her that McKay may be able to attend the first Eisenhower cabinet meeting tomorrow, but probably should not do any regular work in his new post until next week.

The White House announced that tomorrow's cabinet meeting will be at 10 a. m.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty replied that he did not know when asked whether Charles E. Wilson, Eisenhower's choice for secretary of defense, would attend.

The propriety of Wilson's taking the post has been questioned by some senators because of his large holdings in General Motors stock.

General Motors has billions of dollars worth of defense contracts.

Thus far, Eisenhower has held back from formally nominating Wilson for the cabinet while informal efforts have gone forward to reach some understanding about the matter.

Hagerty said five officials outside the cabinet would attend tomorrow's meeting and all future cabinet meetings. They are Vice President Nixon, Sherman Adams, the President's chief assistant; Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, federal security administrator, Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen and Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge. Dodge was sworn in today.

Hagerty also told reporters that Eisenhower has received some 6,500 messages of congratulations on his inauguration. He said there were about 300 cables from the heads of foreign governments and other persons abroad.

Soon after Eisenhower reached his office, he had a 15-minute conference with his staff to begin the working day.

One matter of immediate concern is his state of the union speech.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 22 (AP) — The stock market dragged along slowly today with prices moving only slightly in an irregular pattern.

Volume was a shade better than yesterday (when trading was at a new low for the year to date) but the difference largely reflected big block sales at the opening.

Motor and aircraft shares steadied and recovered most of their small early losses. Chemicals were under pressure. Oils gained a trifle. Other groups were mixed.

Biggest block at the opening was one of 22,500 shares of Reynolds Tobacco "B" off ⅛ at 42⅛. Curtiss-Wright advanced ⅛ on a block of 3,400 shares at the start and then climbed another ¼ to 9 in later trading. The company reported sharply increased sales and earnings for 1952.

Douglas Aircraft was up ¾ at 64¼. It also had a favorable earnings report. Texas Pacific Land Trust rose 2 points, following its advance of 5 points yesterday. The company was widely reported to be planning a stock split.

On the upside were Bethlehem Steel, Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, Distillers Corp., Radio Corp., Consolidated Edison, International Nickel, Air Reduction, Philip Morris, Southern Railway, New York, Chicago & St. Louis, Sinclair Oil, Standard Oil (N. J.), Texas Co., Warner Bros., and U. S. Gypsum.

KING-SIZE SMOKERS—It's a towering job for M/Sgt. Joe D. Woods, of Oklahoma City, Okla., to offer a smoke to his king-size friends of the 298th Ordnance Base Depot at Tomioka, Japan. M/Sgt. Woods is only a scant five feet, one inch tall with his shoes on. M/Sgt. Edward J. Strom, left, of Pasadena, Calif., and Pfc. Leonard Reindel, of Cleveland, Ohio, each reach an altitude of six feet, seven inches.

WRONG MAN, RIGHT MEDAL—Pvt. Walter N. Johnson, of Creeley, Neb., at right, looks slightly dazed upon being congratulated, by Maj.-Gen. Johnson was flown to Seoul to receive the Silver Medal of the Crown of Thailand, for an action in which he never took part. Because of an error in translation the Army called the wrong Johnson from the lines. The correct Johnson will receive another medal, and Walter will keep his as a souvenir.

Vampires Believed to Be Ghosts

Vampires were formerly believed to be ghosts who left dead bodies at night to suck the blood of living persons and it was believed such activity could be controlled by driving a stake through the dead body.

Additional performers were announced this morning by Mike Marchuk, secretary of Local 215, American Federation of Musicians and Dick McCarthy, who will be master of ceremonies for the big program.

The Kingston High School band, under the baton of Marlin Morrette, will render a concert starting at 8 p. m. and continuing until 8:30 p. m.

Other new entertainers listed today were Ruth Murray, Bill Livingston, Vivian Lord and Jan Rogers and the Three Starlets.

"Tonight's program should go down into history as the best ever sponsored by our Local Musicians Union and WKNY," was the comment today of Attorney William Kelly, chapter chairman of the March of Dimes and Addison Jones, campaign chairman.

"A lot of work has been done by these two groups in order to arrange for the personal appearances of the bands and vocalists who are all donating their services free of charge," they added.

Late Bulletin

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP) — President Eisenhower, sticking by his view that Charles E. Wilson is the man for secretary of defense, touched off a series of conferences today aimed to see finally if a way can be cleared for Wilson to take the job.

One such meeting was a gathering of Senate Republican leader Taft, Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) in Taft's capitol office.

Byrd, coming out of this meeting, told reporters he thought Wilson could "qualify" if Wilson would sell his General Motors stock, reported to be worth more than 2½ million dollars at present market prices.

Byrd said he has no information as to whether Wilson would or would not sell his stock.

Different Size Saucepans

Most pressure saucepans are about four-quart capacity. But there are some of these convenient utensils that are about two-and-on-half quarts; these hold enough of most vegetables for a small family. For meats, the four-quart utensil is usually most satisfactory.

Freeman's Oldest

at dinners of The Freeman Social Club and kept his audience laughing from start to finish.

Carroll, an ardent hunter, was the life of parties that went into the Adirondacks and other areas to shoot deer. There was always a lively camp with Carroll along, and his companions insisted that he take his vacations in the fall, so he could make the hunting trips.

As the oldest employe in years of service, Carroll was well thought of by his superiors on The Freeman, and those who worked with him.

Started As Errand Boy

He started as an errand boy in June 1904, when he was 13 years old, and learned the printing trade. For a number of years, he was a compositor in the job department, but shifted to truck-driver because he preferred outdoor work.

When he was notified of Carroll's death this morning, Harry duBois Frey, general manager of The Freeman, was shocked and felt deeply grieved. "Mr. Carroll has been with us 49 years" he said. "And his death removed from our midst one of our most faithful employes."

Workers in the various departments received the news with sadness, too, because Carroll was beloved by all.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Mildred Geisler, Mrs. Marion Tierney and Mrs. Verna Murphy of Kingston; two brothers, Thomas of Troy and Frank Carroll of Port Ewen; a sister, Mrs. Mary Healey of Kingston, and five grandchildren.

Mrs. Carroll, formerly Bertha Harlow, died on June 30, 1937.

His parents were the late Thomas and Mary Carroll, and he was a native of Kingston.

Serving Fish Fillets

Want to give fish fillets the glamour treatment? Serve them with cream sauce into which you have stirred diced cooked shrimp. You'll need about a half cup of the diced shrimp for a cup of medium sauce, and this amount of the shrimp sauce will be enough for four portions of the fillets. Sprinkle with minced parsley before serving!

9:12—Secreetary of Agriculture Benson.

9:15—Postmaster General Summerfield.

9:30—Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

10:25—Secretary of Commerce Weeks.

Secretary of Interior McKay didn't make it. He was confined to his bed with influenza.

Told to Stay Home

Mrs. McKay told a reporter that her husband developed a cold yesterday, after attending the inaugural ball the night before, and felt so bad by this morning that she summoned a doctor. The doctor gave McKay a dose of penicillin and directed that he remain in bed.

She said the doctor told her that McKay may be able to attend the first Eisenhower cabinet meeting tomorrow, but probably should not do any regular work in his new post until next week.

The White House announced that tomorrow's cabinet meeting will be at 10 a. m.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty replied that he did not know when asked whether Charles E. Wilson, Eisenhower's choice for secretary of defense, would attend.

The propriety of Wilson's taking the post has been questioned by some senators because of his large holdings in General Motors stock.

General Motors has billions of dollars worth of defense contracts.

Thus far, Eisenhower has held back from formally nominating Wilson for the cabinet while informal efforts have gone forward to reach some understanding about the matter.

Hagerty said five officials outside the cabinet would attend tomorrow's meeting and all future cabinet meetings. They are Vice President Nixon, Sherman Adams, the President's chief assistant; Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, federal security administrator, Mutual Security Director Harold E. Stassen and Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge. Dodge was sworn in today.

Hagerty also told reporters that Eisenhower has received some 6,500 messages of congratulations on his inauguration. He said there were about 300 cables from the heads of foreign governments and other persons abroad.

Soon after Eisenhower reached his office, he had a 15-minute conference with his staff to begin the working day.

One matter of immediate concern is his state of the union speech.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Jan. 22 (AP) — The stock market dragged along slowly today with prices moving only slightly in an irregular pattern.

Volume was a shade better than yesterday (when trading was at a new low for the year to date) but the difference largely reflected big block sales at the opening.

Motor and aircraft shares steadied and recovered most of their small early losses. Chemicals were under pressure. Oils gained a trifle. Other groups were mixed.

Biggest block at the opening was one of 22,500 shares of Reynolds Tobacco "B" off ⅛ at 42⅛. Curtiss-Wright advanced ⅛ on a block of 3,400 shares at the start and then climbed another ¼ to 9 in later trading. The company reported sharply increased sales and earnings for 1952.

Douglas Aircraft was up ¾ at 64¼. It also had a favorable earnings report. Texas Pacific Land Trust rose 2 points, following its advance of 5 points yesterday. The company was widely reported to be planning a stock split.

On the upside were Bethlehem Steel, Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, Distillers Corp., Radio Corp., Consolidated Edison, International Nickel, Air Reduction, Philip Morris, Southern Railway, New York, Chicago & St. Louis, Sinclair Oil, Standard Oil (N. J.), Texas Co., Warner Bros., and U. S. Gypsum.

KING-SIZE SMOKERS—It's a towering job for M/Sgt. Joe D. Woods, of Oklahoma City, Okla., to offer a smoke to his king-size friends of the 299th Ordnance Base Depot at Tomioka, Japan. M/Sgt. Woods is only a scant five feet, one inch tall with his shoes on. M/Sgt. Edward J. Strner, left, of Pasadena, Calif., and Pfc. Leonard Reindel, of Cleveland, Ohio, each reach an altitude of six feet, seven inches.

WRONG MAN, RIGHT MEDAL—Pvt. Walter N. Johnson, of Creeley, Neb., at right, looks slightly dazed upon being congratulated by Maj.-Gen. Pridi Dhappong Davakul, back to camera, Thailand's delegate on the UN Commission for the Unification and Rehabilitation of Korea. Johnson was flown to Seoul to receive the Silver Medal of the Crown of Thailand, for an action in which he never took part. Because of an error in translation the Army called the wrong Johnson from the lines. The correct Johnson will receive another medal, and Walter will keep his as a souvenir.

Vampires Believed to Be Ghosts

Vampires were formerly believed to be ghosts who left dead bodies at night to suck the blood of living persons and it was believed such activity could be controlled by driving a stake through the dead body.

Parade of Bands Is Set Tonight With Big Program

Twenty-one bands and orchestras, 10 vocalists and 12 featured soloists will be among the bevy of entertainers highlighting the fourth annual Parade of Bands show for the March of Dimes tonight at municipal auditorium starting at 8 o'clock.

Additional performers were announced this morning by Mike Marchuk, secretary of Local 215, American Federation of Musicians and Dick McCarthy, who will be master of ceremonies for the big program.

KHS Band Concert

The Kingston High School band, under the baton of Marlin Morrette, will render a concert starting at 8 p. m. and continuing until 8:30 p. m.

Other new entertainers listed today were Ruth Murray, Bill Livingston, Vivian Lord and Jan Rogers and the Three Starlets.

Also appearing tonight will be one of Kingston's young favorites, Tony Amato.

Scheduled for personal appearances and brief talks on the program are Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Alderman-at-Large Joe Kelly, Judge John M. Cashin, who has consented to play the drums and offer a solo; Attorney Fred Stang, District Attorney Howard St. John and Attorney Thomas Plunket.

"Tonight's program should go down into history as the best ever sponsored by our Local Musicians Union and WKNY," was the comment today of Attorney William Kelly, chapter chairman of the March of Dimes and Addison Jones, campaign chairman.

"A lot of work has been done by these two groups in order to arrange for the personal appearances of the bands and vocalists who are all donating their services free of charge," they added.

Late Bulletin

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP) — President Eisenhower, sticking by his view that Charles E. Wilson is the man for secretary of defense, touched off a series of conferences today aimed to see finally if a way can be cleared for Wilson to take the job.

One such meeting was a gathering of Senate Republican leader Taft, Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, and Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) in Taft's capitol office.

Byrd, coming out of this meeting, told reporters he thought Wilson could "qualify" if Wilson would sell his General Motors stock, reported to be worth more than 2½ million dollars at present market prices.

Byrd said he has no information as to whether Wilson would or would not sell his stock.

Different Size Saucepans

Most pressure saucepans are about four-quart capacity. But there are some of these convenient utensils that are about two-and-on-half quarts; these hold enough of most vegetables for a small family. For meats, the four-quart utensil is usually most satisfactory.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Retail beef prices, particularly f chuck and rib roasts, were rimmed in many food stores this eek. Lamb and veal were ir-egularly higher and pork was enerally unchanged except where oin roasts were reduced as shop-ing specials.

Chicken prices steadied follow-ng declines in the past couple of eeks. Eggs showed little hange. And a handful of fresh egetables moved higher as ad-erse weather slowed shipments rom some growing areas.

The beef roasts appeared to be he most popular items this week or special pricing to attract cus-omers. Reductions ranged as nuch as 10 cents a pound on bone-ess chuck pot roasts, and to 6 ents on prime ribs. A major hain in one area slashed sirloin teak prices 16 cents a pound and nother marked both sirloin and orterhouse down 12 cents.

Heavier Beef Supply

Back of these price cuts was a eavier beef supply. At the be-inning of this month there was 6 per cent more cattle being fat-tened in midwestern feed lots than a year ago. Storage stocks of beef were up to 263 million pounds against 206 million a year ago. Twenty per cent more cattle was slaughtered during the first half year of January than in the same period last year.

By contrast, the prospective hog supply was down 11 per cent from a year ago because of a smaller fall pig crop, and there were 7 per cent fewer lambs being fattened for market on January 1 than a year ago. Retail advances in these meats were slowed chiefly because of the competition from lower beef.

Shoppers could still find legs of lamb, lamb chops and some pork roasts being featured at reduced prices here and there, however, as market price-makers sought to offer a variety of meat specials. Good buys in frying chickens, smoked or picnic hams, bacon, frying chickens and turkeys also were being featured in a few areas.

Eggs Meet Demand

The supply of eggs was reported just about in balance with the overall demand. The authoritative egg market reporting firm, Urner-Barry Co. of New York, said the retail stores were buying on a hand-to-mouth basis at wholesale because they remembered last January's exceptionally low prices and expected a similar trend this year. However, frozen eggs are scarcer now and big packers with heavy commitments are buying eggs in the country at prices which prevent any notable declines in metropolitan markets, the company said.

The Agriculture Department said large eggs deserve consumer attention at this time of the year when temperatures are low enough to maintain top quality and production is rising seasonally.

Vegetables Unchanged

Fresh vegetables were about unchanged pricewise this week except for collards, cucumbers, eggplant, endive, and squash which advanced slightly, and beets, cauliflower and tomatoes which were down a bit. Cabbage, lettuce, carrots, celery and escarole were feature favorites in many places. Some dealers said cabbage was barely paying its way through harvesting and distributing processes.

In fresh fruits, California navel oranges were in the best buy class in most cities. Tangerines cost a little more after last week's low prices stimulated heavy consumer buying. Grapefruit and Florida oranges were being featured as good cold-weather foods, and some markets were cooperating with western pear growers in promoting both Bosc and Anjou pears.

Larger supplies of Santa Rosa plums, peaches, nectarines and honeydew melons from Chile were appearing in stores throughout the east and midwest, along with Cuban watermelons and Puerto Rican and Cuban pineapples.

Highland, Jan. 21—Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Yates, celebrated her fifth birthday Wednesday afternoon by entertaining five friends, Sara Jones, Katherine Kirk, Sandra and Mary Gersch, and Pamela Wood. She received presents and they all enjoyed games and refreshments.

Founder's Day was observed by Chapter A, PEO, Thursday night at the home of Mrs. John F. Wadlin. Mrs. William Lais presided and substitute officers were Mrs. William Pland, Mrs. Robert Cole and Mrs. Richard Lent. Those taking part in the short play representing six of the seven founders were Mrs. Franklin Welker, Mrs. Harry Swift, Mrs. Jerome Hurd, Mrs. Charles Patrick, Mrs. J. C. Wygant, Mrs. Arthur Clarke. Ten years had passed since the organization and one of the young ladies had died. The founders had formed the Sisterhood as they finished their college in Mt. Pleasant, Ia., on Jan. 21, 1869. The closing ceremony of lighting the candles in their memory was done by each one representing the original young women. Two birthdays, Mrs. William Lais and Mrs. Edgar Boyce, were observed by individual birthday cakes.

Women Composers formed the subject of the Music Study program Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Myron Hazen. Mrs. William Maynard opened with a talk on the subject. With Mrs. Oliver Kent at the piano Mrs. William Lais sang, Ho, Mr. Piper, composed by Pearl G. Curran; reading on Women Composers, Mrs. Hazen; piano solo, Holiday, by Ethel Ponce, Mrs. Albert Thompson; with Mrs. Thompson at the piano Mrs. W. Irving Clarke sang two numbers, I Passed by Your Window, by May H. Brahe, and Kashmiri Song, Amy Woodforde Finden; two numbers composed by Carrie Jacobs Bond were given as piano solos by Mrs. Nathan Williams. The meeting on Feb. 3 will be with Mrs. W. H. Maynard when Popular and Modern Music is the subject and Mrs. Albert Thompson the program chairman.

Mrs. Alex Raycraft was installed president of the Mission Circle of the Presbyterian Church by the outgoing president, Mrs. Edgar Boyce, at the meeting on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Raycraft. Serving with her for this year are Mrs. Boyce, vice-president; Miss Eliza Raymond, secretary; Mrs. Nathan Williams, assistant; Mrs. Bertram Cottine, treasurer; Mrs. A. A. Mullen, secretary of Literature; Mrs. Harry Needham, secretary for Foreign Missions; Mrs. Andrew W. Lent, secretary Missionary Education; Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb, secretary Stewardship and Spiritual Life; Mrs. M. P. Busch, assistant; Mrs. Albert Thompson, secretary Social Education in Action; Mrs. Lent, secretary National Missions; Mrs. Louis E. Smith secretary Christian Education; Mrs. Harriet Upright, secretary National and Overseas sewing; Mrs. Walter Clark, assistant; Mrs. Fred Lewis Vail, secretary of membership; Mrs. Elliott Johnson, secretary of children and young peoples' advisor; Mrs. Williams, pianist; Mrs. Rathgeb, North River Presbyterial president. The members are collecting clothing in response to the need in Korea. Bundles may be left in cartons in the vestibule of the Presbyterian Church Sunday.

The Rev. Grant Miller, Waterville, will occupy the pulpit of the Presbyterian Church Sunday morning as a candidate.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Howard, Glens Falls, drove here during the weekend to the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lent.

The UD Society will meet Saturday afternoon with Mrs. Charles C. Whittaker.

The large frame house on the Milton road known by older residents as the Capt. Bowen house, later as the Smedes house and lastly the property of Irving Rathgeb has been moved from its foundation to an adjoining lot, so that its former location will become a parking lot for the Grand Union market which will occupy the former Rathgeb Knitting mill.

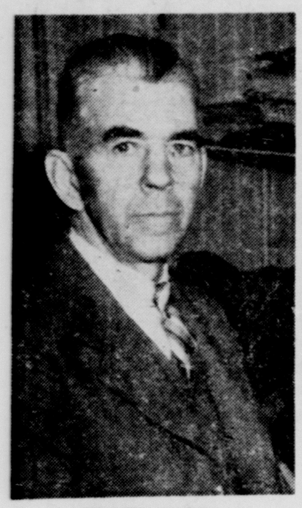
Elected Director



PRATT BOICE

Pratt Boice, president of the Ulster County Savings Institution, was elected a director of Institutional Securities Corporation at its annual meeting yesterday, it was announced by Robert E. Pratt, president. Institutional Securities is wholly owned by the savings banks of New York state and is engaged primarily in the fields of mortgage investment and servicing.

Earnings of $222,743 or $2.23 per share were reported by Pratt for 1952. These figures compare with $203,690 or $2.04 per share for 1951, and this is the fifth consecutive year of improved earnings. The increase in net income, which before taxes amounted to $413,510 versus $367,898 in 1951 is attributable almost entirely to fees derived from the increased volume of savings banks' investments being managed by the corporation for the account of its savings bank stockholders, Pratt said. Dividends of $1 per share or $100,000 were paid during the year, and interest of $1,293,594.16 was paid on the corporation's $42,495,000 debentures held by savings banks.

At the end of 1952 Institutional reported $285,691,000 of investments being managed by the savings banks as compared with $275,279,000 the year before.

Brooklyn Man, 43, Sentenced to Die For Hiring Three

Albany, Jan. 22 (AP)—A Brooklyn manufacturer is to die in the electric chair, the week of March 9 for hiring men to set the fire in his garment shop that caused the death of a detective.

Two of the alleged arsonists also were killed in the blaze.

The first-degree murder conviction of Al Keshner, 43, was upheld by the Court of Appeals yesterday, 6-1. Associate Judge Edmund H. Lewis dissented and urged a new trial.

The court ordered Keshner's execution at Sing Sing Prison the week of March 9.

A General Sessions court jury convicted him in Manhattan last May 15 in the death of New York city Detective James Daggett.

Daggett was killed by an explosion in a factory loft on Sept. 10, 1951. He was investigating a report that the shop would be set on fire.

Hired Three Men

Keshner admitted he had hired three men for $1,350 to fire his fifth-floor plant. He said he had hoped to collect $20,000 in insurance. But he contended he was innocent of premeditated murder.

The alleged arsonists who perished in the fire were Morris Shapiro and Jacob Weiss. The third man named by Keshner, Jacob Mayron, a 59-year-old trucker's helper, was tried with Keshner and acquitted.

Another decision yesterday by the state's highest court set the stage for a U. S. Supreme Court test of the constitutionality of a New York city law requiring that policemen give 30 days' notice of their intent to retire.

Law Is Upheld

The Court of Appeals upheld the law unanimously last Dec. 4. Its action yesterday amended the record to certify that a constitutional question had been involved. This permits an appeal to the Supreme Court.

The city council approved the law in 1951, after many policemen had retired suddenly, before or after they testified before a special Brooklyn grand jury investigating the bookie ring operated by Harry Gross.

Two policemen, Walter A. Gorman and Edward Rogers Jr., contended the act was unconstitutional. The test case was asked by police line organizations, who maintained that the measure affected pension rights of about 10,000 members of the force.

Robbers Strip Cabbie

San Francisco (AP)—Not only did his two youthful fares hold up the cab driver, they also took every stitch of his clothing, including his false teeth and $20 of his own money, both of which were stuffed in his clothes. The cabbie went to a nearby back door and tapped on a window. The housewife, averting her eyes, handed him a burlap sack, exchanged later for a bathrobe. A short time later a police prowl car found the abandoned cab containing the clothes, the hidden $20 bill—and the false teeth.

Animals Have a Friend

Goshen, N. Y. (AP) — The small animals and birds of the Niantic, Conn., area have gained a good friend in Miss Ella H. Pope, school librarian here for 21 years, who recently retired and moved there. Merchants Going Out Hard For Installment Business

New York, Jan. 21 (AP)—Merchants report that much of the record Christmas and post-yule buying has been done on the cuff.

Some retailers are going out hard for this kind of business. And in the New York area one personal credit firm is running a mobile unit from neighborhood to neighborhood to make it convenient to borrow.

Makers and collectors of installment loans predict a still further swelling in the total of consumer credit—which the Department of Commerce notes today is at a record high of around 23 billion dollars.

The Commerce Department survey says consumer debt jumped three billion dollars since March and that the proportion of buyers using credit appears to be expanding.

Executives of credit agencies contend this isn't harmful, because the country is prosperous—and debt totals always rise when times are good.

They explain that when jobs are easy to find as now, the more money a man has in his pockets from higher paychecks, the more likely he is to take on the burden of weekly or monthly payments to get something he wants.

Installment debt for autos, home appliances and other consumer goods is approaching 16 billion dollars. But the argument that it is okay runs this way:

Paychecks Higher

A million more people have jobs now than a year ago. The average factory weekly paycheck has gone up 13 per cent in two years. The total of wages and salaries—the source of payments of most installment debts—is now around 200 billion dollars a year, nearly three times what it was before World War 2. The percentage of total personal income after taxes owed for time payments is not as high now as before the war.

The Commerce Department's observation that the proportion of buyers using credit is expanding brings out an answer by the head of one of the largest consumer credit companies — Arthur O. Dietz, president of C.I.T. Financial Corp.

He contends: Consumer debt is spread out among more families (and more prosperous families) than before the war, and is therefore no threat to the economy.

This spread is due to a general leveling off of incomes in recent years, and the rise of many lower-income families up the pay ladder.

Middle Class Mainstay

Middle income families—those making between $2,000 and $7,500 a year—are the mainstay of the installment debt industry, Dietz holds.

He reasons that in 1935 most of the 1½ billion dollars of installment debt was distributed among 13 million middle-income families, or 45 per cent of the total number of American families.

Now there are about 26 million families, or 65 per cent of the total, in that group and carrying the largest share of the 16 billion dollars of debt.

The average debt of the families is much higher now than in 1935. But Dietz argues that in 1935 the average income within the group was closer to the $2,000 end of the bracket, and is now much higher—meaning the group is "in excellent financial condition to carry the obligations they have contracted for."

American families used around 50 billion dollars of consumer credit in 1952 in buying some 215 billion dollars worth of goods and services, Dietz says. They still owe around 23 billion dollars. Consumer credit includes installment debt, plus charge accounts, single payment loans of banks, and service credits.

But like many bankers, Dietz warns merchants against overpromotion of credit selling. He says that too liberal terms to dubious customers "are snares which entrap not only the over-optimistic purchaser but also the over-optimistic store owner."

Desmond Objects To Bill's Repeal

Albany, Jan. 22 (AP)—The author of the state's pre-martial examination law said today that "syphilis has been virtually wiped out in upstate New York," and that the State Health Department had asked him to consider repeal of the act.

But Sen. Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican, added "at this time I am inclined to oppose repeal."

Desmond said the health department had asked him to consider repeal of the 1938 law at the current session of the Legislature.

He said latest statistics showed that outside New York city "only 34 previously unknown cases of infectious syphilis were discovered in 110,000 examinations of prospective brides and bridegrooms."

"New York city apparently has not had the same drop," he added.

But, Desmond said, the basic principle of a physical examination for prospective brides and bridegrooms is sound regardless of the decline in syphilis.

Desmond said, however, that he was asking medical and hygiene groups to study the proposal and give their advice.

Ellenville Man Held in Gun Count

New York, Jan. 22 (Special)—David Davis, 24, of Ellenville, was arraigned in Felony Court here Wednesday and charged with violation of the Sullivan law.

Davis, a gun dealer, was arrested late Monday night near 68 Lexington avenue here by Detective Frank Leonard of the 13th Squad. The officer accused the Ellenville man of having without a permit a .38 calibre Smith and Weston pistol, a .45 Colt and a Belgian automatic pistol in a bag located in the trunk compartment of his car. The detective's attention was attracted to the car when one of the guns went off accidently.

Davis was paroled by Magistrate Samuel Ohringer, pending a hearing set for February 4.

Polio Patients Get Care At Buffalo Institute

Buffalo, Jan. 22 (AP)—Three polio patients flown from New York city were receiving treatments today at the respiratory center of the Chronic Disease Research Institute of the University of Buffalo.

They arriver here last night in a military air transport service plane from Mitchel Air Force Base and were taken immediately to the respiratory center. They are:

The Rev. Kevin Walsh, 28, of Buffalo, stricken while serving at a Roman Catholic mission outside Sao Paulo, Brazil; Joseph Lehane, 20, of Brooklyn, and Anthony Derise, 20, of Long Island City, Queens.

The flight was the 100th air movement of polio patients by the military air transport service.

Bomb Kills 11

Berlin, Jan. 22 (AP)—Eyewitnesses reported today that the explosion of a wartime German bomb at a Soviet zone airfield near Berlin killed at least 11 persons—including several Russian soldiers—and injured more than 20 others. The witnesses said the blast occurred yesterday at the Oranienburg Airfield, 20 miles north of Berlin, during an attempt to de-fuse the bomb, said to have been discovered when the landing strip was being repaired.

Shoots Self in Back

Bronxville, N. Y., Jan. 22 (AP)—A motorist, chased a mile over icy streets before dawn today, shot himself in the back when two patrolmen cornered him on a dead-end street here. Taken to Lawrence Hospital, where his condition was described as serious, he said he was a navy veteran, but refused any further identification. He told police he had no relatives.

Pope Is Ill

Vatican City, Jan. 22 (AP)—An attack of influenza and fever confined Pope Pius XII to bed today. All his audiences were suspended temporarily. The Vatican press office reported that the 77-year-old pontiff's temperature was about 100 degrees. After his call today, Dr. Riccardo Galeazzilisi said there was "no cause for concern." The pontiff's illness, he explained, was a "normal case of influenza."

Crow's Nest Used to Trim Trees

You'd never expect to find a ship's crow's nest in use this far from the bounding main, but tree trimming crews of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation are getting used to that part of a sailor's life. The dry-land sailors of Central Hudson are getting a birds'-eye view of the area in the latest addition to the company's truck fleet—three new chrome yellow line trucks, geared primarily for tree trimming and for inspecting, splicing and repairing aerial cables and overhead lines.

The trucks provide the utility company's newly-organized tree trimming crews with the most modern of trimming tools. Each truck is equipped with an octopus-like tentacle that can reach into and around trees and power lines. The non-tipping, waist-high crows' nests ride on the end of the boom or arm. Each bucket, or crow's nest, is equipped with standard safety belts, and enables the men to work at heights up to 40 feet, face in any direction and have both hands free at all times.

One man and a driver operate each truck's equipment. They replace a six-man crew and foreman normally used in tree-trimming operations. The boom or arm eliminates time-consuming shifting and lashing of ladders and will carry men to places where ladders cannot reach.

Controls for the boom are mounted on one of the buckets. The trimmers work from the buckets with pneumatically-driven saws and trimming shears that will cut branches up to three inches in diameter, requiring only the pushing of a lever on the handle of the tool.

The three trucks are in daily use and operate together as a unit. They work out of Central Hudson's new material headquarters and storage depot at Elting's Corners, near Ohioville.

Calls It 'Frame-Up'

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—A Communist statement charges that the trial of 13 second-string party leaders, convicted of conspiracy yesterday, was "an elaborate frame-up." The statement also calls the trial "a criminal proceeding in form but a political trial in fact  designed to outlaw opponents of a bi-partisan pro-war policy." A Communist party aide, issuing the statement, said it was authorized by Elizabeth Gurley Flynn in behalf of herself and her 12 fellow defendants.

Proposal Approved

Paris, Jan. 22 (AP)—The French Cabinet approved a proposal by Rene Mayer today to ask additional funds for the treasury from the Bank of France. The government, if Parliament approves, was expected to ask the bank to raise its legal ceiling of permanent advances to the state by 25 billion francs ($71,400,000) while at the same time seeking a further loan of the same amount, to be repaid in three months.

Praises Inauguration Talk

Taipeh, Formosa, Jan. 22 (AP)—President Chiang Kai-shek today described President Eisenhower's inaugural address as "the first ray of hope to mankind since the end of the last World War." Chiang, who hopes to see his Chinese Nationalist forces return to the China mainland, told the Associated Press in an interview: "The address reflects unmistakable courage, confidence and determination. It breathes like a living thing with the spirit of justice and righteousness. It was the address of a statesman of towering stature, a statesman conscious of his responsibility not only to the people of the United States but to all the free peoples of the world —and to those who would be free. "I firmly believe," he said, "that under President Eisenhower's leadership the confidence of the peoples of the free world in America's ability to lead and unite them will be restored."

Desmond Objects To Bill's Repeal

Albany, Jan. 22 (AP)—The author of the state's pre-martial examination law said today that "syphilis has been virtually wiped out in upstate New York," and that the State Health Department had asked him to consider repeal of the act.

But Sen. Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican, added "at this time I am inclined to oppose repeal."

Desmond said the health department had asked him to consider repeal of the 1938 law at the current session of the Legislature.

He said latest statistics showed that outside New York city "only 34 previously unknown cases of infectious syphilis were discovered in 110,000 examinations of prospective brides and bridegrooms."

"New York city apparently has not had the same drop," he added.

But, Desmond said, the basic principle of a physical examination for prospective brides and bridegrooms is sound regardless of the decline in syphilis.

Desmond said, however, that he was asking medical and hygiene groups to study the proposal and give their advice.

Ellenville Man Held in Gun Count

New York, Jan. 22 (Special)—David Davis, 24, of Ellenville, was arraigned in Felony Court here Wednesday and charged with violation of the Sullivan law.

Davis, a gun dealer, was arrested late Monday night near 68 Lexington avenue here by Detective Frank Leonard of the 13th Squad. The officer accused the Ellenville man of having without a permit a .38 calibre Smith and Weston pistol, a .45 Colt and a Belgian automatic pistol in a bag located in the trunk compartment of his car. The detective's attention was attracted to the car when one of the guns went off accidently.

Davis was paroled by Magistrate Samuel Ohringer, pending a hearing set for February 4.

National Guard Officers Arrive At Pennsylvania State Prison

Bellefonte, Pa., Jan. 22 (AP)—Five officers of Pennsylvania's national guard arrived at Rockview State Penitentiary today amid rumors that soldiers would join state police and prison guards in a united effort to end the four-day rebellion of 325 prisoners.

State officials declined to comment on whether a force of guardsmen would be brought to the riot-torn prison. Nor would they reply to questions as to whether a move to storm the barricaded cell block where the men are holding out is being considered.

The move followed shortly after rebel convicts, holding six prison guards as hostages, offered to exchange one of the hostages for another guard.

Earlier an ominous calm hung over the prison with the convicts sitting tight in their barricaded cellblock.

INFLUENZA ON THE MARCH—Apparently beginning in southern Colorado, influenza and other winter respiratory infections are moving in a three-pronged offensive to the east, north and south as shown on Newsmap above. In many communities the number stricken reached epidemic proportions. Abatement of the epidemic was hindered by shortages of doctors and nurses. The Red Cross blood bank at Omaha rejected from 40 to 50 per cent of all volunteer blood donors because of the ailment—about double the normal rate of rejections. At epidemic's peak in Shelby County, Tenn., 17,000 out of 86,000 students were stricken. Most cases are of the "mild" virus infections, but influenza killed two persons in Texas.

Flu-Like Spread

flu in Bavaria this week resulted in nine deaths at Munich, filled the city's hospitals and closed 27 school rooms.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp, announced it is giving flu shots to its 44,000 employes in Pittsburgh, Aliquippa, Pa., and Cleveland Mills, at its New York and Michigan ore mines and at various fabricating plants throughout the country. The treatments are voluntary.

In Ohio where the incidence so far is low, Ohio State University is planning a voluntary flu immunization program to run through next week.

Vaccine Used in Syracuse

Vaccine also was administered at the Syracuse (N. Y.) School for Mental Defectives and at the Cook County Jail in Chicago.

The reports indicate at least one type flu "bug—a-prime—is responsible for some of the outbreaks. Some health authorities believe several types of minor infections are involved in school shutdowns or heavy absenteeism in several parts of the country.

Dr. A. M. Washburn, head of the Communicable Diseases Department of the Arkansas Board of Health, said the outbreak "definitely is an epidemic" in that state. He added it is difficult to determine which cases are true influenza.

Worst Since World War 1

George Cox, state health officer in Texas, said the flu outbreak in that state is the worst since World War I. He added that the disease is about at its peak and should start declining next week.

Dr. R. H. Hutcheson, Tennessee Health Commissioner, said 2,127 cases were reported last week and that all sections of the state are affected.

A mild form of influenza was widespread over Minnesota. Alabama reported more than 2,000 flu cases last week compared with 190 in the line period of 1952. The Louisiana Health Department estimated 45,000 persons ill with flu in the four hardest hit parishes (counties) in the northeast part of the state.

A shortage of some drugs to combat respiratory diseases was reported in some St. Louis distribution centers as a result of an outbreak in that city.

Omaha Firemen Hit

Although no widespread school closings were reported in Nebraska, the Omaha fire department was hard hit and had to shift manpower to keep its companies fully manned.

Iowa reported a "fairly heavy incidence" of a mild type of flu evenly distributed over the state. Schools were closed in several western Wisconsin towns because of abnormally high absenteeism. The Kansas Board of Health reported 6,574 flu cases so far this year with 6,217 coming in the week ended Jan. 17.

Virus infections were blamed for school absenteeisms in parts of Idaho, California, Kentucky and Colorado.

There were some indications the outbreaks had passed their peak in parts of Illinois, Indiana, South Carolina, Colorado, Utah, Oklahoma and Missouri.

Dr. Charles L. Wilbar, Jr., Hawaii Department of Health president, said 580 flu cases were reported in Oahu Island and the "incidence is great enough to call it an epidemic.

In Marana, Ariz., the city's school with an enrollment of 850 was closed most of this week with some 400 students and a number of teachers ill with influenza. In Tucson, public school officials said absences due to illness was about normal, with flu cases decreasing. An increase in absences was noted at Flagstaff's public schools yesterday, with 400 students of an enrollment of 2,500 missing classes.

city and brought it to Washington.

Tampering Charged

Adelburt Schroeder, assistant general counsel of the railroad, testified "it seems very plausible" that the Kingston failure resulted from tampering with the brakes at Boston just before the trip started. J. W. Moyer, fireman on the train, said it "would be my idea" that there had been tampering with the brakes at Baltimore—the last stop the train made before Washington.

Neither man suggested a possible motive.

One announced objective of the inquiry is to determine whether railroads should be required to equip their trains with new safety devices including electronic brakes. Tobey indicated he is going to press for action on a bill to do so.

46,000 Wells Sunk

New York (AP)—The American oil industry sank 46,000 new wells in 1952, says Steelways magazine. Describing the problems of drillers, the magazine says that a deep exploration well may cost as much as a million dollars although there is only one chance in 16 that it will find even a small oil reservoir. Chances of finding a medium field of oil, capable of supplying the nation for a week, are only one in 330, says the magazine.

Mystery of Missing

se E. Smiths—as the mystery of the family's five-week-old absence deepens.

Inside stand the gaily trimmed Christmas tree and the new television set the family of four left behind Dec. 18, telling a neighbor they would be back three days later.

Sheriff W. Mills Miller of Otsego county said yesterday efforts to trace the Smiths had proved fruitless and that he had found no explanation for their continued absence.

Norman Palmer, a neighbor, said Smith, about 40, his wife Lucy, and their children—Howard, 7, and Veronica, 4—took no luggage when they left in their truck a week before Christmas.

Palmer said the Smiths told him they were going to drive 180 miles "back to the Bronx"—but would return Dec. 21.

The neighbor made his report to county authorities last Monday. He said Smith, a hay dealer, left a dog, a calf and three chickens in his care.

Palmer said the Smiths had been buying the farm from him for $40 a month, and had paid him $100 just before they left.

The Smiths had the house wired for electricity and purchased the TV set early in December.

State police said today they had not been called in on the case, nor had they sent out any alarm.

What few clues there were came from the holiday cards and other letters that have accumulated.

Lived in Bronx

On leads from return addresses, it was learned last night that the Smiths had once lived at 2241 Webster avenue in the Bronx, where Smith had been the building superintendent.

A Brooklyn woman, traced from the address on a Christmas card, said Smith had worked with her husband three years ago as an engineer at the Roosevelt Hotel in Manhattan.

An engine-room employe at the hotel recalled that Smith had left there about three years ago "for a better job."

One letter was from Smith's mother Mrs. Effie H. Smith of Trenton, Fla. She was unable to give any reason for the family's absence.

Another letter written Jan. 16, from a Dorothy Jacobson, 133 East Park avenue, Long Beach, L. I., inquiring "why haven't you been writing me?"

Boys Take Crack at Safe

Portland, Ore. (AP)—A couple of boys, aged 9 and 10, were surprised recently by a company employe who caught the pair busily trying to break open a safe with a hammer and screwdriver. In their midnight foray in the sporting goods store the boys had originally planned to steal a bow and arrow set but when the safe was spotted they decided to have a crack at it. They claimed the job was masterminded by an "old-timer," a 13-year-old who waited outside.

About 3¼ million tons of lignite was produced in the United States in 1951.

National Guard Officers Arrive At Pennsylvania State Prison

Bellefonte, Pa., Jan. 22 (AP)—Five officers of Pennsylvania's national guard arrived at Rockview State Penitentiary today amid rumors that soldiers would join state police and prison guards in a united effort to end the four-day rebellion of 325 prisoners.

State officials declined to comment on whether a force of guardsmen would be brought to the riot-torn prison. Nor would they reply to questions as to whether a move to storm the barricaded cell block where the men are holding out is being considered.

The move followed shortly after rebel convicts, holding six prison guards as hostages, offered to exchange one of the hostages for another guard.

Earlier an ominous calm hung over the prison with the convicts sitting tight in their barricaded cellblock.

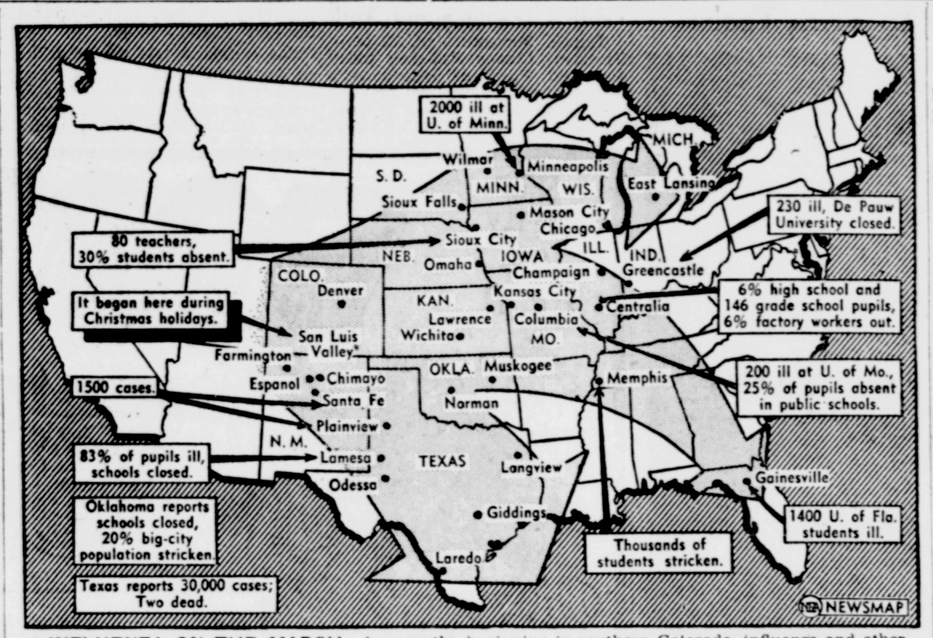
Rotting of wood is always caused by fungi.



INFLUENZA ON THE MARCH—Apparently beginning in southern Colorado, influenza and other winter respiratory infections are moving in a three-pronged offensive to the east, north and south as shown on Newsmap above. In many communities the number stricken reached epidemic proportions. Abatement of the epidemic was hindered by shortages of doctors and nurses. The Red Cross blood bank at Omaha rejected from 40 to 50 per cent of all volunteer blood donors because of the ailment—about double the normal rate of rejections. At epidemic's peak in Shelby County, Tenn., 17,000 out of 86,000 students were stricken. Most cases are of the "mild" virus infections, but influenza killed two persons in Texas.

Flu-Like Spread

flu in Bavaria this week resulted in nine deaths at Munich, filled the city's hospitals and closed 27 school rooms.

The Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp, announced it is giving flu shots to its 44,000 employes in Pittsburgh, Aliquippa, Pa., and Cleveland Mills, at its New York and Michigan ore mines and at various fabricating plants throughout the country. The treatments are voluntary.

In Ohio where the incidence so far is low, Ohio State University is planning a voluntary flu immunization program to run through next week.

Vaccine Used in Syracuse

Vaccine also was administered at the Syracuse (N. Y.) School for Mental Defectives and at the Cook County Jail in Chicago.

The reports indicate at least one type flu "bug—a-prime—is responsible for some of the outbreaks. Some health authorities believe several types of minor infections are involved in school shutdowns or heavy absenteeism in several parts of the country.

Dr. A. M. Washburn, head of the Communicable Diseases Department of the Arkansas Board of Health, said the outbreak "definitely is an epidemic" in that state. He added it is difficult to determine which cases are true influenza.

Worst Since World War 1

George Cox, state health officer in Texas, said the flu outbreak in that state is the worst since World War I. He added that the disease is about at its peak and should start declining next week.

Dr. R. H. Hutcheson, Tennessee Health Commissioner, said 2,127 cases were reported last week and that all sections of the state are affected.

A mild form of influenza was widespread over Minnesota. Alabama reported more than 2,000 flu cases last week compared with 190 in the line period of 1952. The Louisiana Health Department estimated 45,000 persons ill with flu in the four hardest hit parishes (counties) in the northeast part of the state.

A shortage of some drugs to combat respiratory diseases was reported in some St. Louis distribution centers as a result of an outbreak in that city.

Omaha Firemen Hit

Although no widespread school closings were reported in Nebraska, the Omaha fire department was hard hit and had to shift manpower to keep its companies fully manned.

Iowa reported a "fairly heavy incidence" of a mild type of flu evenly distributed over the state. Schools were closed in several western Wisconsin towns because of abnormally high absenteeism. The Kansas Board of Health reported 6,574 flu cases so far this year with 6,217 coming in the week ended Jan. 17.

Virus infections were blamed for school absenteeisms in parts of Idaho, California, Kentucky and Colorado.

There were some indications the outbreaks had passed their peak in parts of Illinois, Indiana, South Carolina, Colorado, Utah, Oklahoma and Missouri.

Dr. Charles L. Wilbar, Jr., Hawaii Department of Health president, said 580 flu cases were reported in Oahu Island and the "incidence is great enough to call it an epidemic.

In Marana, Ariz., the city's school with an enrollment of 850 was closed most of this week with some 400 students and a number of teachers ill with influenza. In Tucson, public school officials said absences due to illness was about normal, with flu cases decreasing. An increase in absences was noted at Flagstaff's public schools yesterday, with 400 students of an enrollment of 2,500 missing classes.

city and brought it to Washington.

Tampering Charged

Adelburt Schroeder, assistant general counsel of the railroad, testified "it seems very plausible" that the Kingston failure resulted from tampering with the brakes at Boston just before the trip started. J. W. Moyer, fireman on the train, said it "would be my idea" that there had been tampering with the brakes at Baltimore—the last stop the train made before Washington.

Neither man suggested a possible motive.

One announced objective of the inquiry is to determine whether railroads should be required to equip their trains with new safety devices including electronic brakes. Tobey indicated he is going to press for action on a bill to do so.

46,000 Wells Sunk

New York (AP)—The American oil industry sank 46,000 new wells in 1952, says Steelways magazine. Describing the problems of drillers, the magazine says that a deep exploration well may cost as much as a million dollars although there is only one chance in 16 that it will find even a small oil reservoir. Chances of finding a medium field of oil, capable of supplying the nation for a week, are only one in 330, says the magazine.

Mystery of Missing

se E. Smiths—as the mystery of the family's five-week-old absence deepens.

Inside stand the gaily trimmed Christmas tree and the new television set the family of four left behind Dec. 18, telling a neighbor they would be back three days later.

Sheriff W. Mills Miller of Otsego county said yesterday efforts to trace the Smiths had proved fruitless and that he had found no explanation for their continued absence.

Norman Palmer, a neighbor, said Smith, about 40, his wife Lucy, and their children—Howard, 7, and Veronica, 4—took no luggage when they left in their truck a week before Christmas.

Palmer said the Smiths told him they were going to drive 180 miles "back to the Bronx"—but would return Dec. 21.

The neighbor made his report to county authorities last Monday. He said Smith, a hay dealer, left a dog, a calf and three chickens in his care.

Palmer said the Smiths had been buying the farm from him for $40 a month, and had paid him $100 just before they left.

The Smiths had the house wired for electricity and purchased the TV set early in December.

State police said today they had not been called in on the case, nor had they sent out any alarm.

What few clues there were came from the holiday cards and other letters that have accumulated.

On leads from return addresses, it was learned last night that the Smiths had once lived at 2241 Webster avenue in the Bronx, where Smith had been the building superintendent.

False Stomachs

New York (AP)—False stomachs for actors playing paunchy, Falstaff-type roles have been developed by a British firm (G. W. Scott & Sons), reports the British Information Service. The same firm invented the picnic basket in 1852, says the report.

The Romans used glass for windows, but there is much debate about how extensively it was used.

Buying Roasting Pan

When you are buying a covered roaster for holiday fowl, make sure that the roaster has good handles. For open-pan roasting, any kind of pan large enough for the meat and deep enough to hold the drippings may be used. A pan about 14 by 10 by 2 inches is a good size for most roasts.

Although kangaroos can grow to be 7 feet tall, they are less than an inch long at birth.

False Stomachs

New York (AP)—False stomachs for actors playing paunchy, Falstaff-type roles have been developed by a British firm (G. W. Scott & Sons), reports the British Information Service. The same firm invented the picnic basket in 1852, says the report.

The Romans used glass for windows, but there is much debate about how extensively it was used.

Buying Roasting Pan

When you are buying a covered roaster for holiday fowl, make sure that the roaster has good handles. For open-pan roasting, any kind of pan large enough for the meat and deep enough to hold the drippings may be used. A pan about 14 by 10 by 2 inches is a good size for most roasts.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

How many folks remember when milk dealers increased a quart of milk from six to seven cents? That was a long time ago, it happened October 1906. Those were the days when milk dealers did not need bottles to any extent. Householders put out containers on front porches with a note saying how many quarts were needed. It seems it was just before World War 1 that the question of pasteurizing all milk to be sold in Kingston was taken up by the Health Board. It was also necessary to require that thorough sterilization of all milk bottles took place, and certain caps had to be used. Perhaps that had something to do with milk going up to around 15 cents a quart at 1943 when the above item was written in the local press. Another item I have states that Dr. Harold Clarke, the local vet, specialist in milk, assumed duties as sanitary inspector in January of 1915, succeeding Frank P. Quigley year before. So no doubt Dr. Clarke has all the data on the milk situation right from the beginning, to now.

I was surprised at the number of people who asked about that D & H Canal distance schedule dated 1855 which was given to me by Mr. McEntee. The printing and condition of the paper surprised those who asked to see it, as it is in perfect condition, and as I said before, really deserving of a frame. From time to time questions come up as to the number of locks and where they were. This paper answers everything and distance between each lock. Each lock had a number, so it seems as they are all numbered on the schedule.

Now with the snows and sleet weather upon us perhaps some folks remember the hard coal strike in the early 1900's which seriously affected our city. According to an item of 1943 it seems the Kingston Coal Co. was not caught napping for it had extra supply of hard coal on hand when the strike broke. The office force the writer mentions consisted of Munroe Burger, Frank R. Powley and William A. Frey. The coal company had a difficult time taking care of all the old and new customers demanding coal so they instituted their own coal rationing so all would have some.

Those were the days when the majority of homes were heated with coal stoves. Remember the big parlor stoves and the mammoth kitchen stoves. The other coal companies at the time were trying to get whatever coal they could and also ration it so that everyone had some. The item, I think was written by the late Harold Van Deusen in his At Century's Turn in 1943 and he also mentions that at the time of his writing, during the war years, when everyone who could had converted their coal stoves to oil were again in trouble. Oil had become scarce and they were again converting from oil to coal. That I remember. But if you go back further yet when there were huge piles of coal stored on the Island Dock, in the years before the dock was used for ship building. I wonder how much a ton of coal was in those days. When the old D & H Canal boats were operating they brought loads of coal constantly right from the Pennsylvania mines.

School Named for Ike

Lander, Pa., Jan. 21 (AP) — A group of rural school board members met here yesterday and quickly decided on a name for a new school to be built in the spring—"The General Eisenhower School." The school will serve several communities in this northern section of Warren county. The school board members organized the north area joint school system at yesterday's inauguration day meeting.

Troops to Get 'Shots'

Frankfurt, Germany, Jan. 21 (AP) —Alarmed by a flu epidemic in the American zone of Germany, U. S. Army authorities made plans today for widespread inoculations among 250,000 American troops. The army's European headquarters at Heidelberg said it did not have figures yet on the number of military personnel hospitalized but scores of soldiers and army civilian employes were reported on the sick list in Frankfurt.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

How many folks remember when milk dealers increased a quart of milk from six to seven cents? That was a long time ago, it happened October 1906. Those were the days when milk dealers did not need bottles to any extent. Householders put out containers on front porches with a note saying how many quarts were needed. It seems it was just before World War 1 that the question of pasteurizing all milk to be sold in Kingston was taken up by the Health Board. It was also necessary to require that thorough sterilization of all milk bottles took place, and certain caps had to be used. Perhaps that had something to do with milk going up to around 15 cents a quart at 1943 when the above item was written in the local press. Another item I have states that Dr. Harold Clarke, the local vet, specialist in milk, assumed duties as sanitary inspector in January of 1915, succeeding Frank P. Quigley year before. So no doubt Dr. Clarke has all the data on the milk situation right from the beginning, to now.

I was surprised at the number of people who asked about that D & H Canal distance schedule dated 1855 which was given to me by Mr. McEntee. The printing and condition of the paper surprised those who asked to see it, as it is in perfect condition, and as I said before, really deserving of a frame. From time to time questions come up as to the number of locks and where they were. This paper answers everything and distance between each lock. Each lock had a number, so it seems as they are all numbered on the schedule.

Now with the snows and sleet weather upon us perhaps some folks remember the hard coal strike in the early 1900's which seriously affected our city. According to an item of 1943 it seems the Kingston Coal Co. was not caught napping for it had extra supply of hard coal on hand when the strike broke. The office force the writer mentions consisted of Munroe Burger, Frank R. Powley and William A. Frey. The coal company had a difficult time taking care of all the old and new customers demanding coal so they instituted their own coal rationing so all would have some.

Those were the days when the majority of homes were heated with coal stoves. Remember the big parlor stoves and the mammoth kitchen stoves. The other coal companies at the time were trying to get whatever coal they could and also ration it so that everyone had some. The item, I think was written by the late Harold Van Deusen in his At Century's Turn in 1943 and he also mentions that at the time of his writing, during the war years, when everyone who could had converted their coal stoves to oil were again in trouble. Oil had become scarce and they were again converting from oil to coal. That I remember. But if you go back further yet when there were huge piles of coal stored on the Island Dock, in the years before the dock was used for ship building. I wonder how much a ton of coal was in those days. When the old D & H Canal boats were operating they brought loads of coal constantly right from the Pennsylvania mines.

School Named for Ike

Lander, Pa., Jan. 21 (AP) — A group of rural school board members met here yesterday and quickly decided on a name for a new school to be built in the spring—"The General Eisenhower School." The school will serve several communities in this northern section of Warren county. The school board members organized the north area joint school system at yesterday's inauguration day meeting.

Troops to Get 'Shots'

Frankfurt, Germany, Jan. 21 (AP) —Alarmed by a flu epidemic in the American zone of Germany, U. S. Army authorities made plans today for widespread inoculations among 250,000 American troops. The army's European headquarters at Heidelberg said it did not have figures yet on the number of military personnel hospitalized but scores of soldiers and army civilian employes were reported on the sick list in Frankfurt.

Bandit Consoles Weeping Cashier

Metuchen, N. J., Jan. 22 (AP)—"Don't cry, I'm as nervous as you are," the bandit consoled the weeping girl cashier as he tied her up.

And then he and an accomplice fled with $565 from the office of the New Jersey Finance Service.

"This is my first job and I hope it's my last," the nervous bandit confided to the cashier, Miss Ellen Garrabrant of Perth Amboy, during the stickup yesterday.

Police said the pair entered the office and asked about a loan. Miss Garrabrant buzzed for the office manager, Harry Young, 48, of 134-39 Blossom avenue, Flushing, N. Y.

Young told them they would have to wait because he was interviewing a client.

One of the bandits whipped out a revolver and went into the manager's office. The other began scooping up the contents of the cash drawer.

The bandit in the manager's office called out:

"How are you making out?"

"I have about $500," was the reply.

"Where's the rest of it," the bandit in the office demanded of the manager. Young told him that was all there was.

The talkative pair then bound Young and Miss Garrabrant. They didn't tie up a woman and her child who were in the office. The pair fled. The woman freed the cashier and manager, and police were called.

This was the third holdup experience for Young in his 15 years with the firm.

England taxed houses according to the number of windows starting in 1696 and ending in 1851, thus inducing home owners to reduce the number of windows in their houses.

Inauguration Gave Boost to Papers

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower's inauguration gave a solid boost to newspaper sales around the country, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Millions viewed the inaugural on television; millions more heard it broadcast on the radio. But, reports from circulation managers disclose, when these millions finally pried themselves loose from video screens and radio sets, many of them turned to newspapers for the complete story.

A check of morning and afternoon dailies in 20 major U. S. cities showed the great majority reporting increased newsstand sales on and immediately after inauguration day. By and large, late afternoon editions did better than those which hit the street around the time the new President was being sworn in. This was the scoreboard:

Twenty-nine newspapers reported "moderate" to "substantial" increases in their circulation figures.

Three said their circulation for the day was lower.

Five said their sales showed little or no change.

Sperm oil, one of the most valuable products of early whaling activity, is not a real oil, but falls into the classification of a liquid wax.

AN OPEN LETTER

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE

WOODSTOCK LIBRARY

During the summer and autumn of the past year, rumors began to spread through the Woodstock community, relating to the possible retirement of our librarian of the past 26 years, Mrs. Alice Thompson. The substance of these rumors was unpleasant, purporting that some of the members of the Board of Trustees were seeking Mrs. Thompson's retirement for reasons of personal animosity.

Now rumors are ugly and dangerous. Not only people who loved Mrs. Thompson, but people who had respected the individual members of the Board for years, became disturbed. Perhaps perfectly sound reasons for Mrs. Thompson's retirement existed, but the rumors suggested that these were not the only ones behind the Board's pending action.

By November 19th, so much suspicion and unease had been aroused, that Mrs. Mary Sigsbee Fischer, Miss Katrina Fischer, and Mrs. Frieda Schutze presented the following petition:

To the Executive Committee and the Board of Trustees of the Woodstock Library:

We believe that a great many people in Woodstock are disturbed over the fact that Mrs. Thompson has been asked to leave the Library in January, 1954. We are wondering whether there could not be a meeting of members called within the next few weeks, so that the pros and cons of the plan could be talked over in a larger group.

While Mrs. Thompson has acquiesced to the idea of the new arrangement, she is not leaving voluntarily: in fact, she would like very much to stay on in her present capacity after 1954, "if there would not be any unpleasantness about it," as she herself put it in a conversation with one of the signers of this letter.

We are sure that the Committee and the Board have tried to act with circumspection, but we feel sure that the question of Mrs. Thompson's retirement should be more carefully discussed. We owe her this after her long, devoted, and unique service to the Library.

(NOTE: Since we have not been able to reach all 58 of the original signers of this petition, to request permission to reprint their names, we are printing none of them.)

It seemed that the Board would be very anxious to call an open membership meeting, both on Mrs. Thompson's behalf and its own. Instead of doing this, however, six of the petition's signers were asked to appear before the Board. (The petition had not asked for this.) These six signers were heard, dismissed, and then ignored. When the Board issued a statement to the press on December 29th, confirming for the first time that indeed it had settled on Mrs. Thompson's removal, it made no mention whatsoever of the fact that not only the above petition, but two additional and quite independent ones (sponsored by Mr. J. C. van Rijn and Mr. Holly Cantine, Jr.) had by this time been received,—all asking for the same meeting.

Meantime, the Board's two dissenting members, Mr. Kaj Klitgaard and Mrs. Julia Leaycraft, invited a small number of interested persons to discuss what still might be done to make the Board recognize its duty. This resulted in two more petitions (the score is now FIVE), the last prepared with legal counsel and citing the Library By-Laws which entitle members to an open meeting. In reply to these, letters have been received from the Board's President which, shrouded in legal verbiage, in effect amount to a refusal to allow a membership meeting on the subject of Mrs. Thompson's status to be called at this time.

We feel that the Board has exceeded its moral rights. Five petitions, signed by an aggregate of almost one hundred members of the Library, should be enough.

Therefore we have come here in the clean light of the public press, and at our own expense, to protest the Board's autocratic behavior and to establish a record of our dismay. At the same time, we would like to remind all the members of the Library that in June, 1953, the annual Member's meeting will give them a chance to demand the Board's full explanation.

And then he and an accomplice fled with $565 from the office of the New Jersey Finance Service.

"This is my first job and I hope it's my last," the nervous bandit confided to the cashier, Miss Ellen Garrabrant of Perth Amboy, during the stickup yesterday.

Police said the pair entered the office and asked about a loan. Miss Garrabrant buzzed for the office manager, Harry Young, 48, of 134-39 Blossom avenue, Flushing, N. Y.

Young told them they would have to wait because he was interviewing a client.

One of the bandits whipped out a revolver and went into the manager's office. The other began scooping up the contents of the cash drawer.

The bandit in the manager's office called out:

"How are you making out?"

"I have about $500," was the reply.

"Where's the rest of it," the bandit in the office demanded of the manager. Young told him that was all there was.

The talkative pair then bound Young and Miss Garrabrant. They didn't tie up a woman and her child who were in the office. The pair fled. The woman freed the cashier and manager, and police were called.

This was the third holdup experience for Young in his 15 years with the firm.

England taxed houses according to the number of windows starting in 1696 and ending in 1851, thus inducing home owners to reduce the number of windows in their houses.

Inauguration Gave Boost to Papers

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower's inauguration gave a solid boost to newspaper sales around the country, an Associated Press survey showed today.

Millions viewed the inaugural on television; millions more heard it broadcast on the radio. But, reports from circulation managers disclose, when these millions finally pried themselves loose from video screens and radio sets, many of them turned to newspapers for the complete story.

A check of morning and afternoon dailies in 20 major U. S. cities showed the great majority reporting increased newsstand sales on and immediately after inauguration day. By and large, late afternoon editions did better than those which hit the street around the time the new President was being sworn in. This was the scoreboard:

Twenty-nine newspapers reported "moderate" to "substantial" increases in their circulation figures.

Three said their circulation for the day was lower.

AN OPEN LETTER

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE

WOODSTOCK LIBRARY

During the summer and autumn of the past year, rumors began to spread through the Woodstock community, relating to the possible retirement of our librarian of the past 26 years, Mrs. Alice Thompson. The substance of these rumors was unpleasant, purporting that some of the members of the Board of Trustees were seeking Mrs. Thompson's retirement for reasons of personal animosity.

Now rumors are ugly and dangerous. Not only people who loved Mrs. Thompson, but people who had respected the individual members of the Board for years, became disturbed. Perhaps perfectly sound reasons for Mrs. Thompson's retirement existed, but the rumors suggested that these were not the only ones behind the Board's pending action.

By November 19th, so much suspicion and unease had been aroused, that Mrs. Mary Sigsbee Fischer, Miss Katrina Fischer, and Mrs. Frieda Schutze presented the following petition:

To the Executive Committee and the Board of Trustees of the Woodstock Library:

We believe that a great many people in Woodstock are disturbed over the fact that Mrs. Thompson has been asked to leave the Library in January, 1954. We are wondering whether there could not be a meeting of members called within the next few weeks, so that the pros and cons of the plan could be talked over in a larger group.

While Mrs. Thompson has acquiesced to the idea of the new arrangement, she is not leaving voluntarily: in fact, she would like very much to stay on in her present capacity after 1954, "if there would not be any unpleasantness about it," as she herself put it in a conversation with one of the signers of this letter.

We are sure that the Committee and the Board have tried to act with circumspection, but we feel sure that the question of Mrs. Thompson's retirement should be more carefully discussed. We owe her this after her long, devoted, and unique service to the Library.

(NOTE: Since we have not been able to reach all 58 of the original signers of this petition, to request permission to reprint their names, we are printing none of them.)

It seemed that the Board would be very anxious to call an open membership meeting, both on Mrs. Thompson's behalf and its own. Instead of doing this, however, six of the petition's signers were asked to appear before the Board. (The petition had not asked for this.) These six signers were heard, dismissed, and then ignored. When the Board issued a statement to the press on December 29th, confirming for the first time that indeed it had settled on Mrs. Thompson's removal, it made no mention whatsoever of the fact that not only the above petition, but two additional and quite independent ones (sponsored by Mr. J. C. van Rijn and Mr. Holly Cantine, Jr.) had by this time been received,—all asking for the same meeting.

Meantime, the Board's two dissenting members, Mr. Kaj Klitgaard and Mrs. Julia Leaycraft, invited a small number of interested persons to discuss what still might be done to make the Board recognize its duty. This resulted in two more petitions (the score is now FIVE), the last prepared with legal counsel and citing the Library By-Laws which entitle members to an open meeting. In reply to these, letters have been received from the Board's President which, shrouded in legal verbiage, in effect amount to a refusal to allow a membership meeting on the subject of Mrs. Thompson's status to be called at this time.

We feel that the Board has exceeded its moral rights. Five petitions, signed by an aggregate of almost one hundred members of the Library, should be enough.

Therefore we have come here in the clean light of the public press, and at our own expense, to protest the Board's autocratic behavior and to establish a record of our dismay. At the same time, we would like to remind all the members of the Library that in June, 1953, the annual Member's meeting will give them a chance to demand the Board's full explanation.

"I appreciate this reception," he told them, "it's magnificent. There's not any more I can say except that we are back home for good."

Another throng of 1,500 waited in the street when the Trumans drove up to their big, white frame home on North Delaware, and there were more cheers and demands for a speech.

There had been receptions all along the route of the long train trip from Washington where he saw Dwight D. Eisenhower inaugurated at noon Tuesday and all of them had their effect on the 68-year-old Missourian.

"But this is the climax," he told the newspapermen.

"If I was being elected to something, I could understand this."

He was deeply touched at the depot when Mayor Robert Weatherford, Jr. told him, "you'll always be Mr. President to us."

Truman's big ambition is to lecture to high school and college students and travel abroad, but those plans haven't jelled.

There is much ahead for him to do even without employment. The personal mail alone is piling up in such quantities as to keep him out of "devilment."

Margaret, the Truman daughter, didn't come to Missouri with her parents. She had to go to New York to keep an entertainment engagement.

"She had to go to work," Truman explained to trainside crowds en route home. "She's the only one in the family with a job."

Lighter engagements were reported from other scattered points along the line.

The navy said British fliers from the carrier HMS Glory in the Yellow Sea attacked Red targets along the west coast yesterday. Across the peninsula, the U. S. heavy cruiser Rochester hammered Communist batteries near Kosong on the eastern end of the front. The navy said the Rochester's guns blew up 29 troop shelters.

Would Set Aside Verdict

A motion to set aside the $25,000 verdict which was awarded Alfred Rose and the $15,000 verdict awarded Reginald L. Howland against Raymond Davis and Walter Davenport Sons, recently returned in Supreme Court, was made before Justice Kenneth MacAffer in Supreme Court today by Judge John M. Cashin of Cashin & Ewig, counsel representing Davis and Davenport. He moved to set aside the verdicts on the grounds they were excessive and also against the weight of evidence. Justice MacAffer denied the motion and granted a stay of execution for 30 days. If an appeal is taken 30 additional days are allowed to perfect an appeal.

Military Convoy 'Camps' for Night

A convoy of 75 army trucks and about 125 men, en route from Camp Stewart, Ga., to Camp Drum, formerly Pine Camp in the Adirondacks, stopped here last night.

Police Chief Raymond VanBuren arranged to escort the convoy from Route 209 at Hurley avenue, through the city, and because of the horticultural show in the state armory, the trucks were parked back of the high school and the men "camped" at the Recreation Center on lower Broadway.

Officers Thomas Tomshaw and Harold DeGraff escorted the convoy from Route 209. Chief VanBuren supervised the arrangements and Officers Gurnsey Burger, Jr., and Harold Bowers also assisted. The convoy left here at about 6 a. m.

Motion Is Rejected

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—A motion for a contempt-of-court judgment against Jerry Finkelstein, 1949 campaign manager for former Mayor William O'Dwyer, was turned down today. General Sessions Judge Francis L. Valente said Finkelstein may have lied to a grand jury, and deliberately refused to give it information about a reported campaign gift to O'Dwyer, but the judge added: "If this is so, it was accomplished in a manner studiously calculated to preclude a finding of contempt." Finkelstein is former chairman of the City Planning Commission.

Man Will Die in Chair Unless Dewey Intervenes

Ossining, Jan. 22 (AP)—Stephen D. Lewis, given a last-minute reprieve two weeks ago from Sing Sing prison's electric chair, is doomed to die tonight unless Gov. Thomas E. Dewey intervenes.

Lewis, 43, of Rochester, escaped the lethal chair by 40 minutes on Jan. 8 when Dewey gave him a stay.

In New York city yesterday, a spokesman for the governor said he had no immediate comment on what action he would take, and added:

"The governor never comments on an application for clemency unless it is granted. If he grants it, he gives his reason. If he does not, the law takes its course."

Lewis was convicted of the November, 1951 fatal shooting of Arthur Anheier of Elba, N. Y. He has consistently maintained his innocence.

Press reports have said District Attorney Wallace J. Stakel of Genesee county would approve commuting Lewis' death sentence to life imprisonment.

Ticket Leads to Altar

New York (AP)—Just a year ago Miss Evelyn Tienken, 19, stenographer, stood in line more than two hours to pay a parking fine for her boss at Manhattan Traffic Court. Behind the window, Lloyd Johnson, 25, a court officer, took the ticket and a $5 bill, returned a dollar in change and talked with the pretty Brooklyn girl until other people in line begin to protest. That ended Miss Tienken's difficulties but not her relations with the court. Recently she was married to Johnson at the Congregational Church in Brooklyn on the exact anniversary of their meeting.

A BACHELOR'S COMPLAINT

This is a desperate man's account of his struggle against husband hunters: "I am a man in the late thirties and unmarried; in other words, a bachelor—which I would like to remain! However, my friends are making it very difficult for me. Their wives always know of some 'nice young woman who is just my type' and whom they would like very much to have me meet. Or else I am not even warned beforehand and when I arrive at their house for dinner, there is always a young woman there who has been invited especially for me, and whom I have to take home at the end of the evening. Not only is this embarrassing, but annoying. Can you help a poor bachelor in distress?"

The best move you can make is to be frank with your friends and tell them that you seriously mean you do not want to get married, and, therefore, will they please stop trying to find fascinating marriageable women for you!

Announcing Engagement of Widow

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the proper procedure for announcing the engagement of a widow aged thirty-five? Is it announced in the usual way by her parents, by the couple themselves, or is no formal announcement made of the engagement?

Answer: Generally, the news is told to their most intimate friends and that is all. But a notice could be sent to the society editor of the local newspaper that the engagement of Mrs. Mary Brown (this is one instance when she is properly Mrs. Mary and not Mrs. John) to Mr. Henry Greene has been announced.

Addressing Judge

Dear Mrs. Post: A man I know has just been appointed Judge of a domestic court. I always have called him Mr. Brown and am not quite sure whether to continue calling him Mr. or change to Judge.

Answer: Change to Judge.

Hadassah Group Told Camp Experiences

Mrs. Arthur London was program chairman for the Hadassah meeting Monday evening at the Jewish Community Center on Wall street. Miss Elizabeth Nussbaum, recipient of the Hadassah camp scholarship for last year, related her experiences at Brandeis Camp in North Carolina.

The young camper described the regular athletic activities at camp, but was particularly grateful for the knowledge she had gained of Jewish culture, while "learning to live and work with other young people, some of whom were on visiting scholarships from Israel."

A colored motion picture film, entitled Journey Across Centuries, was shown. It depicted the rehabilitation of the young nation, Israel, including the industrial developments, building projects, schools, hotels, and resort areas which Hadassah has helped to make possible. Many flourishing schools were particularly noted, such as those for technical skills and for management training. These, too, were built and are being maintained by the efforts of Hadassah's women.

Refreshments were served. Mrs. Ben Schecter was hostess.

Albany, Jan. 22 (AP)—Cases of influenza-like illness at Cornell University are no more numerous than usual, the State Health Department says. Cases No More Numerous

Albany, Jan. 22 (AP)—Cases of influenza-like illness at Cornell University are no more numerous than usual, the State Health Department says. The department at first reported yesterday that there were 125 such cases at the University, but last night said that the figure applied instead to all of Ithaca.

Report Is Delayed

A report of the grand jury to Justice MacAffer in Supreme Court was delayed today until Friday in order that District Attorney Howard C. St. John might have an opportunity to present an additional case before the body. A case involving a person now confined to jail made its appearance and rather than continue defendant in jail until the next grand jury in March, the report of the grand jury was postponed.

Newburgh Turns Back Maroon, 67-62, for 28th Straight Victory

Maher's 25 Points Spark NFA to 7th Over Locals

Kingston High's gallant basketeers ran into trouble where they least expected it last night before a jampacked NFA gym.

They anticipated a hard time with the likes of Mickey "The Marvel" Burkowski and Bobby Spreer, last of the famous clan, but it was unheralded Billy Maher who murdered them with a 25-point blast as the Goldbacks beat back a surprisingly robust Kingston challenge, 67 to 62.

It was Maher's brilliant spot shooting and running one-handers that represented the difference between two well-matched, hard-fighting and slightly nervous quintets.

The Goldback triumph extended the NFA streak to 28 in a row over a two-season span and six straight in DUSO competition this season. It was Kingston's seventh consecutive setback at the hands of the Hill City menace.

Costly Loss for Maroons

The loss was a costly one for the Maroons, who dropped two full games behind the Goldbacks, but the surprising showing for better than three quarters of the contest gave hope for better luck in the next meeting of the ancient rivals at the municipal auditorium.

Dick Bezemer may have "arrived" in this one and Skipper Brodhead proved himself a real pressure player with 23 points. The failure of George Telepas and Bill DuBois to hit with consistency from their favorite sectors hurt the Maroon but both had abominable luck on several tries.

Until midway in the third period it was touch and go with Broadhead and lanky Bezemer battling the vaunted one-two punch of Spreer and Burkowski to a standstill.

Kingston overcame signs of panic and utter rout in the first quarter when NFA jumped to a 11-1 lead and by halftime had knotted the score at 34-34. The score was tied at 37-37 and later at 41-41. Maher picked this spot for a foul and basket to put Newburgh ahead 44-41 and Early's foul widened the gap to 45-41. The Goldbacks were never headed again and led by 60-50 at the three minute mark.

High Total of Career

Maher's 25 points represented a career high for the Goldback forward. The Maroon couldn't stop him and had nobody in the backcourt to make up for the unexpected developments from that direction.

Broadhead was a terrific performer, particularly in the first half to outshine Bobby Spreer by a wide margin and Bezemer played a standout game against Burkowski who had hit deep in the 20s the last two times out. He held "The Marvel" to seven points at the half and finished all-even at 15 points.

Neither DuBois nor Haber could find the range from the outside and the Maroon's top scorer was restricted to a pair of baskets. He added seven foul shots for 11 points. Haber rimmed five.

Brodhead Paces Comeback

NFA's opening thrust stunned the sparse Kingston delegation that was reduced by adverse weather conditions and at 11-1 looked like a murderous rout. But Coach Kias' current machine has balance and a heady operator in Skipper Brodhead. He took charge of a steady comeback drive that eventually propelled the Maroon to a 34-34 standoff at the intermission buzzer.

Maher's jump shot in the first few seconds of the second half regained the lead for NFA at 36-34. Kimball and Brodhead exchanged fouls and George Telepas, who just couldn't find the hoop connected with a deuce, just half of his production, to tie it at 37-37. A few moments later Dick Bezemer converted a pair of fouls to effect a 41-41 deadlock but that was the high water mark of Kingston's try for a tremendous upset.

Brodhead gave it a whirl in the fourth period with a driving lay-up that sliced the NFA edge to 45-44, then a foul for 49-46 and another pair of fouls for 51-48. But Maher and his supporting crew wouldn't be denied. Skipper's last shot was a jumping one-hander which Kimball quickly matched with a field and foul and the Goldbacks were comfortably in front, 58-50. Early tapped in a rebound for 60-50.

Seton Hall's Dukes Takes Scoring Lead; 18-Games—501 Points

New York, Jan. 22 (AP) — Big Walt Dukes of unbeaten Seton Hall is the individual scoring leader among the nation's major colleges today, having taken over the top spot from Pennsylvania's Ernie Beck.

Dukes, 6-11, has scored 501 points in 18 games, an average of 27.8 per game according to statistics released by the NCAA Service Bureau. Seton Hall, the only remaining unbeaten team among the major colleges, is ranked No. 1 by the Associated Press.

Beck has tallied 304 points in 11 games for a 27.6 average and little Johnny O'Brien of Seattle has compiled 402 points in 15 games for 26.8 per game.

Dukes is also second in rebounding, with an average of 22.7 a game, behind Ed Conlin of Fordham, who has 23.2 in thirteen games. At their heels is Dick Estergard, of Bradley, with 22.

NFL Vetoes Proposals; Draft Today

Philadelphia, Jan. 22 (AP) — The National Football League Club owners, accustomed to operating their business like a gigantic cut-throat poker game, were ready to wrangle over two subjects today in spite of Commissioner Bert Bell's warnings that they'd better settle down and act like business men.

The bonus pick and Baltimore were the two hottest subjects of discussion as the league's annual meeting began today. And the club owners, elated with the news that they'd just finished a record-breaking season in attendance and gate receipts, gave little indication that they would heed Bell's ominous warnings.

At last night's meeting of the league's rules committee, a locker full of code changes were tossed out the window—leaving the NFL mode of play intact for the coming season.

Playoff Rejected

Rejected by the committee were such proposals as: A "sudden death" playoff for any league game ending in a tie, a seven-point count for touchdowns with the point after touchdowns eliminated, and short-time penalties for players charged with unnecessary roughness instead of being sent from the game.

The annual draft of college players, the annual all-day bicker session at which the owners and coaches try to outguess one another in selecting college talent, began today's proceedings. Six clubs were eligible for the 'bonus pick' by which one club each year gets to choose one player the regular round of selections starts.

The best guess today was that the club which drew the lucky number would choose either Billy Vessels, the Oklahoma speedster, or sturdy Johnny Olszewski of California. They're rated two of the best pro prospects of a season in which many of the stars already had gone through the pro draft. A collegian can be "drafted" for future signing once his original college class has been graduated even though he continues to play college ball.

The Baltimore question won't come up until tomorrow, but hotel lobby discussions indicated there may be a long and lively debate before it is decided whether the new colts belong with the western or eastern clubs.

2,052,126 See Games

Bell renewed his pleas for a cut in the player limit—from 33 to 30 active players for each club—last night as he gave out figures to show that 1952 was the league's most successful season.

The total attendance passed the two million mark for the first time as 72 regular season games drew 2,052,126 customers and the national conference and league championship playoffs attracked 97,507 more. That was an 8.6 per cent jump over the 1951 total and surpassed the previous high of 2,114,400 set in 1950 when 81 games were played.

Top attendance figure at Hialeah in 1952 was 32,209 for Flamingo Day.

Blue Devils Cop 'B' League Cage Title

Winners Rally In Final Half; Two Register 27

The Blue Devils nailed down the first round championship of the YMCA "B" Division Basketball League Wednesday night thanks to a whirlwind finish in their game against Waterous Lumber of Woodstock.

The final score was 65 to 61.

After a deadlocked first period score of 12-all, the Woodstockers forged ahead by 26 to 20 at the first half bell.

The Devils broke loose in the third canto, however, with 24 points and added 21 more markers in the final quarter for the championship.

Esopus LL Re-Elects Bob Graves President

Town of Esopus Little League has re-elected Bob Graves president for 1953 and announced plans to operate with a full national sanction for its four-team setup.

The new move will make the league eligible for post-season tournaments. Because of a shortage of players in certain age brackets, the Esopus loop played its first season with a provisional sanction that disqualified it from tournament play.

Ernest Best was elected vice-president and Chet Barth has been returned as secretary-treasurer.

Aided by the enthusiastic support of the Town of Esopus American Legion Post, sponsors of Little League ball, Graves piloted the league to a highly successful season in 1952.

More than $1500 was raised for first year expenses and a permanent field was set up. Additional work is planned on the stadium and the infield was seeded last fall.

Team managers for 1953 will be appointed at the March meeting.

DiMag Finishes Eighth in Voting

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—Dizzy Dean, the last major league pitcher to win 30 games, and Al Simmons, a 20-year-player with a .334 lifetime batting average, are the 1953 additions to baseball's Hall of Fame.

Once again Bill Terry, former New York Giants' manager-first baseman just missed election by the 10-year veterans of the Baseball Writers Association. Memphis Bill lost out by seven votes.

Joe DiMaggio, believed a sure thing to make the grade his first year of eligibility, didn't even come close. The retired Yankee Clipper finished eighth, short 81 votes.

The veteran writers keep the Cooperstown club very exclusive. With a total of 264 writers voting, it took 75 per cent—or 198—to gain the Hall of Fame. On four different years, no one made it.

Election of Dean and Simmons raises the membership to 64, of whom 27 have been picked by the writers. A special committee, headed by Clark Griffith, Washington owner, selects the old-timers not active in the last 25 years.

Diz Gets 209 Votes

Dean drew an impressive popular vote of 209 votes, moving past Terry whom he trailed in last year's voting. Simmons, also behind Terry in 1952, just scraped home by one vote with a total of 199.

"It's pretty doggone nice for an ole Arkansas cotton picker to be up there with those boys," Dean drawled when he heard the news. Simmons, reached at Hialeah Race Track, chuckled that "it's my lucky day—I just had three straight winners in the races."

The colorful Dean, a radio and television personality since arm trouble forced him out of baseball, was a six year phenom with the St. Louis Cardinals. In 1943 he had a 30-7 record for the Cards with Diz and his brother, Paul, practically pitching St. Louis to a pennant and the world championship.

Known as a "pop off" guy who never was bashful about telling the world about "the great Dean," Dizzy wasn't quite the same after he was hit on the toe by a line drive off the bat of Earl Averill in the 1937 All-Star game. Favoring the toe, Dean changed his pitching motion and developed arm trouble.

Sold to the Chicago for $185,000 in 1938, he tried to get by on "soft stuff" and did fool them for awhile. He cooled off the New York Yankees for seven innings of a World Series game with his sidearm stuff but couldn't hold it. He finally dropped out in 1941, making a one-day comeback from the radio booth to pitch the last game of the 1947 season for the St. Louis Browns.

Dean's career was comparatively brief but flashy, while Simmons with his famous "foot in the bucket" stance ruined life for American League pitchers for years.

Great Slugger

A powerful righthanded hitter whose real name is Aloysius Szymanski, Simmons won batting championships with .381 in 1930 and .390 in 1931, in 1927 he finished second to Harry Heilmann with .392. Heilmann, incidentally, was voted into the Hall of Fame last year a few months after his death. Paul Waner was the other new member last year.

Simmons knew his greatest fame with Connie Mack and the Philadelphia A's from 1924 to 1932 but also played at Chicago, Detroit, Washington and Boston in the American and Cincinnati and Boston in the National. Always a long ball hitter, despite his awkward stance, Simmons was voted Most Valuable Player in the American League in 1929. After retirement in 1944 he served as coach with the A's and Cleveland until forced to step down because of poor health in 1951.

Mulloy in Opener

Orlando, Fla., Jan. 22 (AP)—Gardnar Mulloy, the nation's No. 1 tennis player, takes on Lewis Leach, a 90-pound, 14-year-old Orlando ninth grade student, in his first match of the Florida Invitational tennis tournament today. Wednesday, Bernard Bartzen, the No. 2 seed, and Hal Burrows, ranked No. 3, won their second matches handily. Bartzen, who comes from San Angelo, Tex., eliminated Larry Golton of Baltimore, 6-1, 6-1, and Burrows, of Charlottesville, Va., ousted Frank Spears, Pensacola Navy, 6-4, 6-3. In women's play, top-seeded Thelma Long, Australia, defeated Beverly Seibert, Rollins College, 6-3, 6-3.

Newburgh Jayvees Defeat Kingston In Late Uprising

Kingston High School's Jayvees had things all their way for three quarters last night in Newburgh but the NFA Junior Varsity came to life in the final quarter to struggle through to a 44 to 43 victory.

The Maroon yearlings held the upperhand throughout the entire game but the final canto proved decisive—for the Goldbacks.

Kingston led by 25-16 at the half after opening up with a 10-8 edge at the first session. The Maroons continued to hold the lead in the third period by 35-28.

Newburgh, however, launched its final period with a thrust and doubled Kingston's output of eight points to capture the squeaker.

Waterous and Woolsey were high for the Maroons with 19 and 10. Kaplan and Conine topped NFA with 14 and 12.

Match Play Underway

Injury Shelves Paddy

Boston, Jan. 22 (AP)—A sprained ankle suffered doing road work will keep New York lightweight Paddy De Marco out of his scheduled nationally-televized boxing bout with Babe Herman of Los Angeles at Boston Arena Saturday night. Replacing De Marco will be Harold (Babe Face) Jones of Detroit in the 10-rounder. The fight will be telecast by the American Broadcasting Company with New England blacked out. Jones and Herman each hold a decision over the other.

Jim McFadden of the Chicago Black Hawks in the NHL was born in Belfast, Ireland.

Demaret Captures $10,000 Thunderbird Golf Tourney

Winning Score Is 15 Under Par

Palm Springs, Calif., Jan. 22 (AP)—The spotlight was on the big threesome of Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Lloyd Mangrum, but when payoff time came, the man in the center of the stage was Jimmy Demaret.

Such was the scene yesterday when smiling Jimmy won the "Battle of the Texans" and the $10,000 Thunderbird Country Club Invitational Golf tournament.

Demaret captured the 54-hole special event with scores of 69-65-67-201, which was 15 strokes under par for the 6,300-yard course in this bright desert resort.

The gallery of two or three thousand was tagging along with Nelson, Hogan and Mangrum. About the only ones with Jimmy were baseball star Ralph Kiner and his wife Nancy, just ahead of the featured three.

Both Remained Threat

All, in addition to Jim Turnesa and Dutch Harrison, were in the front challenging ranks when the round began.

Demaret whacked three strokes off par 36 on the first nine, and two off par 36 on the return. He didn't know it, but was home free. But with a typical Demaret flourish, his second shot to the 18th green landed five inches from the pin and he tapped it in for an eagle.

On came Hogan, getting hot and very determined on the back nine. Mangrum remained a threat, too. But Ben's 33 wasn't good enough, and neither was Mangrum's 34.

Newburgh Turns Back Maroon, 67-62, for 28th Straight Victory

Maher's 25 Points Spark NFA to 7th Over Locals

Kingston High's gallant basketeers ran into trouble where they least expected it last night before a jampacked NFA gym.

They anticipated a hard time with the likes of Mickey "The Marvel" Burkowski and Bobby Spreer, last of the famous clan, but it was unheralded Billy Maher who murdered them with a 25-point blast as the Goldbacks beat back a surprisingly robust Kingston challenge, 67 to 62.

It was Maher's brilliant spot shooting and running one-handers that represented the difference between two well-matched, hard-fighting and slightly nervous quintets.

The Goldback triumph extended the NFA streak to 28 in a row over a two-season span and six straight in DUSO competition this season. It was Kingston's seventh consecutive setback at the hands of the Hill City menace.

Costly Loss for Maroons

The loss was a costly one for the Maroons, who dropped two full games behind the Goldbacks, but the surprising showing for better than three quarters of the contest gave hope for better luck in the next meeting of the ancient rivals at the municipal auditorium.

Dick Bezemer may have "arrived" in this one and Skipper Brodhead proved himself a real pressure player with 23 points. The failure of George Telepas and Bill DuBois to hit with consistency from their favorite sectors hurt the Maroon but both had abominable luck on several tries.

Until midway in the third period it was touch and go with Broadhead and lanky Bezemer battling the vaunted one-two punch of Spreer and Burkowski to a standstill.

Kingston overcame signs of panic and utter rout in the first quarter when NFA jumped to a 11-1 lead and by halftime had knotted the score at 34-34. The score was tied at 37-37 and later at 41-41. Maher picked this spot for a foul and basket to put Newburgh ahead 44-41 and Early's foul widened the gap to 45-41. The Goldbacks were never headed again and led by 60-50 at the three minute mark.

High Total of Career

Maher's 25 points represented a career high for the Goldback forward. The Maroon couldn't stop him and had nobody in the backcourt to make up for the unexpected developments from that direction.

Broadhead was a terrific performer, particularly in the first half to outshine Bobby Spreer by a wide margin and Bezemer played a standout game against Burkowski who had hit deep in the 20s the last two times out. He held "The Marvel" to seven points at the half and finished all-even at 15 points.

Neither DuBois nor Haber could find the range from the outside and the Maroon's top scorer was restricted to a pair of baskets. He added seven foul shots for 11 points. Haber rimmed five.

Brodhead Paces Comeback

NFA's opening thrust stunned the sparse Kingston delegation that was reduced by adverse weather conditions and at 11-1 looked like a murderous rout. But Coach Kias' current machine has balance and a heady operator in Skipper Brodhead. He took charge of a steady comeback drive that eventually propelled the Maroon to a 34-34 standoff at the intermission buzzer.

Maher's jump shot in the first few seconds of the second half regained the lead for NFA at 36-34. Kimball and Brodhead exchanged fouls and George Telepas, who just couldn't find the hoop connected with a deuce, just half of his production, to tie it at 37-37. A few moments later Dick Bezemer converted a pair of fouls to effect a 41-41 deadlock but that was the high water mark of Kingston's try for a tremendous upset.

Brodhead gave it a whirl in the fourth period with a driving lay-up that sliced the NFA edge to 45-44, then a foul for 49-46 and another pair of fouls for 51-48. But Maher and his supporting crew wouldn't be denied. Skipper's last shot was a jumping one-hander which Kimball quickly matched with a field and foul and the Goldbacks were comfortably in front, 58-50. Early tapped in a rebound for 60-50.

Seton Hall's Dukes Takes Scoring Lead; 18-Games—501 Points

New York, Jan. 22 (AP) — Big Walt Dukes of unbeaten Seton Hall is the individual scoring leader among the nation's major colleges today, having taken over the top spot from Pennsylvania's Ernie Beck.

Dukes, 6-11, has scored 501 points in 18 games, an average of 27.8 per game according to statistics released by the NCAA Service Bureau. Seton Hall, the only remaining unbeaten team among the major colleges, is ranked No. 1 by the Associated Press.

Beck has tallied 304 points in 11 games for a 27.6 average and little Johnny O'Brien of Seattle has compiled 402 points in 15 games for 26.8 per game.

Dukes is also second in rebounding, with an average of 22.7 a game, behind Ed Conlin of Fordham, who has 23.2 in thirteen games. At their heels is Dick Estergard, of Bradley, with 22.

NFL Vetoes Proposals; Draft Today

Philadelphia, Jan. 22 (AP) — The National Football League Club owners, accustomed to operating their business like a gigantic cut-throat poker game, were ready to wrangle over two subjects today in spite of Commissioner Bert Bell's warnings that they'd better settle down and act like business men.

The bonus pick and Baltimore were the two hottest subjects of discussion as the league's annual meeting began today. And the club owners, elated with the news that they'd just finished a record-breaking season in attendance and gate receipts, gave little indication that they would heed Bell's ominous warnings.

At last night's meeting of the league's rules committee, a locker full of code changes were tossed out the window—leaving the NFL mode of play intact for the coming season.

Playoff Rejected

Rejected by the committee were such proposals as: A "sudden death" playoff for any league game ending in a tie, a seven-point count for touchdowns with the point after touchdowns eliminated, and short-time penalties for players charged with unnecessary roughness instead of being sent from the game.

The annual draft of college players, the annual all-day bicker session at which the owners and coaches try to outguess one another in selecting college talent, began today's proceedings. Six clubs were eligible for the 'bonus pick' by which one club each year gets to choose one player the regular round of selections starts.

The best guess today was that the club which drew the lucky number would choose either Billy Vessels, the Oklahoma speedster, or sturdy Johnny Olszewski of California. They're rated two of the best pro prospects of a season in which many of the stars already had gone through the pro draft. A collegian can be "drafted" for future signing once his original college class has been graduated even though he continues to play college ball.

The Baltimore question won't come up until tomorrow, but hotel lobby discussions indicated there may be a long and lively debate before it is decided whether the new colts belong with the western or eastern clubs.

2,052,126 See Games

Bell renewed his pleas for a cut in the player limit—from 33 to 30 active players for each club—last night as he gave out figures to show that 1952 was the league's most successful season.

The total attendance passed the two million mark for the first time as 72 regular season games drew 2,052,126 customers and the national conference and league championship playoffs attracked 97,507 more. That was an 8.6 per cent jump over the 1951 total and surpassed the previous high of 2,-114,400 set in 1950 when 81 games were played.

Top attendance figure at Hialeah in 1952 was 32,209 for Flamingo Day.

Blue Devils Cop 'B' League Cage Title

Winners Rally In Final Half; Two Register 27

The Blue Devils nailed down the first round championship of the YMCA "B" Division Basketball League Wednesday night thanks to a whirlwind finish in their game against Waterous Lumber of Woodstock.

The final score was 65 to 61.

After a deadlocked first period score of 12-all, the Woodstockers forged ahead by 26 to 20 at the first half bell.

The Devils broke loose in the third canto, however, with 24 points and added 21 more markers in the final quarter for the championship.

Van Wagenen Hits 27

Hy Van Wagenen, forward for the Devils, sparked his club to the big win with 27 markers, Jerry Kaplan and Bruce Hinkley followed with 16 and 12 in that order.

John Gossman of Waterous Lumber tied Van Wagenen's high with 27. Bill Waterous followed with 15.

In the other "B" game last night, Village Rest of Port Ewen scored an easy 101 to 66 victory over Cerasaro Brothers. It was the second "B" League team to hit the century mark in two nights running.

Esopus LL Re-Elects Bob Graves President

Town of Esopus Little League has re-elected Bob Graves president for 1953 and announced plans to operate with a full national sanction for its four-team setup.

The new move will make the league eligible for post-season tournaments. Because of a shortage of players in certain age brackets, the Esopus loop played its first season with a provisional sanction that disqualified it from tournament play.

Ernest Best was elected vice-president and Chet Barth has been returned as secretary-treasurer.

Aided by the enthusiastic support of the Town of Esopus American Legion Post, sponsors of Little League ball, Graves piloted the league to a highly successful season in 1952.

More than $1500 was raised for first year expenses and a permanent field was set up. Additional work is planned on the stadium and the infield was seeded last fall.

Team managers for 1953 will be appointed at the March meeting.

DiMag Finishes Eighth in Voting

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—Dizzy Dean, the last major league pitcher to win 30 games, and Al Simmons, a 20-year-player with a .334 lifetime batting average, are the 1953 additions to baseball's Hall of Fame.

Once again Bill Terry, former New York Giants' manager-first baseman just missed election by the 10-year veterans of the Baseball Writers Association. Memphis Bill lost out by seven votes.

Joe DiMaggio, believed a sure thing to make the grade his first year of eligibility, didn't even come close. The retired Yankee Clipper finished eighth, short 81 votes.

The veteran writers keep the Cooperstown club very exclusive. With a total of 264 writers voting, it took 75 per cent—or 198—to gain the Hall of Fame. On four different years, no one made it.

Election of Dean and Simmons raises the membership to 64, of whom 27 have been picked by the writers. A special committee, headed by Clark Griffith, Washington owner, selects the old-timers not active in the last 25 years.

Diz Gets 209 Votes

Dean drew an impressive popular vote of 209 votes, moving past Terry whom he trailed in last year's voting. Simmons, also behind Terry in 1952, just scraped home by one vote with a total of 199.

"It's pretty doggone nice for an ole Arkansas cotton picker to be up there with those boys," Dean drawled when he heard the news. Simmons, reached at Hialeah Race Track, chuckled that "it's my lucky day—I just had three straight winners in the races."

The colorful Dean, a radio and television personality since arm trouble forced him out of baseball, was a six year phenom with the St. Louis Cardinals. In 1943 he had a 30-7 record for the Cards with Diz and his brother, Paul, practically pitching St. Louis to a pennant and the world championship.

Known as a "pop off" guy who never was bashful about telling the world about "the great Dean," Dizzy wasn't quite the same after he was hit on the toe by a line drive off the bat of Earl Averill in the 1937 All-Star game. Favoring the toe, Dean changed his pitching motion and developed arm trouble.

Sold to the Chicago for $185,-000 in 1938, he tried to get by on "soft stuff" and did fool them for awhile. He cooled off the New York Yankees for seven innings of a World Series game with his sidearm stuff but couldn't hold it. He finally dropped out in 1941, making a one-day comeback from the radio booth to pitch the last game of the 1947 season for the St. Louis Browns.

Dean's career was comparatively brief but flashy, while Simmons with his famous "foot in the bucket" stance ruined life for American League pitchers for years.

Great Slugger

A powerful righthanded hitter whose real name is Aloysius Szymanski, Simmons won batting championships with .381 in 1930 and .390 in 1931. in 1927 he finished second to Harry Heilmann with .392. Heilmann, incidentally, was voted into the Hall of Fame last year a few months after his death. Paul Waner was the other new member last year.

Simmons knew his greatest fame with Connie Mack and the Philadelphia A's from 1924 to 1932 but also played at Chicago, Detroit, Washington and Boston in the American and Cincinnati and Boston in the National. Always a long ball hitter, despite his awkward stance, Simmons was voted Most Valuable Player in the American League in 1929. After retirement in 1944 he served as coach with the A's and Cleveland until forced to step down because of poor health in 1951.

Mulloy in Opener

Orlando, Fla., Jan. 22 (AP)—Gardnar Mulloy, the nation's No. 1 tennis player, takes on Lewis Leach, a 90-pound, 14-year-old Orlando ninth grade student, in his first match of the Florida Invitational tennis tournament today. Wednesday, Bernard Bartzen, the No. 2 seed, and Hal Burrows, ranked No. 3, won their second matches handily. Bartzen, who comes from San Angelo, Tex., eliminated Larry Golton of Baltimore, 6-1, 6-1, and Burrows, of Charlottesville, Va., ousted Frank Spears, Pensacola Navy, 6-4, 6-3. In women's play, top-seeded Thelma Long, Australia, defeated Beverly Seibert, Rollins College, 6-3, 6-3.

Newburgh Jayvees Defeat Kingston In Late Uprising

Kingston High School's Jayvees had things all their way for three quarters last night in Newburgh but the NFA Junior Varsity came to life in the final quarter to struggle through to a 44 to 43 victory.

The Maroon yearlings held the upperhand throughout the entire game but the final canto proved decisive—for the Goldbacks.

Kingston led by 25-16 at the half after opening up with a 10-8 edge at the first session. The Maroons continued to hold the lead in the third period by 35-28.

Newburgh, however, launched its final period with a thrust and doubled Kingston's output of eight points to capture the squeaker.

Waterous and Woolsey were high for the Maroons with 19 and 10. Kaplan and Conine topped NFA with 14 and 12.

Match Play Underway

Injury Shelves Paddy

Boston, Jan. 22 (AP)—A sprained ankle suffered doing road work will keep New York lightweight Paddy De Marco out of his scheduled nationally-televized boxing bout with Babe Herman of Los Angeles at Boston Arena Saturday night. Replacing De Marco will be Harold (Babe Face) Jones of Detroit in the 10-rounder. The fight will be telecast by the American Broadcasting Company with New England blacked out. Jones and Herman each hold a decision over the other.

Demaret Captures $10,000 Thunderbird Golf Tourney

Winning Score Is 15 Under Par

Palm Springs, Calif., Jan. 22 (AP)—The spotlight was on the big threesome of Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson and Lloyd Mangrum, but when payoff time came, the man in the center of the stage was Jimmy Demaret.

Such was the scene yesterday when smiling Jimmy won the "Battle of the Texans" and the $10,000 Thunderbird Country Club Invitational Golf tournament.

Demaret captured the 54-hole special event with scores of 69-65-67-201, which was 15 strokes under par for the 6,300-yard course in this bright desert resort.

The gallery of two or three thousand was tagging along with Nelson, Hogan and Mangrum. About the only ones with Jimmy were baseball star Ralph Kiner and his wife Nancy, just ahead of the featured three.

Both Remained Threat

All, in addition to Jim Turnesa and Dutch Harrison, were in the front challenging ranks when the round began.

Demaret whacked three strokes off par 36 on the first nine, and two off par 36 on the return. He didn't know it, but was home free. But with a typical Demaret flourish, his second shot to the 18th green landed five inches from the pin and he tapped it in for an eagle.

On came Hogan, getting hot and very determined on the back nine. Mangrum remained a threat, too. But Ben's 33 wasn't good enough, and neither was Mangrum's 34.

So he and Mangrum registered 69 for 203, tying with Jim Turnesa in the runner-up spot, and Lord Byron's 70 gave him 204.

Demaret won $1,500, and Hogan, Mangrum and Turnesa, with a final 69, collected $616.66 apiece.

Averages Overdue

Irwin J. Thomas, secretary of the KBA, announced today that six leagues within the KBA jurisdiction still have failed to submit their league averages for the 1953 city tournament. Leagues concerned are requested to turn in their averages no later than this weekend.

In the only other league action last night, Rita Amarello fired 144-182-137 for 463 to lead the Pioneer Women's League at the Bowlodrome boards.

Nell Glennon shot 461; Marcia Olbert 461; Phyllis Wolff 460; Shirley Buckman 459; Florence Beichert 450; Peggy Dunham 201-434; Elma MacElveen 431; Nancy Hussey 424 and Betty Macholdt 422.

Only four others achieved the "500" mark with Clary Buddenhagen firing 214-201-584, R. Tenedini 211-525, Jim Fahey and J. Koenig (210)-500. W. Fatum nearmissed with 499.

Canadiens Edge Nearer Detroit

(By The Associated Press)

Little by little the Montreal Canadiens have been edging up on the league leading Detroit Red Wings in the National Hockey League race and today only three points separated the two clubs.

The Canadiens won the only scheduled game in the loop last night, edging the Toronto Maple Leafs, 1-0. They now have 49 points to 52 for the defending champions.

The contest with the Leafs was decided in the first period when Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion beat goalie Harry Lumley. From that point on, Lumley turned aside every Canadien thrust, but was more than matched by Gerry McNeill, the winners' netminder who chalked up the shutout.

Boys Club Games

The schedule for Friday, Jan. 23, in the Boys Club Midget basketball games follows:

6:30—Cedar Aces vs. Globe Trotters.

7:15—Blue Jays vs. Ramblers.

San Jose State's basketball scoring record is held by Stu Inman, now coaching at Fresno's Roosevelt High. Inman tallied 521 points in 1949.

Hard-Luck Nagy Becomes Bowler-of-Year; He Didn't Get It As Consolation Prize

By HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Sports Editor)

Steve J. Nagy has won more sweepstakes and major tournaments than you could shake a stick at, but until this year the big ones escaped him.

Big Steve, as his Hungarian neighbors in Cleveland call him, became known as the hard-luck guy.

Steve Nagy, 39, shook the tag last spring in Milwaukee, scattering 2063 pins blasting his way to the ABC tournament all-events championship. He teamed with Johnny Klares to establish an all-time doubles record of 1453, accounting for 689 of the production.

He wound up being elected Bowler of the Year.

Ace Since 1939

Nagy has been consistently among the top bowlers of the nation since 1939. He rolled the second highest three-game series in the United States, 831. He defeated Buzz Fazio in a gruelling 48-game match. He led National Individual Match Game competitors with a 210 average.

But Nagy has never been able to collar the ABC singles or National Individual match game title. Last year, for example, the Cleveland Cannoneer out-averaged Junie McMahon by 63 pins, yet lost the match championship on points. He lost out in 1948 the same way. This trip in Chicago he started off like a mechanical man, but when the chips were counted, Pete Carter, a 26-year old Detroit bowling instructor, had taken it all.

While the ABC singles has eluded him, the strapping Nagy has had his big innings in that one, too. His two-year average of 224 is an ABC record, his total of $1,965 in 1952 a new high in winnings.

Greats Move Over

Nagy finally has taken his place in the category with such all-time standouts as Ned Day, Joe Wilman, Andy Varipapa, Buddy Bomar and Joe Norris.

Probably no other bowler in history ever has been as well known and accepted by the public as Mr. Bowling like Day. All-time records to his credit would guarantee this alone, but the handsome veteran of West Allis, Wis., also has traveled throughout the world instructing, performed in 15 motion pictures and written four books on proper technique. He reigned as National Individual Match Game champion an unprecedented five times.

Day was chosen for the ABC Hall of Fame this year. Wilman was named last year. Whenever veteran bowling authorities begin listing all-time greats, one name certain to be included is that of Bomar. Norris for many years has been rated one of the finest competitors.

They now move over for Junie McMahon and Steve Nagy.

Gavilan Again Set For Title Defense

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP)—Kid Gavilan, with a couple of easy warm-up victories under his welterweight championship belt, is all set to defend his title again.

On Feb. 11, Gavilan meets Chuck Davey in Chicago in what should be a humdinger of a fight.

It was an unusual fight. Gavilan won it from here to his home town in Havana, Cuba, yet it remained interesting until the final bell.

That's because Cardell, with more fighting heart than prudence, kept moving in even though he was getting himself thoroughly walloped by the champ.

No one at ringside credited Cardell with more than a round or two, and the officials didn't even give him that.

Judge Benny Alperstein had it 99 points for Gavilan, 74 for Cardell; Judge Julian Whitestone, Gavilan 99, Cardell 81, and Referee Harry Volkman gave Gavilan 100, Cardell 72.

Since 300 is the maximum score, this meant Gavilan came within a couple of points of perfection.

Col. Harvey L. Miller, executive secretary of the National Boxing Association, said he couldn't remember any fighter ever scoring higher than Gavilan's 298.

The fight was watched by a paid crowd of 5,625 and a nationwide television audience.

It was Gavilan's second fight within eight days. Last week he defeated Aman Peck in a 10-round bout in Tampa, Fla.

Hot Stove Sparks In Baseball

The Cardinals' Eddie Yuhas (12-2) who led National League pitchers in winning percentage in 1952 with .857, didn't lose a game after June 15. The 6 foot, 1 inch right-hander won his last ten decisions, the longest winning streak of the season by an NL moundsman.

Other leaders in various NL offensive departments during the recent campaign show Stan Musial tops in total bases (311) and slugging (.538); Ralph Kiner, number of times passed (110); Solly Hemus, most times hit by pitched balls (20); Bobby Adams, total times-at-bat (637); Bobby Thomson, triples (14); and Musial, doubles (42).

Hawks Taking Role As NBA Spoilers

(By The Associated Press)

Milwaukee's Hawks, winner of only 12 games all season, may not be going anywhere in the NBA race but they steadily are gaining recognition as the league's "spoilers."

The Hawks upset the New York Knickerbockers, 72-70, last night in the first game of a doubleheader at Boston. Last Sunday, Milwaukee turned the tables on Minneapolis, pace-setters in the Western Division, on the Lakers' home court.

In the second game at Boston, the Celtics downed the Fort Wayne Pistons, 94-84. The Rochester Royals defeated the Baltimore Bullets, 89-32, in another league game.

A field goal by George Ratkovicz in the final seven seconds gave Milwaukee its victory. New York's Carl Braun had deadlocked the game at 70-70 with 25 seconds remaining. Then the Hawks froze the ball until Ratkovicz fired his game-winning basket.

Boston's big three of Bob Cousy, Easy Ed Macauley and Bill Sharman again sparked the Celtics. Cousy scored 29 points Macauley 22 and Sharman 19. The win put the Celtics in a tie with the Syracuse Nationals, Eastern Division leaders, in games won-and-lost although Boston still trails the Nats by 17 percentage points.

Spinning the Sports Wheel: (With apologies to Charles R. Douglas, the "CARD" of yesteryear, who now covers city hall for our favorite evening newspaper.

Kingston collegiate basketball fans will divide their allegiance between West Point field house and Albany Armory come Saturday. Fordham's powerful Maroons visit Army at 2:15 to battle Ed Weaver and Bill Hannon, with plenty of seats available.

The 8:30 p. m. Siena-Manhattan clash at Albany is almost a complete sellout. Both of these games are worth the distance you have to travel to see them.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Several prominent Federated Sportsmen of Ulster County took sharp objection to what they termed "propaganda" in the state deer take figures released yesterday by the State Conservation Department. One well known sportsman said that references to range over-population in some sections was "exaggerated." Another disagreed with the statement on Delaware county that extra hunting pressure resulted in a record take before the doe season opened. "Their own figures show that roughly one third of their bag was made in the last two days of the season," he pointed out. Ulster county hunters appear to be lining up solidly against a doe season for 1953. "Our annual take has shown a steady increase since 1949," Carleton F. King said, "and our hunters are satisfied with conditions as they exist. We have challenged State Conservation experts to point out any evidence of over-population or deer starvation on a field trip that will be coming up shortly." Meanwhile President Earl Conro has alerted the Federation for a ballot on the controversial doe season for the Feb. 12 meeting.

• Referees Like the "One and One":

Not all basketball officials and coaches see nothing but evil in the controversial "I and 1" foul rule. Lou Eisenstein, president of the officials' association, more or less supports the theories offered recently by Coach Ed Hickey of the St. Louis Billikens.

Officials like the rule because it "gives the kids a chance to rest during the game," Eisenstein insists. As for the rule calling for two free throws on all fouls committed during the last three minutes, he said, "we love it, because it takes the burden off us."

"Every foul is automatically two shots," he explained, "and we don't have to determine whether or not the foul was deliberate. It's very hard to determine whether a foul is deliberate, as you know."

• Of Men and Mice:

Bob Davies, Bobby Wanzer, Arnie Risen and the rest of the brilliant Rochester Royal crew of the NBA will be at IBM gym tonight. Frank Benedict, of the Newburgh News, was one fish and game expert not too impressed by the controversial doe season. He wrote: "There was an official take of 42,080 deer, bucks, does, fawns and button bucks during the 1952 big game seasons. This is almost double the normal yearly take of bucks. Therefore, the other half must have been antlerless. Some sections of New York state will not recover from the slaughter for many years to come." Thanks to President Roland Post and members of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club for the honorary membership we received at their splendid banquet last Saturday. Fred Stang, who has a joke index second only to Milton Berle, was a smash hit with a bevy of outdoor jokes. He deviated briefly to remark that his young daughter heard Arthur Godfrey use the "parrot joke" a few weeks ago. "Dad, he's stealing your jokes," said the young lady. When Fred tried a few of his outdoor jokes he planned to use at the banquet on his son, the reaction wasn't so flattering. As Fred tells it the young man, less than impressed, promptly quipped: "Just how corny can you get, dad!"

• Maybe This Guy Has Something:

Dr. Leonard Carmichael, the Tufts College president, doesn't think much of University of Chicago President Robert M. Hutchins' proposal that colleges sponsor racing stables instead of big-time football teams.

"Jockeys," Dr. Hutchins was quoted as saying, "could wear school colors and horses wouldn't have to pass entrance examinations."

"New England small colleges have a wholesome and well integrated sports program," wryly remarked the Tufts president. "I don't see how we can possibly fit horses into it right now."

Ah, these college cutups!

Broskie Smashes 632 In Central Rec Major

Veteran Harold Broskie unloaded a hefty string of 213-235-184 for a league-leading 632 three-timer in the Central Rec Major League firing Wednesday night at the Railroad avenue planks.

Four 600 blasts were leveled throughout the league with Dick Howard placing in the No. 2 slot with 244-203 for 626; Ed Murphy compiling 209-220-613; and Larry Weishaupt 220-202 for 612.

Near-misses in the top 500 bracket were George "Curly" Flemings with 214-205-598; Tom Carlino 214-596; Herm Seelbach 233-595 and Steve Fassbender 210-200-595.

Others of note were Frank Russano with 203-205-587; Larry Petersen, Jr., 200-586; Jim Moss 207-221-578; Lew Hymes 202-576; Frank "Boots" Leskie 202-571 and Tom Welch 203-570.

Canadiens Edge Nearer Detroit

(By The Associated Press)

Little by little the Montreal Canadiens have been edging up on the league leading Detroit Red Wings in the National Hockey League race and today only three points separated the two clubs.

The Canadiens won the only scheduled game in the loop last night, edging the Toronto Maple Leafs, 1-0. They now have 49 points to 52 for the defending champions.

The contest with the Leafs was decided in the first period when Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion beat goalie Harry Lumley. From that point on, Lumley turned aside every Canadien thrust, but was more than matched by Gerry McNeill, the winners' netminder who chalked up the shutout.

Boys Club Games

The schedule for Friday, Jan. 23, in the Boys Club Midget basketball games follows:

6:30—Cedar Aces vs. Globe Trotters.

7:15—Blue Jays vs. Ramblers.

San Jose State's basketball scoring record is held by Stu Inman, now coaching at Fresno's Roosevelt High. Inman tallied 521 points in 1949.

Hard-Luck Nagy Becomes Bowler-of-Year; He Didn't Get It As Consolation Prize

By HARRY GRAYSON
(NEA Sports Editor)

Steve J. Nagy has won more sweepstakes and major tournaments than you could shake a stick at, but until this year the big ones escaped him.

Big Steve, as his Hungarian neighbors in Cleveland call him, became known as the hard-luck guy.

Steve Nagy, 39, shook the tag last spring in Milwaukee, scattering 2063 pins blasting his way to the ABC tournament all-events championship. He teamed with Johnny Klares to establish an all-time doubles record of 1453, accounting for 689 of the production.

He wound up being elected Bowler of the Year.

Ace Since 1939

Nagy has been consistently among the top bowlers of the nation since 1939. He rolled the second highest three-game series in the United States, 831. He defeated Buzz Fazio in a gruelling 48-game match. He led National Individual Match Game competitors with a 210 average.

But Nagy has never been able to collar the ABC singles or National Individual match game title. Last year, for example, the Cleveland Cannoneer out-averaged Junie McMahon by 63 pins, yet lost the match championship on points. He lost out in 1948 the same way. This trip in Chicago he started off like a mechanical man, but when the chips were counted, Pete Carter, a 26-year old Detroit bowling instructor, had taken it all.

While the ABC singles has eluded him, the strapping Nagy has had his big innings in that one, too. His two-year average of 224 is an ABC record, his total of $1,965 in 1952 a new high in winnings.

Greats Move Over

Nagy finally has taken his place in the category with such all-time standouts as Ned Day, Joe Wilman, Andy Varipapa, Buddy Bomar and Joe Norris.

Probably no other bowler in history ever has been as well known and accepted by the public as Mr. Bowling like Day. All-time records to his credit would guarantee this alone, but the handsome veteran of West Allis, Wis., also has traveled throughout the world instructing, performed in 15 motion pictures and written four books on proper technique. He reigned as National Individual Match Game champion an unprecedented five times.

Day was chosen for the ABC Hall of Fame this year. Wilman was named last year. Whenever veteran bowling authorities begin listing all-time greats, one name certain to be included is that of Bomar. Norris for many years has been rated one of the finest competitors.

They now move over for Junie McMahon and Steve Nagy.

Gavilan Again Set For Title Defense

Washington, Jan. 22 (AP)—Kid Gavilan, with a couple of easy warm-up victories under his welterweight championship belt, is all set to defend his title again.

On Feb. 11, Gavilan meets Chuck Davey in Chicago in what should be a humdinger of a fight.

Last night Gavilan tuned up for his title defense with a lopsided non-title victory over Vic Cardell of Hartford, Conn. Gavilan weighed 152 to Cardell's 149.

It was an unusual fight. Gavilan won it from here to his home town in Havana, Cuba, yet it remained interesting until the final bell.

That's because Cardell, with more fighting heart than prudence, kept moving in even though he was getting himself thoroughly walloped by the champ.

No one at ringside credited Cardell with more than a round or two, and the officials didn't even give him that.

Judge Benny Alperstein had it 99 points for Gavilan, 74 for Cardell; Judge Julian Whitestone, Gavilan 99, Cardell 81, and Referee Harry Volkman gave Gavilan 100, Cardell 72.

Since 300 is the maximum score, this meant Gavilan came within a couple of points of perfection.

Col. Harvey L. Miller, executive secretary of the National Boxing Association, said he couldn't remember any fighter ever scoring higher than Gavilan's 298.

The fight was watched by a paid crowd of 5,625 and a nationwide television audience.

It was Gavilan's second fight within eight days. Last week he defeated Aman Peck in a 10-round bout in Tampa, Fla.

Hot Stove Sparks In Baseball

The Cardinals' Eddie Yuhas (12-2) who led National League pitchers in winning percentage in 1952 with .857, didn't lose a game after June 15. The 6 foot, 1 inch right-hander won his last ten decisions, the longest winning streak of the season by an NL moundsman.

Other leaders in various NL offensive departments during the recent campaign show Stan Musial tops in total bases (311) and slugging (.538); Ralph Kiner, number of times passed (110); Solly Hemus, most times hit by pitched balls (20); Bobby Adams, total times-at-bat (637); Bobby Thomson, triples (14); and Musial, doubles (42).

Hawks Taking Role As NBA Spoilers

(By The Associated Press)

Milwaukee's Hawks, winner of only 12 games all season, may not be going anywhere in the NBA race but they steadily are gaining recognition as the league's "spoilers."

The Hawks upset the New York Knickerbockers, 72-70, last night in the first game of a doubleheader at Boston. Last Sunday, Milwaukee turned the tables on Minneapolis, pace-setters in the Western Division, on the Lakers' home court.

In the second game at Boston, the Ceitics downed the Fort Wayne Pistons, 94-84. The Rochester Royals defeated the Baltimore Bullets, 89-32, in another league game.

A field goal by George Ratkovicz in the final seven seconds gave Milwaukee its victory. New York's Carl Braun had deadlocked the game at 70-70 with 25 seconds remaining. Then the Hawks froze the ball until Ratkovicz fired his game-winning basket.

Boston's big three of Bob Cousy, Easy Ed Macauley and Bill Sharman again sparked the Celtics. Cousy scored 29 points Macauley 22 and Sharman 19. The win put the Celtics in a tie with the Syracuse Nationals, Eastern Division leaders, in games won-and-lost although Boston still trails the Nats by 17 percentage points.

Spinning the Sports Wheel: (With apologies to Charles R. Douglas, the "CARD" of yesteryear, who now covers city hall for our favorite evening newspaper.

Kingston collegiate basketball fans will divide their allegiance between West Point field house and Albany Armory come Saturday. Fordham's powerful Maroons visit Army at 2:15 to battle Ed Weaver and Bill Hannon, with plenty of seats available.

The 8:30 p. m. Siena-Manhattan clash at Albany is almost a complete sellout. Both of these games are worth the distance you have to travel to see them.

• Flotsam and Jetsam:

Several prominent Federated Sportsmen of Ulster County took sharp objection to what they termed "propaganda" in the state deer take figures released yesterday by the State Conservation Department. One well known sportsman said that references to range over-population in some sections was "exaggerated." Another disagreed with the statement on Delaware county that extra hunting pressure resulted in a record take before the doe season opened. "Their own figures show that roughly one third of their bag was made in the last two days of the season," he pointed out. Ulster county hunters appear to be lining up solidly against a doe season for 1953. "Our annual take has shown a steady increase since 1949," Carleton F. King said, "and our hunters are satisfied with conditions as they exist. We have challenged State Conservation experts to point out any evidence of over-population or deer starvation on a field trip that will be coming up shortly." Meanwhile President Earl Conro has alerted the Federation for a ballot on the controversial doe season for the Feb. 12 meeting.

• Referees Like the "One and One":

Not all basketball officials and coaches see nothing but evil in the controversial "1 and 1" foul rule. Lou Eisenstein, president of the officials' association, more or less supports the theories offered recently by Coach Ed Hickey of the St. Louis Billikens.

Officials like the rule because it "gives the kids a chance to rest during the game," Eisenstein insists. As for the rule calling for two free throws on all fouls committed during the last three minutes, he said, "we love it, because it takes the burden off us."

"Every foul is automatically two shots," he explained, "and we don't have to determine whether or not the foul was deliberate. It's very hard to determine whether a foul is deliberate, as you know."

• Of Men and Mice:

Bob Davies, Bobby Wanzer, Arnie Risen and the rest of the brilliant Rochester Royal crew of the NBA will be at IBM gym tonight. Frank Benedict, of the Newburgh News, was one fish and game expert not too impressed by the controversial doe season. He wrote: "There was an official take of 42,080 deer, bucks, does, fawns and button bucks during the 1952 big game seasons. This is almost double the normal yearly take of bucks. Therefore, the other half must have been antlerless. Some sections of New York state will not recover from the slaughter for many years to come." Thanks to President Roland Post and members of the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club for the honorary membership we received at their splendid banquet last Saturday. Fred Stang, who has a joke index second only to Milton Berle, was a smash hit with a bevy of outdoor jokes. He deviated briefly to remark that his young daughter heard Arthur Godfrey use the "parrot joke" a few weeks ago. "Dad, he's stealing your jokes," said the young lady. When Fred tried a few of his outdoor jokes he planned to use at the banquet on his son, the reaction wasn't so flattering. As Fred tells it the young man, less than impressed, promptly quipped: "Just how corny can you get, dad!"

• Maybe This Guy Has Something:

Dr. Leonard Carmichael, the Tufts College president, doesn't think much of University of Chicago President Robert M. Hutchins' proposal that colleges sponsor racing stables instead of big-time football teams.

"Jockeys," Dr. Hutchins was quoted as saying, "could wear school colors and horses wouldn't have to pass entrance examinations."

"New England small colleges have a wholesome and well integrated sports program," wryly remarked the Tufts president. "I don't see how we can possibly fit horses into it right now."

Ah, these college cutups!

17 Patients Escape, 11 Are Recaptured At State Hospital

Kings Park, Jan. 22 (AP) — Seventeen male patients early today smashed their way out of Kings Park State Hospital, a mental institution, and 11 were reported recaptured within a few hours.

A police alarm described the 17 as "violent." A staff physician at the hospital, Dr. Murray Rossman, classed them as "mentally disturbed" but he declined to state in what degree.

The bolting patients wrecked all the furnishings of their second-floor ward, and one of them chased a doctor with a broken piece of a bed. He and the five attendants on duty in the ward escaped harm.

The patients, quartered in a room with barred windows, broke down a door leading to a corridor and ran out into a snow and sleet storm pelting the scrub oak and pine country.

Berardi Is Low

Whitbeck Is Secretary

The session was the board's annual organizational meeting and Commissioner Whitbeck was re-elected secretary. Edward W. Snyder was reappointed secretary to the board's president, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, and the board retained the same committees as last year.

The board voted to authorize Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly to collect bills for damage to several poles in the city.

No response for bills sent out had been received, it was reported. One, for $166.35 went to the Empire Milk Trucking Co., of Utica, for damage to a light pole last June 12 at Broadway and McEntee street.

Another for $92.30 went to Ina Plass, of Roosevelt avenue, for damage to a light pole last Sept. 15 at Broadway and Foxhall avenue, and the third $40.43, went to Peter B. Keller, 11 Brook street, for damage to traffic zone poles on Maiden Lane and Albany avenue last Oct. 8.

Recommendations Approved

Commissioner Whitbeck's recommendation to install a light on Gross street, one at Court and Merritt avenues, to replace one at Moore street and First avenue, change one on Lucas avenue, were approved. A tree problem prevented immediate action for one requested in front of 97 First avenue.

On recommendation of the city engineer, the board voted to pay Joseph Gruner, of Highland, $540 for work done on sanitary and storm water sewers on the city's Colonial Gardens project; $3,583.55 to the Kingston Blacktop Paving & Construction Co., for work on the Clinton avenue trunkline sewer between Cedar and Henry streets, and $6,712.41 to Gruner for work on the storm water sewer on Miller's Lane between Browning Terrace and Fairmont avenue.

One Porter Helps Another

Montreal (AP)—One railroadman came to the aid of another here recently. Roger Garneau, express porter with the Canadian National Railways, found a wallet containing $500 belonging to one Bryon Bascom. Garneau discovered that Bascom was also a porter with the same railroad and returned the wallet.

Apple Industry

Newly elected vice president, who succeeds Goodrich in that post, is Gerald Maier of Newburgh.

Daniel M. Dalrymple, secretary-treasurer, in his report this afternoon said that the "deep pessimism" of two years ago has been replaced by considerable optimism among the growers. Consumers have taken eastern apples at a higher price and almost as great a volume as they did a year ago, he reported, and processors have been able to hold and increase their volume at an increased price.

Quality Aids Sales

"These favorable situations did not happen entirely because of a short crop or favorable price level," Dalrymple said. Other factors which he said contributed to it were that the fruit offered for sale is of improved quality, and that "sound promotion" have helped market the crop in the face of increasing competition.

He also noted that OPS controls were eliminated from processed fruit and vegetables, and that the school lunch programs were utilized for general public benefit.

The society now has 886 annual members and 212 life members.

The Wednesday afternoon session at the armory was devoted to promotion and marketing problems.

Cites Food Revolution

Lloyd H. Davis of the Department of Agricultural Economics, Cornell University, told the growers that in recent years apple producers have had a grandstand seat from which to observe a "revolution in food distribution—the development of supermarket merchandising."

He said that the corner grocery had not disappeared and "probably never will, but in recent years the supermarket has come of age. Large self-service supermarkets are now of great importance in the food distribution industry."

Research by Cornell during 1951 and 1952 indicated that sales were greatly increased by packaging and that maximum sales resulted when six-pound bags were used, Davis said. The survey tested apple merchandising in self-service stores in Binghamton, Syracuse, Cortland, Ithaca, Corning and Elmira.

New York city, Davis said, has certain special characteristics in its consumer population and there has been considerable disagreement as to the most suitable merchandising techniques. Merchandising practices in most common use, he said, include bulk display, with some pre-packaged apples in packages of all types and sizes. This situation, he added, "has the earmarks of one requiring special research."

Holds Promise

A new method of merchandising was cited as "holding promise for strengthening the demand for New York state apples," Dr. B. A. Dominick, Jr., Cornell farm economist, said in another talk Wednesday afternoon.

He referred to the five and six-pound polyethylene bags, which he said were absent from the market two years ago. These bags, displayed with bulk fruit, "increased apple sales more than 50 per cent in many retail stores," Dr. Dominick said.

About 80 per cent of all sales in western New York at the present time are in polyethylene bags, he reported.

Turning to the general outlook for the present crop of fruit, the Cornell economist said that higher personal incomes should contribute to a strong demand.

He also mentioned a probable continuance of high production costs and wage rates, adequate supplies of spray materials and the likelihood of larger apple crops in the state and nation.

The topic of cooperative marketing was reviewed by several speakers. J. G. White of Riverton, N. J., told of the work and methods of the Jersey Fruit Cooperative, Inc., and David Ring of Salt Point announced the organization of the Dutchess Apple Cooperative, Inc., composed of a number of growers of that county.

Thanks Area Growers

Ben. W. Drew, president of the New York and New England Apple Institute, spoke briefly, thanking the Hudson Valley growers for their support. The Institute's executive vice president, John Chandler, urged all growers to participate in the two-cent per box advertising program, and L. W. Marvin, manager, outlined tentative plans for next season's advertising program.

Louis A. Webster, Massachusetts director of markets, told of the campaigns in the Boston area to promote sales of strawberries and rhubarb.

Truman Nold, secretary of the National Apple Institute, reported that a suggestion was made at that group's last board meeting for a national advertising campaign on apples. Plans will be submitted to regional groups at their summer meetings for action, he said.

D. H. Palmiter of the Poughkeepsie Laboratory said this morning that scab control with wettable sulphur was still possible but that when "we consider yield, fruit finish and the number of applications required perhaps a full season sulphur program is not as economical as it appears. "He said that a 10-year comparison of wettable sulphur and ferbam on McIntosh trees resulted in average annual yields of 315 and 465 boxes per acre respectively, which was an increase of 150 boxes per acre per year when ferbam was used.

These trees, he said, had received no nitrogen applications. "Sulphur sprayed trees that received nitrogen averaged about 85 boxes per acre more than those without nitrogen but this gain was misleading as there was more loss from scab, preharvest drop and poor color where nitrogen was used."

He said that these and other fungicides, including Crag 341, Phygon and Tag 331, were now in their fourth year of a new experiment to determine their effect on yield and quality.

Since 1942 when field tests indicated the value of ferbam fungicides for the control of apple and quince rust, Palmiter stated, this material has been commonly used in combination with wettable sulphur in the Hudson valley where both scab and rust diseases are troublesome. Ferbam has been used experimentally in several other fungicide combinations in an effort to find a combination that would give adequate scab and rust control when sprays were applied at weekly or 10-day periods instead of according to infection periods.

He said that the two most promising combinations had been ¾ Fermate and ¼ Phygon or ¾ Fermate and ¼ Tag. Fungicide 406 is the most promising material so far tested for use in the cover applications.

He stated that Golden Delicious trees sprayed with Orothocide 406 all season produced fruit 78 per cent free of russet, 17 per cent with slight russet and five per cent with sufficient russet to be reduced in grade.

A highlight of the meeting will be tonight's banquet at the Old Dutch Church at 7 o'clock. Harold Rogers of Southington, Conn., will be toastmaster. The Male Quartet of Catskill, headed by Robert Saxe of Palenville, a member of the society, will present a group of selections, and the awards to 4-H Club members for the best apple, cherry and fruit pies will be made by E. Stuart Hubbard, Jr., chairman of the banquet committee. The pies were being baked at the armory this morning, with judging expected to be completed late this afternoon.

Friday morning's program will include discussions on spray problems, with speakers including M. B. Hoffman, Robert Smock, Damon Boynton and A. B. Burrell, all of Cornell University. Dr. L. P. Batjer of Wenatchee, Wash., will give a report on methods of fruit growing in the Pacific Northwest at 11:20 a. m., after which the annual eastern meeting will close.

Says Accuracy Not Felt

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—A waterfront union official told the State Crime Commission today that he mingled funds of his local with his own personal money and that it never occurred to him that he had to be "exact to the penny." The witness was Patrick J. (Packey) Connolly, executive vice president of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association and president of Local 824. Connolly said under questioning by Theodore Kiendl, special counsel to the commission, that the local had no bank account up to 1951 and that its financial records were missing.

Skidding Blamed For Two Crashes

Two traffic mishaps in the city today were attributed to skidding.

Two persons were injured slightly when a car hit a pole at the Boulevard and Wall street, and the driver of a tractor trailer escaped unhurt when it jackknifed on the East Chester street by-pass.

A car owned by George Schleede, of High Falls, and driven by Youler G. Schleede. 19, of the same address, struck the Central Hudson pole along the Boulevard as it was headed east at 8:45 a. m.

Youler Schleede reported a cut between the upper lip and nose and Louise Williams, 19, of High Falls, reported a cut on the forehead. Officers Leonard Ellsworth and Francis Fagan reported the left front of the car damaged.

Trailer Off Road

Police were notified at 2:25 a. m., that a tractor-trailer was in trouble on the by-pass near Flatbush avenue and the driver was having difficulty placing flares because of the traffic.

Officers Charles Hoehing and Sheldon O'Rourke reported that the tractor was on the highway and the rear of the trailer was off the road. It was owned by the C. & P. Trucking Co., Morey, and was driven by Alfred Rathburn, 28, of Utica.

The driver, headed east, skidded after applying brakes about 150 feet from the traffic light. The vehicle went through a guard rail, knocked down five posts and broke about 50 feet of cable.

The officers reported the road slippery and the public works department sanded it. The tractor-trailer remained at the scene for some time and Officers Leonard Ellsworth and Francis Fagan relieved Hoehing and O'Rourke at 3:45 a. m.

Three Violations Charged

Chou charged that U. S. planes "violated our northeastern skies" three other times in the past two months "on Nov. 28, Dec. 8 and Dec. 13." It is an old propaganda charge. Allied pilots are under strict orders not to cross the Yalu river—not even if engaged in furious combat with Russian-built MIG-15s.

The air force said the B-29 in question "was on a regularly scheduled mission dropping psychological warfare news leaflets over North Korean cities" on the night of Jan. 12.

Followed by Radar

"The aircraft was plotted and followed throughout its flight by friendly radar stations," said the announcement. "When over a town approximately 12 to 15 miles south of the Yalu river, the B-29 "plot" merged (on the radar screens) with the plots of 12 hostile fighter aircraft.

"It disappeared from radar contact immediately with the fighter plots. The B-29 carried no high explosive bombs. A normal B-29 crew of 14 officers and airmen were aboard."

The announcement did not rule out the possibility the Superfort might have glided into Manchuria after it was hit.

The air force confirmed the names of three of the crewmen whom the Communists said were captured after the four-engined bomber was shot down.

They were Col. John Knox Arnold, Jr. (hometown not available immediately), Maj. William H. Baumer of Lewisburg, Pa., and Capt. Eugene John Vaadi of Clayton, N. Y.

Quill Accepts Plan

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—Michael J. Quill, president of the CIO Transport Workers Union (TWU), has accepted Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri's formula for arbitration in the 22-day-old bus strike. Snags over arbitration terms, however, today delayed settlement of the stoppage on lines which normally carry 2,300,000 fares a day. Quill, who accepted the mayor's proposal yesterday, blamed the eight struck private bus companies for prolonging of the strike. The companies placed the blame on city officials. Despite the holdup, hope continued in various quarters that there would be an early agreement to let a three-man arbitration panel decide on the issues.

17 Patients Escape, 11 Are Recaptured At State Hospital

Kings Park, Jan. 22 (AP) — Seventeen male patients early today smashed their way out of Kings Park State Hospital, a mental institution, and 11 were reported recaptured within a few hours.

A police alarm described the 17 as "violent." A staff physician at the hospital, Dr. Murray Rossman, classed them as "mentally disturbed" but he declined to state in what degree.

The bolting patients wrecked all the furnishings of their second-floor ward, and one of them chased a doctor with a broken piece of a bed. He and the five attendants on duty in the ward escaped harm.

The patients, quartered in a room with barred windows, broke down a door leading to a corridor and ran out into a snow and sleet storm pelting the scrub oak and pine country.

Berardi Is Low

Whitbeck Is Secretary

The session was the board's annual organizational meeting and Commissioner Whitbeck was re-elected secretary. Edward W. Snyder was reappointed secretary to the board's president, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, and the board retained the same committees as last year.

The board voted to authorize Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly to collect bills for damage to several poles in the city.

No response for bills sent out had been received, it was reported. One, for $166.35 went to the Empire Milk Trucking Co., of Utica, for damage to a light pole last June 12 at Broadway and McEntee street.

Another for $92.30 went to Ina Plass, of Roosevelt avenue, for damage to a light pole last Sept. 15 at Broadway and Foxhall avenue, and the third $40.43, went to Peter B. Keller, 11 Brook street, for damage to traffic zone poles on Maiden Lane and Albany avenue last Oct. 8.

Recommendations Approved

Commissioner Whitbeck's recommendation to install a light on Gross street, one at Court and Merritt avenues, to replace one at Moore street and First avenue, change one on Lucas avenue, were approved. A tree problem prevented immediate action for one requested in front of 97 First avenue.

On recommendation of the city engineer, the board voted to pay Joseph Gruner, of Highland, $540 for work done on sanitary and storm water sewers on the city's Colonial Gardens project; $3,583.55 to the Kingston Blacktop Paving & Construction Co., for work on the Clinton avenue trunkline sewer between Cedar and Henry streets, and $6,712.41 to Gruner for work on the storm water sewer on Miller's Lane between Browning Terrace and Fairmont avenue.

Apple Industry

Newly elected vice president, who succeeds Goodrich in that post, is Gerald Maier of Newburgh.

Daniel M. Dalrymple, secretary-treasurer, in his report this afternoon said that the "deep pessimism" of two years ago has been replaced by considerable optimism among the growers. Consumers have taken eastern apples at a higher price and almost as great a volume as they did a year ago, he reported, and processors have been able to hold and increase their volume at an increased price.

Quality Aids Sales

"These favorable situations did not happen entirely because of a short crop or favorable price level," Dalrymple said. Other factors which he said contributed to it were that the fruit offered for sale is of improved quality, and that "sound promotion" have helped market the crop in the face of increasing competition.

He also noted that OPS controls were eliminated from processed fruit and vegetables, and that the school lunch programs were utilized for general public benefit.

The society now has 886 annual members and 212 life members.

The Wednesday afternoon session at the armory was devoted to promotion and marketing problems.

Cites Food Revolution

Lloyd H. Davis of the Department of Agricultural Economics, Cornell University, told the growers that in recent years apple producers have had a grandstand seat from which to observe a "revolution in food distribution—the development of supermarket merchandising."

He said that the corner grocery had not disappeared and "probably never will, but in recent years the supermarket has come of age. Large self-service supermarkets are now of great importance in the food distribution industry."

Research by Cornell during 1951 and 1952 indicated that sales were greatly increased by packaging and that maximum sales resulted when six-pound bags were used, Davis said. The survey tested apple merchandising in self-service stores in Binghamton, Syracuse, Cortland, Ithaca, Corning and Elmira.

New York city, Davis said, has certain special characteristics in its consumer population and there has been considerable disagreement as to the most suitable merchandising techniques. Merchandising practices in most common use, he said, include bulk display, with some pre-packaged apples in packages of all types and sizes. This situation, he added, "has the earmarks of one requiring special research."

Holds Promise

A new method of merchandising was cited as "holding promise for strengthening the demand for New York state apples," Dr. B. A. Dominick, Jr., Cornell farm economist, said in another talk Wednesday afternoon.

He referred to the five and six-pound polyethylene bags, which he said were absent from the market two years ago. These bags, displayed with bulk fruit, "increased apple sales more than 50 per cent in many retail stores," Dr. Dominick said.

About 80 per cent of all sales in western New York at the present time are in polyethylene bags, he reported.

Turning to the general outlook for the present crop of fruit, the Cornell economist said that higher personal incomes should contribute to a strong demand.

He also mentioned a probable continuance of high production costs and wage rates, adequate supplies of spray materials and the likelihood of larger apple crops in the state and nation.

The topic of cooperative marketing was reviewed by several speakers. J. G. White of Riverton, N. J., told of the work and methods of the Jersey Fruit Cooperative, Inc., and David Ring of Salt Point announced the organization of the Dutchess Apple Cooperative, Inc., composed of a number of growers of that county.

Thanks Area Growers

Ben. W. Drew, president of the New York and New England Apple Institute, spoke briefly, thanking the Hudson Valley growers for their support. The Institute's executive vice president, John Chandler, urged all growers to participate in the two-cent per box advertising program, and L. W. Marvin, manager, outlined tentative plans for next season's advertising program.

Louis A. Webster, Massachusetts director of markets, told of the campaigns in the Boston area to promote sales of strawberries and rhubarb.

Truman Nold, secretary of the National Apple Institute, reported that a suggestion was made at that group's last board meeting for a national advertising campaign on apples. Plans will be submitted to regional groups at their summer meetings for action, he said.

D. H. Palmiter of the Poughkeepsie Laboratory said this morning that scab control with wettable sulphur was still possible but that when "we consider yield, fruit finish and the number of applications required perhaps a full season sulphur program is not as economical as it appears. Nine Escape Attempts

Bonn, Germany, Jan. 22 (AP)—Nine Communist members of the West German Parliament temporarily escaped today attempts to bring them to trial on charges of slander and incitement to treason and overthrow of the government. But they were assailed by some non-Communist legislators as kidnapers who are only living on borrowed time "from the executioners of your own party."

Realtors Are Told Age of Prosperity Coming in Decade

Dr. Ronald D. Davenport, deputy commissioner of the State Department of Commerce, and William A. Wells, president of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards, were the speakers at the annual dinner of the Ulster County Real Estate Board at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Wednesday evening.

Dr. Davenport, principal speaker, told the group that the aims of the Department of Commerce and the state Association of Real Estate Boards coincide "in that each is striving for the advancement and betterment of the community and the state."

Thruway One Help

He stressed that Ulster county should benefit from the completion of the Thruway, the Kingston-Rhinecliff bridge project, and the deepening of the channel of the Hudson river. Predicting a "golden age of prosperity" for Ulster county within the next 10 years, Dr. Davenport warned that to make it possible all citizens must become "boosters of the area."

President Wells, who was guest of honor, reviewed the legislative functions of the New York State Association of Real Estate Boards. He also stressed the responsibility of local realtors in an "intelligent and efficient expansion and development program for the community."

Urging the realtors to live up to the "great trust placed in the individual realtor by both the buyers and sellers of real estate," he stressed the strict code of ethics to which all realtors must adhere.

Would Educate Public

Wells advocated an educational program to acquaint the public with the fact that all real estate brokers are not entitled to use the designation, "realtor." That term, he said, is reserved for members of the Ulster County Real Estate Board and other affiliated boards in the state.

George W. Moore, toastmaster, introduced the new officers of the local board. They are: Lawrence J. MacAvery, re-elected as president; Frederick Dircks, vice-president; Benson Krom, secretary; A. J. Burns, treasurer, and Harold E. Macholdt, state director.

Members Introduced

President MacAvery introduced several new members, including officers of local lending institutions.

John C. Fisher of Albany, executive vice president of the state association, was presented and in a brief response he predicted that 1953 will be a "banner year" in the sale and development of real property in the county and state.

Nearly 50 members and guests of the local board attended the annual dinner.

GOP Is Outnumbered

New York, Jan. 22 (AP)—New York city's enrolled Democrats outnumber Republicans by more than two to one, figures released today by the board of elections revealed. The board's official figures on party enrollment showed a total of 2,132,181 Democrats to 962,599 Republicans. Women Republicans outnumbered the men by 509,955 to 452,655. But there were 1,075,306 men Democrats to 1,056,975 women.

Exempt Fireman Is Suing Company For Crash Damage

One of its former truck drivers is suing the Glasco Volunteer Fire Department for personal injuries and damage to his car allegedly caused at the Malden bridge early on the morning of January 15, 1950.

James V. Francello, an exempt firemen, is also suing the driver, Michael Bonavita and the board of trustees of the Glasco fire district, Michael Bonavita, Michael Galietta, Louis Barone, Philip Gatti, Salvatore Davi and Fred Mayone.

Francello contends that damage to his car was caused by negligence of the firetruck operator while answering an alarm and that the injuries he suffered kept him out of work for six weeks.

Lists Injuries

Francello claims he was thrown from his car by the impact of the collision, receiving a cut on the chin, a cut over the eye, injuries to his leg and ankle.

In his suit before Supreme Court Justice Kenneth MacAffer and a jury, Francello brought out that he was in Saugerties when the truck came along and that he followed it in his car. Near the Malden bridge on Route 9W, the truck stopped for directions to the fire, he said.

Knew Where Fire Was

Francello said he knew the fire was at a friends house in Malden and continued past the truck. As he drove his car onto the bridge it skidded on ice, according to testimony, and spun around, headed towards Saugerties.

The truck, Francello claims, started north and struck his car, and he contends the operator, Bonavita, was negligent and the fire equipment not maintained in proper condition.

Francello said he was thrown from his car when the vehicles collided almost head-on.

Attorney Joseph M. Campbell of Saugerties represents Francello.

Spectator, Says Company

The fire company, Bonavita and fire commissioners contend through their attorney, Andrew J. Cook, Jr., of Cook and Cook, that Francello was not engaged in any act as a fireman and was proceeding to the fire solely as a spectator, and maintain that the accident on the bridge was in no way due to the action of the driver of the firetruck.

The defendants also contend that the collision was due to the ice on the bridge, which had originally caused the Francello car to skid.

Francello testified the bridge was partially blocked by his car, after it had skidded, but that there was room for passing vehicles.

Privileges Are Restored

Poughkeepsie, Jan. 22 (AP)—Staff privileges at St. Francis Hospital, a Roman Catholic institution, have been restored to at least four of the seven physicians the hospital last year told to resign from the staff or sever their connections with the Dutchess County League for Planned Parenthood. Hospital officials declined to make any statement, but the four physicians who were reached said they had received notification of their reappointment to the staff.

Papers Are Suspended

Cairo, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Egyptian government suspended two more newspapers today — Al Manara and Al Wataniah. The government announcement gave no reason for the action.

Missing Boy Reported Seen Near Spillway

Victor Brisbois, 15, of 189½ Elmendorf street, who was reported missing from his home since Tuesday morning, was reported seen in the city yesterday and along the Spillway road, where the family once lived.

Local police were notified at 4:30 p. m. yesterday that the boy had been seen on Main street, near Wall carrying a fish pole and a blanket. The family also received reports that he had been seen in the Spillway road area yesterday.

V. C. Brisbois, the boy's father, went to the Spillway road neighborhood today to attempt locating him, it was reported this morning.
